Residents Removed, Firemen Hospitalized

County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom said today an 18-inch section of the natural gas line supplying the swimming pool heater had been removed. The piece was missing, allowing gas to escape in the air.

Because of that, he said, firemen were forced to let the building burn "or we would have had a greater danger of gas escaping into the area."

USED AS WAR GAS

The heat burst the tank which holds a supply of chlorine used to chlorinate the swimming pool water. The chlorine gas—the same type that was used with deadly effect in World War I—seeped downhill, clinging to the grounds because it is heavier than air.

Firemen had entered the area wearing gas masks. But the masks proved ineffective. The explosion blew one fireman's mask off and seeped under the masks of others.

In Marin General Hospital today, all reported in good condition, were firemen Howard M. Lee, 30, and John W. Costa, 40, of Olema; Robert P. Taverna, 26, of Petaluma, and James B. Selfridge, 19, of Walnut Avenue, Ross.

SCOUTS REMOVED

Forty Boy Scouts at Camp Lilienthal, a San Francisco scout camp near the club, were evacuated from the camp to escape the gas.

Thirty-nine other persons in 15 families living in the area were routed from their homes by sheriff's officers.

Red Cross and civil defense officials set up temporary quarters for the evacuees in the Fairfax Pavilion. They remained there until about 8 a.m., when firemen declared the area safe for their return.

The blaze, reported at 1:19 a.m., did damage estimated by Bloom at $5,000 to the building containing heaters and filter

Pool Owner Rescues Drowning Skunk—It Isn't Very Grateful

Carlos E. Gonzalez of 72 Manderly Road in the Loch Lomond area of San Rafael saw what he first thought was his black cat caught in the skimmer of his swimming pool yesterday.

He hurried to the side of the pool to pull the cat out but fortunately took enough time to see the white stripe on the animal's back.

He called the Marin County Humane Society. The answering service told him to call the sheriff's office. The sheriff's office said because he lived in San Rafael, it had no jurisdiction over the case, but called the police department.

Officer Gerald R. Souza went out to the home to help Gonzalez cope with the situation.

The County Fire Department said it would pick up the animal and take it to the Humane Society only if the skunk was dead.

Gonzalez used a long pole to get the skunk out of the pool onto dry ground. In apparent gratitude, the skunk gave the rescuer the only gift he had to give, a smelly calling card.

Even after this treatment, Gonzalez was reluctant to kill the animal, but over the protest of his wife, he did the job with a .22-caliber rifle. The fire department took the animal away.

Barry Retorts To Attack By English Cleric

When informed of statements made at St. Paul's Cathedral in London by Canon John Collins, Goldwater said, "What the English do is up to them. They've tried on occasion to tell us how to run our government. We resist their interference.

"He (Canon Collins) can't vote in this country, so I think I'm safe."

Collins, a politically active Anglican canon, called on the Pope, the Archbishop of Canterbury and other church leaders to condemn Goldwater policies. He called the Arizona senator's policies "utterly repugnant to Christian consciences," and said his nomination was part of a "growing resurgence of the fascist mentality" in many parts of the world.

Goldwater was to land first at Chicago where, press aides said, a reception was planned.

The senator said he hoped to return to Arizona in August,

JURY DELIBERATING IN MURDER CASE

Judge Says Verdict Must Be Either First Degree Murder Or Innocent

The jury in the Donald G. Corbett Jr. murder trial in Marin Superior Court began deliberation at 10:30 a.m. today.

Charged with first degree murder in the icepick slaying of Corbett are Robert Lee Jones and John Lee King.

In 30 minutes of crisp final instructions Judge Joseph G. Wilson informed the jury it could return only a verdict of innocent or guilty of first degree murder for each defendant, with no second degree murder conviction to be considered.

Judge Wilson also emphasized that if the slaying occurred during commission of either felony robbery or burglary by both defendants, then they are equally guilty of murder regardless of who actually wielded the death weapon.

Jones and King are accused of the March 27 slaying of Corbett, 30-year-old dairy executive, in his Sausalito apartment. In addition, they are jointly charged with the March 25 armed robbery of Harbor Liquor Store in Alto.

Judge Wilson declared a hold-up with a dangerous weapon by either or both of the defendants would constitute first degree robbery. He charged the jury that if it found that King wielded an automatic pistol, as alleged, that weapon is considered a dangerous one.

He added that defendants have a constitutional right not to testify in their own behalf, and failure to take the witness stand—as was the case of both in this trial—can lend to weight to the prosecution's case.

Too, Judge Wilson instructed the jury that the alleged flight of Jones and King from Marin County after March 27 does not necessarily imply guilt. Its significance, if any, is for the jury to determine.

In closing the instructions, the judge said testimony of an al-

Official Seeks New Clues In Body Mystery

Mystery still surrounds the death of Mrs. Barbara Finkel, whose bejeweled and expensively dressed body was found in the ocean off Point Reyes July 4, Marin County Coroner Frank J. Keaton said today.

Keaton said he and Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos would leave the case open until the woman's husband, Dr. Gerald Finkel of Los Angeles, is found "dead or alive."

The coroner said the body was unusually well preserved considering the distance it reportedly traveled in the water.

The couple were reported missing June 27 when an outboard skiff Dr. Finkel had rented at Noyo Harbor was found capsized some 400 yards offshore near there.

Mrs. Finkel's body was found a week later, some 140 miles south of where the boat was discovered. Keaton said ordinarily the current would travel five to 10 miles per day, "which means her body could have traveled at the maximum only 70 miles in seven days."

"The woman's clothes were not disarranged nor did the body show any signs of violence," said Keaton. "No sea life attacked it, this is kind of unusual."

"We don't feel there is any foul play as yet," said Keaton, "but there are too many questions left unanswered."

SAFETY FIRST — Sheriff's Deputy John K. Campion, stationed at Point Reyes Station, models protective helmets all patrolling deputies began wearing today. Deputies followed the leads of Novato, Sausalito and Corte Madera police, who also have taken to wearing the helmets as protection against vehicle accidents and recalcitrant citizens. Runaways Sail Away—Briefly

Two juvenile hall runaways were recaptured today after giving up an unloaded shotgun and a 29-foot boat they had taken from San Rafael.

They were captured on the high seas, when Coast Guardsmen towed the stranded boat they were on from a sand bar near Angel Island.

The youths, aged 15 and 16, took the boat Tom Cod II from berth 15 of the San Rafael Yacht Harbor yesterday evening, juvenile hall officers reported.

The double-ender boat belonged to James M. De Montanya, 29 Las Robles Drive, San Rafael.

San Rafael police reported the boat was locked, but that keys were hidden on it. The older youth took with him a shotgun taken from his home, juvenile authorities said. He did not have ammunition with him.

Both boys had been on the latest of a series of weekend leaves from juvenile hall, where they had been placed as chronic runaways and incorrigible. This was the fourth time the younger boy has been committed to the hall, the second time for the older boy, county authorities reported.

The boys maneuvered the boat out of the San Rafael harbor and south to the Tiburon area, where they dropped anchor for the night, they said today.

But the anchor dragged, and the boat drifted onto a sand bar. A telephone call from the Corinthian Yacht Club in Tiburon reported it to the Coast Guard at 9:23 a.m. today.

A Coast Guard boat from Sausalito towed the Tom Cod II off the stand bar and to Sausalito, where sheriff's deputies were awaiting the boys to return them again to juvenile hall.

Marin Boy, 15, Believed Drowned In Lake Tahoe

He was identified as Louey Jursch, 15. No record of a family of that name could be found in Sausalito.

The four have been missing since Saturday afternoon and are feared to have drowned in a boating accident, the Associated Press reported from Al Tahoe.

Besides the Jursch youth, they are Merle Simpson, 24; Mike Palmer, 16, and Tricky Brown, 17, all of Tahoe Valley.

They left Saturday on a trip around the lake in Simpson's boat and failed to return.

Six life preservers and a gas tank were found Sunday in the vicinity of Emerald Bay. The equipment was identified as part of the accessories on Simpson's boat.

Two fishermen reported late yesterday they thought they saw a body about 10 feet beneath the water in the area of Elk Point on the east shore of the lake.

Three Coast Guard boats, various planes and 30 to 35 boats from the South Tahoe Boat Club participated in the search yesterday.

San Quentin Inmate Stabbed, Won't Talk

A 35-year-old inmate, serving a life sentence for kidnaping and robbery, was stabbed in the chest yesterday afternoon in the east cell block of San Quentin Prison.

Anthony Zurica of New York, stabbed at 3:30 p.m., refused to name his attacker or the weapon, which was apparently a homemade knife, said Associate Warden Dale B. Frady.

He was reported in good condition today at the prison hospital.

Air Base Aiding In Search For Missing Boy, 10

Hamilton Air Force Base rescue units, with bloodhounds from Roseville, were in Yosemite today in the search for a 10-year-old Los Angeles boy, missing since Saturday from Harden Lake campground.

The boy is John Ireland, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ireland of Los Angeles.

He was the second boy reported missing in Yosemite over the weekend.

On Friday night, Michael McLean and his bloodhounds from San Rafael helped in the successful search for a 3-year-old child. McLean said the tot was found fast asleep among some rocks. McLean had just returned to Marin from this search when the call came for help on the 10-year-old boy.

McLean was too tired and sleepy to go on the second search. Hamilton rescue units called on a Roseville man to provide bloodhounds for the second search.

Girl's Foot Badly Cut By Bottle In Creek

An 8-year-old Corte Madera girl was rushed to Marin General Hospital yesterday afternoon after she cut five tendons in her right foot while playing in Lagunitas Creek in the Phoenix Lake picnic area.

Denise Dami, daughter of Mr. and Mrs Julio Dami of 335 Golden Hinde Passage, was cut through her rubber thong sandal, her father said, the glass from a broken soft drink bottle coming two inches through the sandal.

Denise was returned home this morning, a cast on her foot.

"People should be fined for throwing things such as bottles or cans into creeks," Dami said today. "They are endangering all of our kids — not just mine."

Dami said he and his wife, his daughter, a son, Raymond, 3, and a nephew, Johnny Ratto, 9, also of Corte Madera, were having a picnic along the creek when the accident happened about 2 p.m.

Election Thunder Sounding

The chief executive never mentioned his Republican opponent, Sen. Barry Goldwater, by name, but he left no doubt to whom he referred, taking broad swipes at the Arizonan's positions on a number of issues.

The chief executive challenged Goldwater's GOP convention statement approving extremism in the defense of liberty and opposing moderation in the pursuit of justice.

"I am not one who believes the end justifies the means," Johnson said.

He promised federal help to local authorities unable to maintain order, and he showed concern over what he seemed to feel was organized violence by small groups working undercover such as the Ku Klux Klan. He also cautioned civil rights militants against stepping outside the law.

Johnson opened an eloquent plea for human rights by saying he wanted to discuss "the entire subject of effective political action to secure human rights."

He said the Constitution provided such seekers with "a hallowed and effective path. That is the path of peaceful petition and legal recourse, of free speech and free elections." The president said that if this tradition were destroyed "then the liberties of all of us are in danger."

Police Still Patrol Harlem Riot Streets

NEW YORK (AP)—Missiles rained from roofs, crowds knocked down barricades, fists and knives flashed in the steady heat, and police guns barked. Harlem was rioting.

While temperatures soared Saturday and last night in the packed Negro ghetto, police and Negroes locked in surging fights in which one Negro was shot to death. More than 100 persons were injured, including two dozen patrolmen.

Plate glass windows fell in slithers and more than a score of stores were looted. One supermarket lost $2,000 in cash, 200 cartons of cigarettes and 50 cases of beer. Every rifle in one pawnshop disappeared and police took rifles from others.

Included in the loot were cameras, clothing, jewelry and watches.

There were more than 100 arrests.

Tensions had lessened a great deal by today, police said, but they continued their patrol, still wearing steel helmets.

Meanwhile, in the Brownsville slum area of Brooklyn, six persons were shot and a youth was hit by acid as long-standing enmity between Negroes and Puerto Ricans in the area boiled over Saturday night.

Last night in Harlem five civilians were treated at hospitals for gunshot wounds. Twelve patrolmen were injured by flying objects.

Also injured were a white television cameraman and several other newsmen.

A score of persons were arrested.

The new flareup followed funeral services last night for 15-year-old James Powell, slain last Thursday by police Lt. Thomas Gilligan, who said he fired when the boy came at him with a knife.

Dixie Path Clear For Barry After Wallace Withdrawal

By JACK BELL

When Wallace announced yesterday he was giving up the effort to get his name on presidential ballots in 16 or more states, he removed a serious obstacle to Goldwater's chances of carrying several Southern states in the November battle with Johnson. Wallace appeared on CBS' "Face the Nation."

The action offered the Republican presidential nominee some possible rewards in Dixie, if he maintains his conservative course, that would have to be weighed against what he might gain elsewhere if he yielded to intra-party pressure to swing toward the middle of the road.

Rep. William E. Miller of New York, the vice presidential nominee, indicated he would like to see some overtures to the party's moderates and liberals in the northern industrial states that would bring them around to active support of the national ticket.

But Miller said in response to questions on NBC's "Meet the Press" that failure to get the backing of such men as Sens. Jacob K. Javits and Kenneth B. Keating of New York, Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania and Clifford P. Case of New Jersey "won't be fatal."

Goldwater said in Phoenix, Ariz., he thinks he will do well in New York and Pennsylvania in November.

Miller said he favors a summit meeting of Republican leaders of all shades of opinion to canvass the prospects for the campaign and to give their advice on strategy.

Goldwater, who returns to Washington today after a weekend in Phoenix, said during the California primary campaign in June he intended to call such a session. He has not mentioned it since his nomination.

The Arizona senator said "conferences that I will have nothing to do with" will go on during the next two weeks to "plan the type of campaign we will conduct."

Asked who would attend, he replied: "The academic types, the engineer types and the political types."

Goldwater said that former President Dwight D. Eisenhower had promised to campaign for him and would tell him soon how many speaking appearances "he could stand." He said he hopes Eisenhower will be able to campaign with "a half dozen to a dozen speeches."

Goldwater expressed surprise at Wallace's decision to quit his independent presidential movement but did not comment further. In Austin, Tex., White House press secretary George Reedy, said: "Governor Wallace is entitled to any decision he wishes to make."

Wallace said he hadn't made up his mind whom he would support until after he sees the Democratic platform to be drafted at Atlantic City, N.J., next month.

Asked if he and Goldwater would welcome Wallace's support, the vice presidential nominee replied, "I don't think so, he's a Democrat." He said he welcomes the support of anyone who accepts the GOP platform but added he understands Wallace was dissatisfied with its civil rights plank.

He said it was difficult to assess the impact of Wallace's withdrawal, since the governor would have taken votes from Johnson in some states and from Goldwater in others.

In Augusta, Ga., Roy V. Harris, former state legislator and a campaign worker for Wallace, said he will organize a "Democrats for Goldwater" movement in the state.

The Wallace electors in Alabama are pledged not to vote for a Republican but on the other hand are not pledged to vote for a Democrat.

Miller was asked to explain what Goldwater meant when he said in his acceptance address that extremism in defense of liberty is no vice and that moderation in pursuit of justice is no virtue.

The vice presidential nominee replied that Goldwater was talking about "wholehearted devotion to the cause of freedom." The presidential nominee, Miller said, meant that he was opposed to "half-hearted" support of justice.

Miller said that was his understanding of the explanation Goldwater gave to Eisenhower in a conference here before both departed.

In an ABC program taped Friday before this conference, Eisenhower said Goldwater's statement "would seem to say that the end always justifies the means." He added that "the whole American system refutes that idea and that concept."

Miller indicated he thought Eisenhower regarded Goldwater's subsequent explanation as satisfactory.

Goldwater was asked to clarify the acceptance address statement that "history demonstrates that nothing prepares the way for tyranny more than the failure of public officials to keep the streets safe from bullies or marauders."

"I intend," he replied, "to set an example at the federal level. The president has no responsibility at the local level but he can set an example. We can see that the federal judges are of the highest quality. If they don't follow the law, there is always removal for cause."

New Summertime Interviews Set

This week, Chuck Pendleton and Hugh Turner of KTIM start "dating the ladies" at the Wednesday Northgate luncheons in the Marin Art and Garden Center—with interviews during dessert and just before the style show. These happy summertime events have been going on for years—and finally someone asked: Why not broadcast them? Chuck and Hugh will tape interviews for later release at 6 o'clock Wednesday evenings (Chuck's turn this week). All six luncheons will be sponsored by Ross Valley Savings and Loan Assn....

OUR LEADER (Hugh) is away on vacation this week. He and Nita and daughter Irene are at Buck's Lake in Plumas County where they have a summer cabin. Hugh's an avid fisherman—Irene, too. Nita rests and dreams up program titles. (I understand they can't hear KTIM up there, but who can be sure?)... Speaking of Buck's Lake, half of the Novato Volunteer Fire Department is there at Lake Shore Resort. I don't know if there's a connection or not...:

BILL THOMPSON'S on vacation next week—and who do you think is going to work during his two weeks absence? He wears a beard—he is a Shakespearian actor—he lives on a houseboat at McCarthy's Harbor... You're right—it is KARL BARRON! When Karl retired from KTIM two months ago, no one thought he would ever come back. Just goes to show—you may take a broadcaster out of radio—but don't expect him to stand PAT away from a MIKE!

Serious Crime Up, In U.S., FBI Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than 2.5 million serious crimes —four a minute—were reported in 1963 as the national crime rate continued a relentless climb, the Federal Bureau of Investigation reported today.

The 10 per cent increase and a high percentage of criminal repeaters prompted Director J. Edgar Hoover to renew his call against what he called excessive leniency which tends to "ignore the victim and obscure the right of a free society to equal protection under the law."

Crime has increased five times faster than the national population since 1958, the FBI said in its annual report. Hoover said the cost of crime now is conservatively estimated at 27 billion dollars annually.

In 1963, there was a murder every hour, a forcable rape every 32 minutes and an assault every four minutes.

Crimes against property were primarily responsible for the crime rate increase, jumping by 11 per cent.

Murders and rapes mounted by 1 per cent, assaults 6, larceny 13, auto theft 11, burglary 9 and robbery 5.

The FBI statistics showed that:

The crimes increase was sharpest in the Northeastern states—13 per cent—and lowest in the North-Central states at 6 per cent.

The value of stolen property in 1963 exceeded 785 million dollars. Police recoveries cut the property loss to 46 cents per dollar.

The year brought 8,500 murders, 91 per cent solved by arrests.

Playing On Tractor Results In Boy's Death

REDWOOD VALLEY (UPI) — Daniel Roach, 12, of Redwood Valley, was killed yesterday when a tractor he and a friend were "playing on" backed underneath a railroad loading platform near this Mendocino County community.

His companion, Rodger Lorri, 12, Redwood Valley, was injured but was reported in satisfactory condition.

Forty per cent of the nation's population will be under 20 years of age next year.

Captain Says U.S. Grain For Russ Going To Cuba

PORT SAID, U.A.R. (AP) — The captain of a U.S. freighter which took American grain to the Soviet Union says armed Soviet sailors commandeered his ship in international waters and held it for five hours.

"I was ordered off my own bridge at gunpoint," Capt. Arthur H. Fertig said yesterday.

He said the Russians fired warning cannon volleys over his ship, boarded it, confined the crew to quarters and conducted a search.

The incident occurred last Wednesday outside the Black Sea port of Novorossisk after Fertig refused to pay what he considered an excessive charge for unloading the cargo.

His ship, the tanker Sister Katingo, had unloaded 32,000 tons of American grain. Fertig said the payment procedure had been guaranteed by a U. S.-Soviet agreement.

The seizure followed 20 tense days which came to a head when Fertig chose to pay stevedores $3 an hour per man for unloading the cargo. The Russians demanded 50 cent a ton.

Ferttig, 44, of Wading River, N. Y., said his ship was halted by Soviet patrol boats outside the harbor and ordered to return to port, but he refused.

The Russians searched the ship thoroughly, then let her leave after Fertig signed a longhand statement in Russian which was not translated to him.

Fertig, 44, of Wading River, iel Jamieson both said they saw the American wheat they delivered being loaded on a Soviet ship for transport to Cuba.

"We learned from Soviet sailors that the grain was going to Cuba," Jamieson said.

In Washington, the United States announced Friday night it had made an oral protest to the Soviet Union for what it called excessive behavior.

But U. S. authorities conceded that "under international law Soviet authorities may hav been within strictly legal rights in the particular circumstances."

School Bond Issue On Fairfax Agenda

The Fairfax School District board will meet at 7:45 p.m. tomorrow in Central School to discuss the date and amount of a bond issue for which it plans to ask the voters' approval.

Japan Camp Guard's Bullet Kills Woman

TOKYO (AP) — American and Japanese officials are investigating a shooting which the Americans hope won't mushroom into another Girard case.

The U.S. Marines said Pfc. Manuel A. Covarrubias of Wapato, Wash., killed a 45-year-old Japanese woman, Yuki Katsumata, with a shotgun blast at Camp Fuji north of Tokyo yesterday. The Marine was on sentry duty.

The Marine press office said Covarrubias saw the woman coming out of a tent before dawn in the middle of the camp. It said he challenged her three times in English and again in Japanese, then fired when she did not halt.

Accounts in the Japanese press questioned whether it had been necessary to shoot the woman. American Minister John K. Emmerson called on Vice Foreign Minister Takio Oda to express regret.

The incident recalled the 1957 case of U.S. Army Specialist William F. Girard which set off a furor in Japan and in Congress. A group of Japanese scrap collectors had trespassed onto a U.S. firing range. Girard inserted an empty cartridge backwards in the muzzle of his rifle, pulled the trigger and killed a Japanese woman.

Neighbors Protest, But Lot Splits Get Approval

Three parcel splits creating undersized lots were approved by the Marin County Planning Commission today on the ground they would not increase population density.

The overall parcels met requirements, but they were divided unevenly, making one lot in each case undersized

The Bret Harte Heights Assn. said in a letter it was concerned about allowing one of the lots to be 16,080 square feet instead of the required 20,000 square feet, and about the sewage problem involved.

Commissioners approved the undersized lot on the condition that the sewage system meets approval.

The commission approved division of a parcel at Melrose Avenue and La Verne Avenue, Homestead Valley, over objections of the Homestead Valley Improvement Club.

Donald Harris, representing the club, said the division would create a 5,500 square foot lot, as compared to the required minimum of 7,500 square feet.

Another parcel split at 803 Spring Drive, Tamalpais Valley, also was approved by the commissioners. It will allow Juan Jordan to split 12,102 square feet into two lots one of them below the minimum required 6,000 square feet.

Pay TV Debut Audience Is Rather Light

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Subscription Television, Inc., says about one-third of an estimated 2,500 homes connected to its pay-TV system watched the California debut.

Of those, about 61 per cent dialed the Los Angeles baseball game between the Dodgers and the Chicago Cubs. Fee: $1.50, the same as a bleacher seat at Dodger Stadium.

Twenty-three per cent chose a filmed, three-act play, "Sponomo" (1.50). Sixteen per cent watched a 90-minute color film on surfing ($1).

Was it a success? Opinions of viewers varied. At any rate, pay television is forging on:

Yesterday evening's attractions ranged from one featuring the Dodger shortstop—"Gospel Jazz with Maury Wills and the Los Angeles Community

And tonight there was more culture on the cable: the Concertgebouw Orchestra of Amsterdam, 112 symphony musicians on film, "signed to an exclusive contract by Supscription Television," the company announced.

The company says about 2,000 additional subscribers in an initial, four-square-mile area are waiting for the telephone company to hook up their houses to Subscription co-axial cable.

He chatted with newsmen about the good trout fishing in Arizona and suggested the next time out reporters take a little time off to see if they could hook some trout.

Meanwhile, Goldwater, counting on an active campaign boost from former President Eisenhower, is setting his political counselors to work on battle plans for the race against President Johnson.

Youngsters Riot In Grocery Store

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A band of 20 youths rampaged through a Hunters Point grocery store late yesterday, knocking over shelves and injuring three clerks.

They punched the clerk, Everett Louie, 47, in the nose and also assailed Kim Wong, 63, and Jenny Limm, 56, co-owners of the store.

The teen-agers overturned scales and shouted foul language as they raced through the store, Mrs. Lilliam Wong, 53, reported.

Outside, the youths raced to a hillside across the street and began tossing rocks that smashed a glass door and dented cars in front of the grocery.

They had fled by the time police arrived.

Nevada Motorist Hurt In Collision On 101

A Las Vegas, Nev., man suffered bruises of the forehead when his car crashed into the rear of another on Highway 101 two miles north of Novato at 8:40 a.m. Saturday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The patrol said Homer Ray Rush, 40, was driving a car which struck that of Frank A. Flores, 39, of Hayward. Rush said he would seek private care for his injury.

Boy Injures Knee In Car-Bicycle Accident

An 8-year-old boy was treated for a cut knee at Marin General Hospital Saturday after he rode his bicycle into the side of an automobile on Deer Hollow Road, Sleepy Hollow, at 6:20 p.m.

tanks for the swimming pool, and $12,000 to the equipment.

Three women among the evacuees were taken to Marin General Hospital for examination in fear they may have been injured by the chlorine gas, but were found unharmed.

Two Fairfax restaurants opened their doors to provide coffee and early breakfasts for the evacuees. Two Marin County Humane Society trucks picked up family pets abandoned by the evacuees as they were rushed from their homes.

Chief Bloom said the missing section of natural gas line included the cutoff valve. It had been removed from the line about six inches from the pool heater, he said. There was no rust, indicating the removal was recent.

The manager of the Meadow Club could give no explanation of why the piece was missing, the fire chief said.

Lack of wind played a dual role at the fire. Because there was no wind, the blaze was held to about a quarter acre of grass surrounding the swimming pool. Had there been a wind, said Bloom, it might have spread to redwood, oak and bay trees and started a major blaze. But because there was no wind, the chlorine gas stayed close to the ground, moved slowly, and constituted a major hazard. "It poured downhill like water," the firechief said.

Chief Bloom commented that swimming pool owners should not be "penny wise and pound foolish" in stocking large amounts of chlorine for future use in purifying water.

"There is enough danger created by fire without compounding the problem with the heat exploding containers of deadly gas," he warned.

leged March 3 robbery of Evelyn Money, then of Houston, Tex., was presented solely in an attempt by the prosecution to establish a pattern of crime by the defendants.

The two jury alternates were then separated from the main panel, and the latter adjourned to the courthouse's second floor jury room to commence deliberation.

Judge Wilson said night accommodations for the jury—should it fail to reach verdicts by evening—will be arranged at that time.

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown today appointed Arthur Heller, publisher of a Nevada County newspaper, to fill an unexpired term on the California Highway Commission.

Heller, a Stanford University graduate, has been publisher of the Nevada County Nugget since 1959. His appointment requires Senate confirmation.

Publisher Revives Plan For Marin

Sheldon F. Sackett, newspaper publisher and radio station owner, today announced he has revived his plan for "World Newspapers of Marin," to augment the weekly papers he now owns in the county.

Sackett said he plans to invest a half million dollars in land, building and equipment to launch the venture. His company now owns the Ross Valley Times, Larkspur-Corte Madera Times, and Tiburon Peninsula Pelican. He said plans call for two more papers on weekly or semi-weekly basis, plus a central publication, "The World of Marin County."

The Coos Bay, Ore., publisher and financier made the announcement in San Francisco coincidentally with his announcement of purchase of Idaho Microwave Inc. and Cable Vision Inc., broadcasting properties in southern Idaho, United Press International reported.

Hackett announced somewhat similar plans when he purchased the weeklies in Marin several years ago, and for a time had an option on a building in San Anselmo which he planned as publishing plant. He allowed the option to lapse.

Evangelist Says America Stands At Crossroads

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI) — Billy Graham's 10-day central Ohio crusade ended last night after he preached to a crowd estimated at 38,000, pushing the 11-meeting turnout to 316,500.

The evangelist took as the topic of his sermon the 24th chapter of Joshua, which includes the general's farewell address to his troops. He referred specifically to the 15th verse and the phrase: "Choose you this day whom we will serve."

"Israel had won a war but had found the problems of peace greater than those of war," said Graham. "Today America stands at the crossroads. Are we going to keep on serving money, pleasure, success that will ultimately destroy the nation or are we going to return to serving the God of our fathers?"

Graham said every one must choose their destination—"heaven or hell"—and hell "must be pretty terrible if the gentle, kind, loving Jesus would talk about it so much."

Motorcyclist Thrown, Injured

John Timothy Moxie, 20, of 581 Louis Drive, Novato, suffered cuts and bruises on right arm and leg when his motorcycle hit a utilities pole in front of 576 Louis Drive at 5:45 p.m. Friday, Novato police reported.

Moxie was thrown through the air about 18 feet, hitting a tree in the yard of M. B. Kristensen at 576 Louis Drive, police said.

He was held overnight at Hamilton Air Force Base hospital for observation of possible concussion, and released Saturday.

Gen. Le May Visits Air Force Base

Gen. Curtis LeMay, chief of staff of the Air Force, paid two brief visits to Hamilton Air Force Base Friday and today on what base officials described as "a classified mission."

General LeMay changed planes at Hamilton Friday, stopping only a few minutes. At 1:30 a.m. today, he returned and was given a 10-minute tour of the base by Maj. Gen. C. F. Necrason, 28th Air Division commander, before heading for Washington in a C-135.

POLE SUPPOSES NAZIS KILLED BARRY'S KIN

KONIN, Poland (AP) — The mayor of this river town in central Poland said today U.S. Presidential Nominee Barry Goldwater's Polish kin probably were killed by the Nazis.

The Arizona senator's grandfather, a Jewish peddler named Michael Goldwasser, emigrated from Konin in 1848 when the town was under Russian rule, according to U. S. biographical information made available in Poland.

Mayor Zdzislaw Szklarkowski said the Goldwassers who remained behind probably were among millions of central Europeans Jews liquidated by Hitler.

"If any of the 3,000 Jews in Konin before the war were Goldwassers, they are dead now," Mayor Szklarkowski said.

Homeowners Group To Add Pool Building

Volunteer members of the Sleepy Hollow Homes Assn. will soon start construction of a storeroom adjacent to the dressing rooms at its clubhouse, it was decided at the association's quarterly meeting Thursday night.

Director Herbert A. Brauner will be in charge of building the structure, which will contain such things as scouting equipment, nursery school supplies and chairs. It will measure about 44 by 18 feet.

Much of the activity at the meeting centered around the swimming pool. It was decided that 10 minutes of every hour would be reserved for adult use of the pool. Sale of swim tags was reported to have reached 705. Albert Giusto, a new member, offered to supply the pool area with ash trays, and this proposal was enthusiastically accepted.

Recording secretary Mrs. Terry Hauge said 50 new members had joined since April, bringing the total membership to 299.

The group also discussed the drag-racing of autos and motorcycles on Butterfield Road, but no course of action was determined.

Marinite's Music Pieces Performed

Two musical works by a Marin County mathematics teacher were performed Saturday at a music seminar in Pasadena.

Yates, who teaches math at Marin Country Day School, plans to incorporate the choral piece into a Requiem Mass.

Police Work Fast On Finding Stolen Car

San Rafael police found George B. Efferson's car Saturday before he had finished filling out papers to report it was stolen.

Efferson, of 164 Dubois Street, made the report Saturday morning. As he was signing the papers, police got a call from Mrs. Earl J. White of 90 Irwin Street. They found the car in a small canyon near the White residence.

Johnson's proposed 962-million-dollar omnibus bill that would set up a "job corps" to give young men 16-22 schooling, new skills and work experience in camps and training centers; establish work-training programs for boys and girls in the same age brackets in their home towns; set up a work-study plan for needy college students; finance locally-planned and operated anti-poverty education, welfare, health and other projects" established a new "volunteers for America" corps to help operate the various programs; provide grants and loans to small business and farm owners in poverty areas to create new jobs and help families stay on the farm. House bill now before its rules committee. Senate expected to consider bill soon after it returns from recess on July 20.

Legislation would concentrate on the development of roads, agriculture, timber, public facilities and industrial financing. House and Senate public works subcommittee have completed hearings.

Unemployed and needy persons would buy stamps at discount and spend them at grocery stores. Differences between senate and house bills must still be reconciled.

Johnson asked Congress for 3.5-billion-dollars to finance the program this year. The house voted to authorize the full amount and approved 3.3-billion-dollars in actual appropriations. The senate foreign relations committee has approved a 3.4-billion-dollar authorization that the senate is expected to consider soon after July 20. Senate hearings underway on appropriation.

Youth Jailed For Drawing Six-Shooter

A 21-year-old San Rafael man was booked for assault with a deadly weapon yesterday after he allegedly pulled a .22-caliber "six-shooter" on two San Rafael policemen and a Marin County sheriff's deputy in a hotel room.

Robert Allen Massey, 21, of the Marin Hotel, 1111 Fourth Street, was booked at 1:10 a.m., after being given first aid at San Rafael General Hospital for a head cut which police said resulted from a brief scuffle during the arrest.

Deputy Sheriff Weldon C. Travis said he first saw Massey as the latter was getting out of a car, driven by an unidentified woman, on Fourth Street. He said Massey called to him, then yelled and swore at him as Travis walked over to see what he wanted.

Travis called two San Rafael officers, and the three followed Massey into the hotel. They said he told them to enter his room when they knocked, but refused to come out.

In the room officer Robert Larrison said he saw the butt of Massey's "western six-shooter model" pistol in his pocket seconds before he made a move as if to pull it out.

Larrison grabbed the gun with both hands and jerked it away. In the ensuing fight, Massey was cut on the head, but police said he refused to have stitches taken at the hospital.

Massey denied having intended to pull the gun on the officers, they said and insisted "I wanted to show it to you."

Bail was set at $5,500.

Two Concerts Show Less Familiar Talents

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Less familiar facets of the musical talents of well known Marin musicians were revealed yesterday afternoon and evening in two concerts, together with evidence of a rising star in American composition.

In the afternoon at Canoles Hall of the First Presbyterian Church of San Rafael, Hugo Rinaldi, seen hitherto usually as a conductor, played the violin and Byron Jones, heard most frequently as a baritone soloist, stepped briefly into the role of composer.

Richard Cumming, here from New York for the Marin Shakespeare Festival, showed he is a young composer to watch when he played his own "Scherzo for Piano."

In the evening at Angelico Hall, pianist Sister Mary Dominic, O.P. of Dominican College, who has given Marin music lovers memorable Beethoven and Mozart, played more of this music and showed that she is also a superlative interpreter of Debussy.

An interesting point is that all of these Marin musicians are educators. Busy as they are with teaching, it is remarkable that they are able to keep up their performing skills.

Though his voice was somewhat too powerful for the hall, Byron Jones sang with splendid control, vibrant and vital tone, and dramatic expressiveness works by Scarlatti, Durante, Mozart, Ravel and Donato, as well as his own setting of the poem, "Mood San Marcos," by San Rafael poet Margaret Albanese. His music enhanced the words of the poem and captured its mood very effectively.

Judging from the aria from "Le Nozze Di Figaro," we should expect Jones to do well in the role of that musical rascal.

Assisted by Cumming at the piano, Rinaldi played Handel's Sonata No. 2 in G Minor and Grieg's Sonata No. 1 with glowing tone, strong rhythmic bite and something of the style characteristic of his conducting.

Though there was no flaw in Sister Mary Dominic's performance of Mozart's Sonata in B Flat Major and Beethoven's Sonata in E Major, Op. 109, we enjoyed most the crystalline clarity of her Bach - Busoni "Chromatic Fantasy and Fugue" and the quicksilver fluidity of her Debussy group composed of "Voiles," "Reflets Dans L'Eau," "Les Connines D'Anacapri" and "Poissons D'or."

Warren Probers Study Ruby Test

DALLAS (UPI) — Warren commission investigators today began analyzing a lengthy lie detector test given Jack Ruby, who is facing the electric chair for the murder of presumed presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald.

The 10-hour lie dectector session was held in Ruby's jail cell Saturday night, at his request. He had asked for a lie detector test many times, saying he wanted to prove to the American public he did not know Oswald, and was not connected with the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

A Warren commission spokesman said results of the lie detector test would not be revealed immediately.

Third Try For School Bonds In Hub City

San Anselmo School District residents will vote again tomorrow to decide the fate of a $700,000 bond issue and a $500,000 loan.

They refused to approve either in elections last October and April, but with the lack of funds necessitating double sessions at Brookside School and transporting of students from Lansdale to Sleepy Hollow, the school board and Supt. Stephen L. Parodi decided to ask again for the bond and loan authorization.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. at all schools except Hidden Valley and also the Redwood Moving and Storage Co. at 230 Greenfield Avenue.

The issues need two-thirds approval for passage. The bond issue just missed in April with 65.4 per cent.

'Taming Of The Shrew' Still Provides Plenty Of Comedy

By GWEN STONE

It is the year 1597, or thereabouts. The theater is called the Swan, situated at the eastern end of a naughty neighborhood in London. The new play performed by the Chamberlain's men is called "The Taming of the Shrew."

The critic of the days says: "It is 2 o'clock in the afternoon and the actors, some dressed in men's clothes and three in women's, gave wonderful performance, very well acted." The critic continues: "All manner of vagrant and lewd persons, under colour of resorting to the plays, came hither to work all manner of mischief. The determination to open permanent indoor theatres is commendable for the presentation of fine plays but may prove a great annoyance not only to all the noblemen and gentlemen hereabouts inhabiting but also a general inconvenience to all the inhabitants of the same precinct." However, actors are never fated to be undone and foreigners as well as playgoers of London flocked to see the Bard's plays wherever they were performed.

Saturday night, 365 or so years later, playgoers flocked to the amphitheater of the Marin Shakespeare Festival in Ross, to see the opening night's performance of "The Taming of the Shrew." The audience was not beset with thieves as in the Elizabethan days, but beset with bewitching imps of laughter.

To see "Shrew" is to laugh. It abounds in energy and broad wit. Shakespeare did not waste words of character-building with Katherine, beautifully portrayed by Paula White, and Petruchio, played by Will Marchetti, who turned in the most engaging performance of this woman-tamer we have ever seen. Here are two characters firmly and finely drawn. In the talent of Miss White and Marchetti, the playgoer not only has a treat for the ear but a feast for the eye.

Complementing Katherine and her tamer is a superb cast of players who fill the amphitheater with their infectious mirth. Robert Richards, as Lucentio, suitor to Bianca, has a well-defined character going here. Hortensio (Abe Kalish), also a suitor to Bianca, is excellent as the petulant dilettante, but need not strive so hard for projection, for his voice carries well at a lower pitch.

As Gremio, the old miserly suitor to Bianca, Karl Barron bites into the role and hangs on hard like the old Italian fox he is in the play. Baptista, father to Kate and Bianca, is admirably characterized by Russell Ernst. Tranio is Bob White, who uses his body well on stage. Bianca, played by Andrea Fulton, seems to have just the right flavor of flirtatiousness and acts perfectly the spoiled young daughter of a rich old man.

Petruchio's servant, Grumio, is a delightful caricature. Derek Beard, a pure comic, excells in the part with words, gestures and moues. We are looking forward to seeing what he does with the role of Puck in "A Midsummer Night's Dream," opening Wednesday night. Scott Malpass, as Biondello, does a clever bit. David McCauley, a young actor with many hats, turns in three notable performances, as Vincentio, the old father to Lucentio, as the tailor and as a servant in Petruchio's house. David Dukes does double service as a servant of Petruchio's and as the very funny Pedant. Dale Altvater triples with ease as Curtis, the haberdasher, and a servant.

The last festive scene of the play brings the cast together, including the widow played by Marjorie Washburn. We liked the last scene, we liked the spirit, gaiety it contained, but wondered at a certain ad lib heard loudly and clearly at the scene's opening. It was "bring on the booze." I'm sure Will would have enjoyed it.

Dion Chesse directed this year's "Shrew" as well as last year's. And I think this one is the better of the two. With a new cast, it moves faster, and it is funnier. Cutting out the induction scene adds to the pace. Chesse's able direction is reflected in every role of the play.

After "Dream" opens Wednesday evening, the three plays, including "The Merry Wives of Windsor," and "Shrew" will be played in repertory, Wednesday through Saturday nights until Sept. 5 at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross.

Religious Leader Decries War Risk

LONG BEACH (UPI) — A Religious leader who claimed there have been only 268 years of world peace since Moses received the commandment against murder 3,426 years ago, called yesterday for more detailed study of the Bible as the way to peace.

"Prayers for peace continue to be offered in the churches of Christendom," Floyd F. Garrett told 21,000 delegates to a Jehovah's Wittnesses district convention. "Yet there is good reason to fear a third global war."

Garrett was chairman of the four-day convention for Southern California and Western Nevada, which ended yesterday.

Nearly everything has gone up in price these days—except your PG&E rates. They have gone down lately. As a matter of fact, the typical PG&E household customer pays less today than 30 years ago for the same amount of gas and electricity. But count the things around your home that gas and electricity are doing for you and your family today. You are using 3 times as much as families did 30 years ago. So naturally, though the unit price is lower, your bill is bigger. Even so, you live better for less because PG&E service is a bigger bargain than ever.

THIS MOM IS WORKING OVERTIME

Mill Valley May Drop Ambulance

Service should be discontinued if two men are to be required to man the Mill Valley city ambulance, City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer and Fire Chief Leslie Armager have recommended to the city council.

The ambulance is now sent out followed by a second car, carrying the resuscitator. If the individual has to be taken to the hospital, the ambulance proceeds with only the driver, leaving the patient unattended. This policy of driver only has been questioned, said Balmer.

We are one man short in our fire crew when the ambulance is out of the city and the chief and I agree we cannot afford to be two men short, Balmer related.

The ambulance has been in service since 1937 when the first vehicle was purchased by the American Legion, Post 284 of Mill Valley. A newer vehicle was purchased with money from public subscription in 1956.

Sausalito broached the same problem about a year ago. It was decided to put the ambulance out of service for a short time until it could provide two men. It now uses two, one as driver, one as attendant.

Two letters have been received by Balmer from doctors on the subject. Dr. Albert E. White, city councilman, recommends two persons to man the ambulance, certain specified supplies and equipment, with an added recommendation that it may be desirable to reevaluate the policy, possibly limiting service to use of a resuscitator and necessary first aid.

Dr. Elmer A. Weden Jr. of San Rafael suggests the city consider a policy of "declining emergency calls unless two attendants are available. Although in some cases this might cause a slight delay before the other ambulance came, it would only be significant with the very critical patient. But a patient this critically injured would absolutely need two attendants anyway," he said.

The subject will be discussed by the city council at 8 p.m. today.

Also on the agenda will be business dealing with Sycamore Avenue extension and a request for the city to share in paving Helen's Lane. Use of the municipal clubhouse will also be taken up since the present caterer and custodian have informed Balmer they are quiting due to insufficient income.

Oldest Postman Fetes A Century

The former postman, born here July 18, 1864, received congratulations from President Lyndon B. Johnson and U.S. Postmaster General John Gronouski.

He said the only time he failed to deliver the mail was in 1906 when the earthquake and fire "burned up my route."

Horse And Buggy Law Won't Do For Marin

Marin County Supervisors will be asked tomorrow to repeal about 50 outdated ordinances dating back to 1883, including the licensing of stallions used for propagation.

County Council Douglas J. Maloney will submit a list of ordinances for repeal and codification to eliminate unnecessary ordinances and clarify existing county laws.

Slated for repeal are ordinances that:

Establishes the Marin County Hospital and Farm which has been abandoned.

Divides the county into townships for an election of justices of the peace and constables.

All the obsolete ordinances are scheduled to be repealed by a single ordinance.

Maloney aslo has submitted two other ordinances to cover repeal of traffic ordinances applying to areas incorporated by the City of Tiburon or annexed to the city of Novato.

The meeting begins at 9 a.m. in the Civic Center.

Juveniles Blamed In Rash Of Cash Thefts

Money was taken from three Corte Madera homes over the weekend in the latest of a rash of burglaries which Corte Madera police believe to have been committed by juveniles.

Loot in the three burglaries totaled about $420. The homes were entered through open windows and rear sliding doors.

Other valuables were passed up for money located in bedrooms.

Police said three burglaries last week fit into a similar pattern.

In the biggest haul over the weekend, about $300 was missing from the home of Jean Scarrone at 34 Ash Avenue. Two $100 bills and smaller bills totaling $100 were taken from a bookcase headboard in a bedroom.

Entry was made sometime between 5 p.m. Thursday and late Friday night through an open window, police said.

Leo Jarvis of 26 El Camino Drive returned to his home after being away on vacation Saturday night to find $20 missing from a dresser drawer. Entry was either through an open window or a sliding glass door, said police.

About $100 in small bills was taken from a box in a dresser drawer in the home of Anthony Thomas Fadale at 29 Spindrift Passage between 4 p.m. and 9:20 p.m. yesterday.

School Board Delays Bid On E Street

The San Rafael Board of Education met Friday with the intention of awarding a contract for demolition and reconstruction at E Street School to Ira W. Coburn Co. of San Rafael, but decided it needed further information before it could act.

The problem centers around the absence in Coburn's bid of any subcontractors. The law stipulates that the general contractor must do all work that is not specifically listed as subcontractual. The board wants to know if Coburn's renting of operating equipment comprises a subcontract.

Asst. Superintendent Mitchell L. Voydat was instructed to ask County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney for an opinion about this matter, and the board will meet sometime next week to award the contract.

Visitor Will Speak

Yasujo Yamaguchi, an exchange student from Osaka, Japan, staying at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John H. McDermott of Corte Madera, will speak to the Mill Valley Lions Club meeting at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Stinson Beach Drought Ends, Park Reports

Water was plentiful over the weekend at Stinson Beach even though, according to Robert G. Carlson, supervisor at Stinson Beach State Park, there were about the same number of park visitors as a week ago when the park had to be closed because of water shortage. Carlson said about 1,350 cars were present Saturday and yesterday.

Since the shortage, a temporary hook-up was installed to pump water from a well at Stinson Ranch, Gail Bennett, Stinson Beach Water Co. superintendent, said today.

A tank has been installed at Steep Ravine Creek on Panoramic Highway and, with a large pump, water is expected to be provided from that tank sometime this week. Bennett said this supply should be more than adequate for both village and park.

Rabies Test Due On Bold Raccoon

The animal was reported to Belvedere police as "just sitting" on the roof of the Herbert G. Drake home at 213 Golden Gate Avenue. It appeared unafraid of people and remained on the roof when a Belvedere police officer approached and shot it.

The body of the animal was to be taken tot he Marin County Health Department for tests to find out if it was rabid, Police Chief William Woodington reported.

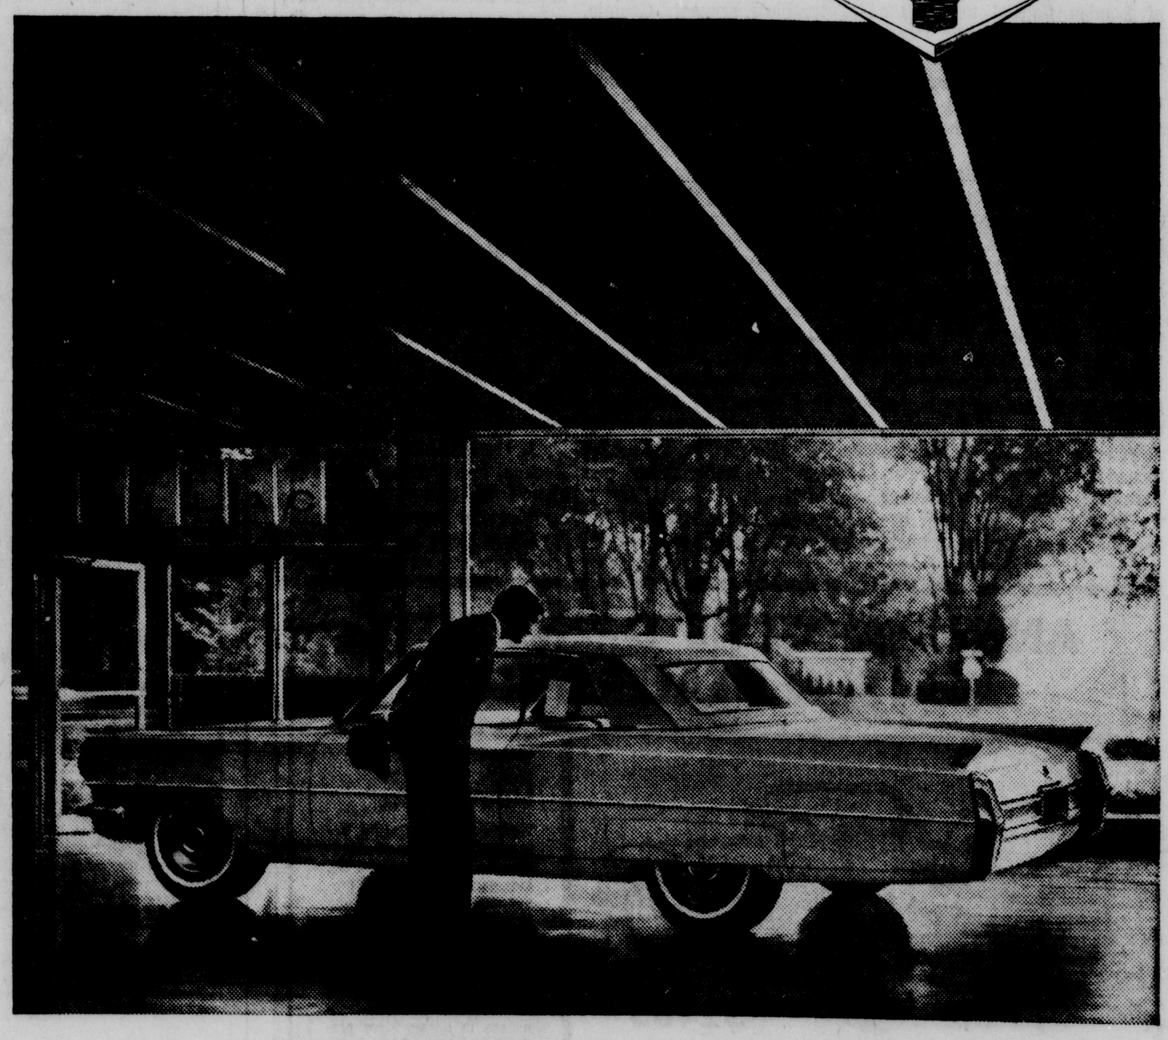
Cadillac



YOU MAY BE LOSING MONEY BY PAYING LESS

There are many cars that cost almost as much as a Cadillac. But it is a matter of fact that the decision to buy one of them could be a false economy.

Consider the major items included in the basic price of a Cadillac that are usually extra on other cars: automatic transmission, high-performance engine, power steering, power brakes, automatic cornering lights, and power windows on most models.

Then think of what a new Cadillac can save you on operation and maintenance. Cadillac is actually the rival of much smaller, lighter cars in gasoline efficiency —and it is so soundly built that it has reduced upkeep expense to the practical minimum.

You're ahead again—every mile you drive.

Finally, reflect on Cadillac's historically high trade-in value. No car at or near its price preserves so much of its owner's original investment through the years.

So add it all up. You'll see what most owners mean when they say you don't spend more for a Cadillac. You just invest a little more—and get a lot more back.

If a Cadillac has long been in your plans, visit your dealer and get all the dollars-and-cents facts.

Travelling Artist's Fate Left To Jury By Sausalito Police

A visiting artist who got a rather warmer reception than he expected in Sausalito is scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow on charges of displaying obscene paintings and peddling without a license.

Neil Franklin Stauffer, 32, of Mountain View said he "really didn't expect to sell anything" when he parked a camper load of his art on Bridgeway about 4:15 p.m. Saturday and started to unload it for display. "I thought I might attract some attention," he said.

He attracted the attention of Police Officer Ernest Brown, who cast an inquiring eye over some of the paintings and called in a fellow critic, Officer John Higgins.

Brown and Higgins were particularly interested in a four-by-six foot painting of a nude figure of a man and three smaller nudes (one a Crucifixion scene). They confiscated the four pictures, arrested Stauffer and booked him into county jail on the two charges.

The artist's wife, Phoebe, and 2-year-old daughter Sherri found themselves stranded on the sidewalk. Mrs. Stauffer couldn't drive the truck away because she has no driver's license.

Things stood like that for several hours. Judge Leonard A. Thomas of Marin Municipal Court was called to set bail. He set it at $56 on the peddling charge and declined to set any bail on the obscenity count. The artist could be released on his own recognizance on that, said the judge.

The Stauffers had only $6 and some small change. Stauffer, who came to California six weeks ago, has not yet found a job. The art sale was to be his means of raising some money for living expenses.

Stauffer spent five hours in the county jail before his wife was able to raise bail for him. He then drove the camper back to Mountain View. Sausalito police kept custody of the four confiscated paintings.

Stauffer is a graduate of Minneapolis School of Art. He said he recently sold a painting —a nude—to the Ford Foundation.

"I'll just take all my paintings into court and let the judge decide," he said.

"The idea of police censorship of art can't be tolerated here," declared Ray Schwartz of 172 Spencer Avenue. "I intend to let the city council know, and the city manager."

Sausalito Police Chief Kenneth H. Huck said simply, "It will be up to a judge or jury to determine whether he is guilty or not guilty."

Novato Teen Club Cash Box Tapped

Approximately $20 in cash was taken from the cash box of the Teen Club at Novato High School cafeteria between 3:30 and 5:45 p.m. Friday, Charlene Marie Wolfe, teen club director, reported Friday to Novato police.

She said either she or her assistant was near the cash box at all times and she did not know how the money was stolen, according to police.

Brush Fire Contained

PLACERVILLE (UPI) — A 250-acre brush fire near Folsom Lake was controlled last night by a 250-man crew from the State Division of Forestry. The fire, which reportedly destroyed a small cabin, started Saturday in the Kanaka Valley, about four miles east of the lake in El Dorado County.

County Plan Board Grants School Permit

The Marin County Planning Commission today granted a use permit for a nursery school at 138 North San Pedro Road, Santa Venetia, despite a staff recommendation for denial.

The staff reported that the proposed school, adjacent to Blessed Sacrament School, would create an additional traffic hazard along North San Pedro Road.

Commissioners granted the permit after the applicant, Robert Forbush of Corte Madera, said bus service would be provided for the 24 nursery school children and that a parking area would be available.

The school will be in a split-level home on a 50-by-200 foot lot, a block west of the Civic Center.

Commissioners voted 5-0 to grant the permit. Commissioner William F. Upton abstained and Commissioner Felix M. Warburg was absent.

Weavers' Outing Is Dual-Purpose

Some 35 members of the Tamalpais Weavers Guild held their monthly meeting there so they could dye samples of yarn with the pure water from the park's Crystal Spring.

They explained that the dyes used would not work if mixed with chlorinated city water. It also gave them an excuse to have a picnic, the ladies confessed to park supervisor Neil Power.

Two women were injured when their cars collided in the eastbound lane of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, 30 feet east of Eliseo Drive, at 11:25 p.m. yesterday.

Mrs. Helen B. Dailey, 54, of San Francisco was in good condition today at Marin General Hospital, where she was being held for observation. Venella Williams, 49, of Vallejo was treated for chin cuts.

Mrs. Williams was cited by the California Highway Patrol for speeding. Her car struck the rear of that driven by Mrs. Dailey.

Search Fails To Locate Surf Riding Victim

Extensive search of area surrounding Bolinas Bay Saturday failed to locate a surfer reportedly swept to sea by tide Friday evening.

Coast Guard spokesmen said a patrol boat and a helicopter searched an area up to two miles off the beach for five hours Saturday.

The search was abandoned at 8 p.m. Saturday. It will not be resumed unless further evidence of the missing swimmer materializes, said Coast Guard spokesmen.

Office Broken Into, No Loot Is Obtained

Someone broke into the Dickson Simpson Co. office at 40 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael, at 1 a.m. Saturday, but must have been scared away too quickly to take anything.

Police found a door open, then discovered the frame and latch had been forced. An open rear window apparently had been the burglar's exit route. Nothing was reported missing.

Committee Studies Mergers Of Fire, Sanitary Districts

The Marin County Local Government Coordinating Committee today decided to request the Pacific Fire Rating Bureau to study of advantages and problems in consolidation of all or some of the 21 fire departments in Marin.

County Administrator Alan Bruce will ask fire district commissions and city councils for support in petitioning the underwriting bureau to make the study.

The committee acted after hearing a presentation of the need for consolidation by Carl Modell, secretary of the Tamalpais Fire Protection District board.

Warren Jacobs, president of the Homestead Valley Sanitary District board, urged the advantages of a Southern Marin sanitary district which would embrace most or all of the numerous districts now serving the area.

The committee agreed to meet again within 30 days and to invite the governing boards of Mill Valley, Homestead Valley, Alto and Tamalpais Valley to take part in a discussion of financial problems of the proposed sanitary district consolidation. County Auditor-Controller Michael L. Mitchell will be asked to sit in on the meeting.

The financial problems include the need for more treatment plants in the area. District dump treated sewage into the bay, and must provide both primary and secondary treatment for it. Jacobs said that deep ocean dumping would be better, but would demand new trunk lines and new treatment plants.

Modell cited the marger of the Homestead and Tamalpais Valley fire protection districts as an example of consolidation affording better protection.

Firemen Ready Annual Doings For Belvedere

All men of the community are invited to the party at 8 p.m. at the fire house, publicity chairman Erwin C. Farley said. The only social requirement is for guests to take their own mugs.

The "bust" is a prelude to the annual firemen's ball, scheduled for Aug. 21 at the San Francisco Yacht Club.

New Discovery Now Makes It Possible To Shrink And Heal Hemorrhoids Without Surgery

Stops Itch—Relieves Pain In Minutes

New York, N. Y. (Special): A world-famous institute has discovered a new substance which has the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids without surgery. The sufferer first notices almost unbelievable relief in minutes from itching, burning and pain. Then this substance speeds up healing of the injured tissues all while it quickly reduces painful swelling.

Tests conducted under a doctor's observations proved this so – even in cases of 10 to 20 years' standing. The secret is the new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) – now offered in both ointment or suppository form called Preparation H®.

In addition to actually shrinking piles—Preparation H lubricates and makes bowel movements less painful. It helps to prevent infection (a principal cause of hemorrhoids).

Only Preparation H contains this magic new substance which quickly helps heal injured cells back to normal and stimulates regrowth of healthy tissue again. Just ask for Preparation H Ointment or Preparation H Suppositories (easier to use away from home). Available at all drug counters.

Now Voters May Speak Up In S.F. Freeway Battle

San Francisco voters may have a voice in settling one segment of the hassle between that city and the State Highway Commission about freeway locations; a battle that has been constant for 10 years, which has delayed some vital freeway plans. While this is strictly a San Francisco dispute, it has interest in Marin, because some of the projects at issue affect our thousands of commuters.

At issue is the plan for a freeway tunneling under the Golden Gate Park Panhandle, and use of a corner of the park itself as a route between the Golden Gate Bridge and the San Francisco Civic Center. It has been argued at many emotion-packed hearings in the area.

Recently, San Francisco's Recreation-Park Commission unanimously voted to approve this key project. Last week, that city's Planning Commission approved use of such a route. It now goes to the city's board of supervisors —who in May rejected the Highway Commission's plan.

Meantime, a supervisor favoring a Pacific Heights tunnel route has introduced a city charter amendment to let the voters decide the sticky question in November. This too, is under some committee study before going to the board.

The amendment would prohibit such a thoroughfare over, under or even contiguous to Golden Gate Park. Should the charter amendment proposal go on the ballot, it would be the first time, hereabouts at least, that votes, not vocalizing, would be a deciding factor, so far as the city is concerned.

Whether Marin commuters should organize sit-in, drive-in or plain electioneering activities in another city and county can be decided after the San Francisco supervisors act on the proposed anti-park amendment and the pro-park use recommended by two important commissions. But the 128 million dollar freeway concerns thousands of drivers. Let us hope that some action is taken before Thursday's meeting of the Highway Commission to resolve the dispute.

CITY BENEFITS BY A LITTLE DIGGING

It was a lucky day for Kendallville, Ind., when workmen digging in the street unexpectedly found manholes 16 inches below the surface.

Further investigation revealed the presence of a long-forgotten sewer, which had probably been built 50 or 60 years ago.

The discovery proved to be a budget boon, since the city stood to save the $15,000 allocated for a new sewer.

Such a windfall is of rare occurrence. However, it points up the importance of "digging," not perhaps under the ground, but for information, for answers and for the hidden powers God has given us. We may never know they are there unless we search for them.

You can uncover your own enormous potential only by stretching your ability to think, see and do.

By directing your efforts to perform a Christ-like service for others, you will become especially appreciative of the hidden reserves within you.

By WAT TAKESHITA

PEOPLE TELL YOU it's so, but you don't believe it until you actually see for yourself—That you can watch TV and get a better overall picture of what's going on at a convention than if you sat in the middle of the convention floor.

It's a case of not being able to see the forest because of the trees.

TAKESHITA

A spectator at the Cow Palace has an assigned seat, say to the left of the speaker's platform. You can hear all the speeches, but you sit there all session and get the left profile of each speaker. The rest of the convention is just a blur of humanity and waving placards.

YOU CAN SEE just a portion of the state standards over the heads of the delegates.

When there is a standing vote, as there was on the proposed amendments for the party platform, you can tip toe on your chair and still can't see which delegates are standing up and which are remaining seated.

IT WAS AMUSING to see many people inside the Cow Palace standing around TV sets to watch the proceedings and some carrying transistor radios to hear about the goings on.

On the night the fire broke out outside the Cow Palace, a rumor flew about a fire, but you didn't know what had happened until you read about it in the papers the next morning.

Pickets could have started a free-for-all at the front entrance, and you would have been completely unaware.

But the hundreds from Marin who were able to wangle seats inside the Cow Palace got the satisfaction of having been there when history was being made.

The day after Goldwater's nomination, Democratic headquarters in San Rafael reported a flood of phone calls from voters eager to start work for President Johnson's campaign.

"Within a two-hour period, we must have gotten 15 phone calls," said one Democrat. "And five of them were from Republicans, who said they wanted to work for Johnson!"

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Assessor Broemmel Is Given Praise

Editor, Independent Journal:

We all owe thanks to Assessor Bert Broemmel for the forthcoming tax rate reductions in Bolinas, Sausalito and throughout the county. His realistic revaluations of land provide a broader tax base which enables county, city and school budgets to be met by lower tax rates. Even in Sausalito, the burden of city and school taxes, which far exceed the county tax, will bear more lightly on homeowners now that the holders of vacant lots and acreage pay more of their fair share. Continuing revaluation of land helps to keep property taxes more fairly apportioned so that homeowners do not pick up so much of the tab for absentee speculators.

Higher land taxes also help to hold down land prices, thus reducing the cost of homes, school sites and open spaces the county may wish to purchase.

Homeowners who have been drawn into the attack on the assessor's revaluation program should reconsider their complaints in the light of the lower tax rates which result from it. Many do not realize how they have been misled by strident, slanted propaganda into fronting for a few land speculators who hope to go on paying less than their fair share—at the homeowner's expense.

Richardson Bay Urban Renewal?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

With reference to Robert M. Coppock's July 10 columnar suggestion that the Richardson Bay pot-boil might be solved via urban redevelopment, I strongly urge that the Pandora Box of redevelopment be kept tightly buttoned in Marin City.

Mr. Coppock's concern for solution of the current hassle over shoreline alignment, Behr bond issues and real estate sales taxes, and ad extremum, is well founded.

However, solving these problems with the redevelopment process would be like throwing out the baby with the bath water.

The urban renewal expert of redevelopment, unattached and unaffected by the local planners, might come up with the sensible but locally unmentionable solution of filling this unsightly swamp, and thereafter re-sell the land back into the tax roll as commercial and industrial sites. Sounds good, you say?

Redevelopment was originally conceived by the congress as a self liquidating process; a run-down neighborhood or district could be brought up in its entirety at its fair market value, usually slightly above land only value, swept clean of existing improvements, carefully replanned with modern streets and public amenities, and then sold back, by bid process at greatly enhanced value, into private ownership.

Uncle Sam's role . . . is mainly to advance the money . . . However, Uncle stands in the stage wing to oversee recovery as much as possible of the money advanced.

I . . . do not feel there is sufficient space in the wing for Uncle Sam, the County Supervisors, the Mill Valley City Council and the host of professional and amateur bellyachers . . .

The tender, innocent, politically naive electorate of Marin County should understand that Uncle Sam's redevelopment officials play for keeps.

The official referred to by Mr. Coppoch's column as, I quote, "a man generally considered one of the nation's top experts on redevelopment was contacted while this column was b e i n g prepared," was probably Justin Herman, San Francisco's very able redevelopment director. If so, Mr. Coppock's description of his source is letter perfect in all detail. If Mr. Herman is not the candidate, I reserve comment.

However, the time entailed in preparing a newspaper column does not give . . . any expert much time to study such a controversial matter . . .

Mr. Coppock and our citizenry should be reminded that at least 75 per cent of the building structures and 85 per cent of the street and road layout in Marin County are long past the age . . . of obsolescence where redevelopment groups stop drooling and start acting.

I would probably be classed as one of the nation's "bottom" experts . . . compared to Mr. Coppock's man, but in the course of personally entering nearly 1500 land parcels in the Western Addition Project . . . I did manage to stick fingers in a few holes in the dike.

I also formed the opinion that redevelopment is at times virtually necessary but as a final resort!

Marin City has for several years been in the throes of federal redevelopment and it still has all the eye appeal of an old time coast artillery garrison.

With the advent of such projects as Northgate, Ross Valley Savings Building, Corte Madera Shopping Center, the . . . proposed Larkspur Retirement Center, and the many handsome apartment projects, it appears that local boards, commissions and councils have gotten themselves a haircut, and are at last emerging from the bedroom of this "b e d r o o m county" and entering the kitchen to prepare supper.

Let's try it this way a bit longer.

SHAGGY DOG story of the month concerns the talking pooch who appeared at a big charity performance and stopped the show cold with a dazzling series of songs, imitations and hilarious anecdotes. In the middle of the act, however, a large dog ran out of the wings, grabbed the performing pup by the scruff of his neck, and marched him into the wings.

"It's my mother," the talking dog yelled despairingly just before he disappeared. "She wants me to be a doctor!"

A HIBERIAN laborer, warned not to smoke near explosives, lit his pipe, nevertheless, one day on the job and promptly was blown sky-high.

A foreman dashed to the spot and demanded, "Where's Cassidy?" "He left," explained a fellow toiler. "When?" demanded the foreman. "Boss," declared the toiler solemnly, "if Cassidy comes back as fast as he went, he should have been here yesterday."

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Marin's potential ability to handle an air attack was criticized for understaffed civil defense units by the Marin Federtion of Improvement Clubs.

Novato residents were bracing themselves for another appearance of "The Novato Truth," a political sheet which had appeared prior to election three times in two years.

Bread almost disappeared from Marin grocers' shelves when a strike of the American Federation of Labor bakery unions against wholesale baking firms went into the third day.

Veteran Marin County Sheriff Walter B. Sellmer was defeated by David Menary Sr. in the primary election by a final count of 16,593 to 11,508 votes.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Racist Issue Can Distort Whole Campaign Into Bitter Nightmare

SAN FRANCISCO—And now the campaign. Is it going to be the dullest or the dirtiest?

What an ironic turn of events that Sen. Barry Goldwater, chosen by the Republican conservatives to prove that Goldwater conservatism is the wave of the future, may have his best chance of winning on the wave of the past — the white backlash against the civil rights law overwhelmingly approved by both parties.

NOTHING COULD be more unnatural and more unwelcome to Goldwater than to see his long-dreamed presidential campaign turn into a racial miasma from which the whole nation would lose and no candidate would have proved anything.

Goldwater has already shown anxiety lest the campaign be made the instrument for inflaming race relations beyond anything we have yet seen.

He can do much to prevent it—if he so chooses. It would seem to me that he would wish to do so or he will be throwing away his whole opportunity to put his conservative philosophy of government and his conservative policies to the test of the ballot box.

The country would be voting neither for an "alternative" nor for an "echo" if the Goldwater campaign is conducted in a manner which seeks to exploit racial tensions rather than calm them.

NEITHER GOLDWATER nor President Lyndon B. Johnson can by themselves keep racial tensions from mounting or keep the civil rights issue from boiling over in the campaign. But the responsible leaders of the Negro organizations and the responsible leaders of the civil rights pressure groups—which have done such brave and valuable work in galvanizing public suport for passing the law—can make an incalculable contribution to their own cause.

Now that the strongest and most wide-ranging statute to turn equal rights into equal reality is the law of the land, what is most needed in the nation?

The need is for a period of calm, constructive and faithful compliance with and enforcement of the law.

The need is not for a tumultuous clamor for some more laws, but for positive and patient testing of the present law.

The need is for a nationwide moratorium on every form of violent protest and civil disobedience which can have no other effect than to hurt the cause of civil rights and make a tense presidential election disruptive and divisive.

IT WOULD BE out of character for Senator Goldwater to conduct such a campaign. But the most ardent civil rights pressure groups will thrust such a campaign into his hands if they proceed—as they have begun—to harass, to picket, to sit-in, to lie-in, and to denounce the Republican nominee as a "bigot" and a "white supremacist."

Such tactics will not only stir and stimulate the very type of miasmic politics which will play into the hands of the real racists but risk creating a Goldwater-sympathy vote—which is hardly what the civil rights advocates have in mind.

THE REPUBLICAN conservatives and the Republican moderates, Senator Goldwater and President Johnson and most Democrats have a common interest in keeping racial tensions from engulfing this campaign. This is not to say there is no choice to be made between the two candidates on civil rights. There is a choice, but it is a choice which can be made in the voting booth, not on the picket lines which will only make the choice more difficult to see.

Richard Nixon made one of the wisest observations in San Francisco when he said that he hoped Gov. George Wallace stays in the campaign, because "that's where the racist vote belongs." He's right.

THE ALLEN-SCOTT REPORT

Demos May Battle On Dixie Delegates

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

Two key features of this backstage scheme are: A turbulent and widely televised battle on the convention floor to oust the Alabama, Louisiana and Mississippi delegations and seat instead integrated groups from those states; simultaneous mass demonstrations both inside and outside the convention hall supporting this plan.

Walter Reuther, head of the United Auto Workers, and leaders of CORE are in the forefront in organizing and financing this explosive undertaking. They are working closely with Rustin.

STEPS ARE UNDER WAY to line up the support of at least 10 per cent of the 108-member credentials committee to present a minority report demanding that the Mississippi delegation be rejected.

The ouster leaders know they have no chance of getting anywhere with their scheme in the credentials committee itself. Their only hope is getting a 10 per cent-backed minority report on the ground that the regular Mississippi Democratic organization "systematically" excludes Negroes and in 1960 repudiated both the party's platform and presidential slate.

IF SUCH A minority report can be maneuvered, the undercover plan then calls for eight Northern state delegations to formally request a roll call on ousting Mississippi.

Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy and California Gov. Edmund G. Brown are being counted on to exert decisive influence at every stage in ouster strategy.

While all this goes on in the convention, Rustin will be massing "huge" demonstrations inside and outside the immense Atlantic City hall.

It is his aim to bring more than 100,000 Negro and white demonstrators to the resort city.

FOR INSIDE demonstrations that would be certain of far-flung television coverage, he is seeking several thousand passes. It is hinted that if the Democratic National Committee balks, "Other measures may be resorted to." What they might be is shrugged off.

Reuther and A. Phillip Randolph, head of the Sleeping Car Porters and of the March on Washington, are seeking the backing of the AFL-CIO Executive Council.

MORE THAN 250 convention delegates will be laborites, and their support is heavily counted on.

Rustin, an admitted one-time organizer for the Young Communist League, served 28 months in federal prison for draft evasion in World War II. He was also convicted on a morals charge.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Southern Marin Went On Living Even During Cow Palace Epoch

THE OTHER DAY when everyone was talking Grand Old Party, Goldwater and "Go, Go, Go," we went into the quiet of Lytton Square where we bumped into Tonina Letson. "How is your dog?" we asked.

"Sadie-April is not too well," said Tonina. "She seems to be having the after effects of too many fermented plums." It seems that Sadie-April goes out every year about this time and eats volumes of cherry plums which have become ripe and fallen from the trees.

"Last night she had muddy whiskers and that's a bad sign," said Tonina.

We find that, as one goes down life's highway, more and more things are unseasonal. A friend of ours said this is the mating season for raccoons and the only time of year they, being nocturnal, come out in the day.

The other morning our friend's daughter went to the door, screamed, "Eek," and ran back in. "What's wrong?" asked the mother. It seems there was a raccoon all alone in the plum tree picking plums.

BERT BALMER said he was standing in the lobby of the St. Francis Hotel the day before the convention opened when he noticed a young couple come to the desk and ask for a place to stay. There was quite some conversation, he said, and finally the desk clerk said, "But you won't be able to find a place in town. This is the Republican convention." In a very straight-faced manner, the young man replied, "But we're not Republicans."

It's very noisy and everyone was very busy, she said. There were 19 teletypes, 30 typewriters, 60 telephones and three television sets and the only way to close out some of the clatter was behind her head set. Funniest visitor, she reported, was a guy dressed as Santa Claus, who gave out pennies and said he was running for president. "I forgot his name," said Midge. "It began with an 'S'." She said the strangest call she got was from some woman who asked, "Why didn't Mary sing the Star-Spangled Banner?"

THE NIGHT of the nominations for president Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jones had finished eating their dinner and decided to go into the living room to watch the convention on the electric box.

"There was Snoopy, our big cat sitting in my chair," said Mrs. Jones.

"Let her stay," said Mr. Jones to Mrs. Jones. "She's probably watching the convention and she's probably a Republican."

"With that, Snoopy," said Mrs. Jones, "jumped out of the chair and went and hid behind the sofa. We call her our Democratic cat."

Due to dropouts in the "West Side Story," the all-high school musical now playing at Tamalpais High, three men are taking parts which normally would be played by the students. Doc is Peter Klain; Schrank, Lew Levinson, and Officer Krupke, Mike Davlin. "We ran out of boys," said director Robert Greenwood.

MRS. ROSE DE MARTINI calls the long houses on 25-foot frontage lots in Almonte "not houses, but long hot dogs."

Mrs. T. R. Geddes says she has a boxer dog named Babe who is eight years old and so intelligent that when someone in the family mentions "walk," they have to spell it out. Otherwise Babe get overly excited.

But now they can no longer use "walk" because Babe knows what it means and so they are spelling out the word, "t-r-i-p." What word they will use next, Mrs. Geddes does not know. Babe also plays ball, tennis to volley. "When she wants to play ball, she stands on her head and wags her tail. We nod all right and she goes to the basement and returns with a ball. Sometimes it's tennis, sometimes volley. Then we play."

Lagunitas Board To Adopt Budget

The Lagunitas School District board is slated to approve a final 1964-65 budget at a meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Lagunitas School.

Last month the board approved a tentative budget of $218,969, an increase of $31,000 over last year's budget.

The board also will receive a report from its site selection committee on the purchase of two 10-acre sites for future schools.

To Open Office

Catholic Social Service of Marin will open its new offices at 179 Los Ranchitos Road, San Rafael, Aug. 7.

ART BUCHWALD

It Was A Bad Day For The Press —Even Ike Turned On Scribes

SAN FRANCISCO—The biggest ovation former President Dwight D. Eisenhower received during his speech at the Republican convention was when he attacked "sensation-seeking columnists and commentators."

When the general came to the part in his speech where he said, "So let us particularly scorn the divisive efforts of those outside our family, including sensation-seeking columnists and commentators, who couldn't care less about the good of our party," he received a standing ovation the likes of which has never been seen at the Cow Palace.

THE WORST PART of it is that we were absolutely sure President Eisenhower looked at us when he said it.

The idea that the former Republican President of the United States could get a bigger hand attacking the press than he could attacking the Democrats gives us sensation-seeking columnists goose pimples.

Probably the thing that hurts the most is that President Eisenhower is a television commentator himself, and it's hard to believe he would attack one of his own, particularly if he is going to continue his very successful career.

As soon as the president uttered his words, we knew we were in trouble. An angry group of California delegates started towards us. We tried to run the other way, but we were blocked by the delegates from Illinois. We went up to Martin Agronsky, the CBS newscaster, and cried, "Help me!"

WE FOUGHT our way through to the New York delegation and tried to hide behind Gov. Nelson Rockefeller. "I can't do much for you," he told us. "They don't listen to me anymore."

The crowd hooted, "You're going to have to come out sometime."

When they couldn't find us, we heard a Mississippi delegate scream, "Somebody get the dogs!"

IT WAS TIME to move on. We crawled to New Hampshire, then to Vermont, and then made it to Maine as the angry pack kept at our heels. Finally we made it back to the press box where Joe Alsop, Roscoe Drummond, Marquis Childs and James Reston had built a barricade of typewriters and Western Union machines.

Alsop said, "We only have enough paper and carbon to last another two hours."

Reston said, "Don't waste copy paper, and don't write until you see the whites of their eyes."

Just when it looked as if all was lost, William S. White got through to President Johnson and told him the sensation-seeking columnists and commentators were under attack. The President immediately called J. Edgar Hoover and in three hours the Cow Palace was filled with agents of the FBI.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

Thirsty? They'll Be Delivering Beer To Front (Or Back) Door

A new type of business proposed by Richard C. Kibler and Charles P. Hickey of Santa Venetia is called Marin Home Beer Delivery—which just about explains itself.

Kibler and Hickey, who are brothers-in-law, propose to set up an establishment at 501 B Street, San Rafael, from which point they will deliver case beer on a weekly or bi-weekly arrangement, picking up the empty bottles next time around.

Kibler is from Wisconsin, Hickey is from Pennsylvania. They say it is quite a business back there.

TEN PILOT HOMES (there and four bedrooms) are being constructed at the mouth of Tennessee Valley by Goheen Construction Co. of Mill Valley. They will be used as prototypes of other homes to be built later on adjoining lands.

George Goheen, who is also vice president of Marin Capital Properties, notes that lots and homes are being sold on the 76-acre Muir Meadows subdivision (formerly part of the Green Gulch Ranch) overlooking Tamalpais Valley.

A GROUP OF WOMEN in Marin County construction business will be presented with a formal charter and become part of the National Assn. of Women in Construction. A luncheon will be held next Saturday at Peacock Gap Country Club where they will receive their charter from the president-elect of the national group.

Officers of the Marin association are: Barbara Stamper, president; Jean Maggy, vice president; Naomi Lane, treasurer, and Sandy Williamson, recording secretary. Directors are Jan Hancock, Alice Kierney, Marguerite Kruezer and Juanita McGuire.

ARCHITECT Gunnar Andersen of Greenbrae and his partner James E. Palmer have moved to larger offices at 400 Pacific Avenue, San Francisco, and have expanded their staff. A current project of the firm is the design of the new Triangle Professional Center in Novato.

RICHARD OESTERMAN of Capital Assistance and Mortgage Co., 292 Redhill Avenue, San Anselmo, announces that his firm has been appointed negotiator for home, commercial, shopping center and supermarket loans by Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Co. of Greensboro, N.C.

RUSSELL L. ARNDT of Ignacio, general manager of Tiedeman and McMorran Division, Consolidated Foods Corp., San Francisco, has been elected to membership in the San Francisco chapter of the Administrative Management Society.

FRANK D. HANLON of San Rafael has been promoted from assistant vice president in charge of the computer data processing at Wells Fargo Bank in San Francisco. Hanlon has been with the bank since 1941 and in data processing for six years. He was named assistant cashier in 1959 and advanced to assistant vice president two years ago.

RUSSELL O. THOMPSON who took over the heating and plumbing part of Currie Heating and Plumbing Co., San Anselmo (and that name) will have his new shops at 427 Irwin Street, San Rafael, where L. C. Smith Building Supplies used to be.

GEORGE CHENAULT of San Rafael has been cited by Safeway Stores, Inc., for outstanding service and courtesy. He has served as assistant manager of Mill Valley and San Anselmo stores, and last March was made assistant manager of the new Safeway store in Tiburon.

Market Falls Away From Historic High

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed lower today, falling from the historic high set Friday.

Volume for the day was estimated at 4.5 million shares compared with 4.67 million Friday.

After a mixed opening, prices shaded lower and then held steady. The market had closed at a historic peak Friday on the strength of a six-week advance.

Despite the slightly lower tone, most Wall Street analysts still believed the upswing would continue. No one could cite any major stumbling blocks in the path of a further rise.

Steels and motors lagged. Oils, rails and building materials inched upward while chemicals, utilities, aircrafts and airlines were irregular.

U. S. Steel was off more than ½ and Bethlehem was about unchanged.

Among the motors, GM, Ford and Chrysler were all off fractions. American Motors was unchanged and Studebaker was up a little.

Universal Oil Products gained nearly 1½.

Pennsylvania Railroad was up a major fraction. Bell and Howell was off a small fraction after it was disclosed the company will make cameras for Polaroid. Polaroid also was down a bit.

IBM gave up more than 3 and Eastman Kodak was off nearly 3.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange were mixed in moderate trading.

Lockheed Subsidiary Awarded Dam Work

SEATTLE — Puget Sound Bridge and Dry Dock Company, Lockheed Aircraft Corp.'s shipbuilding and construction subsidiary, last week took on the first stage of a major new water conservation project with receipt of a 10.5 million dollar contract to build Ruedi Dam across Fryingpan River in northern Colorado.

Ruedi Dam will be the first unit of the huge Arkansas-Fryingpan River project, a 12 year conservation plan that ultimately will store and divert water through tunnels across the continental divide, from western to eastern slopes of the Rocky Mountains.

Earnings Report

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Transamerica Corp. has reported 1964 first half earnings of $19,454,000, amounting to $1.12 a share. Earnings in the same period last year were $15,428,000 or 95 cents a share.

U.S. Soon To End Shortage Of Coinage

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's coin shortage probably will end early next year, a Treasury official said today.

Robert A. Wallace, assistant secretary of the treasury, said in an interview published by U.S. News and World Report that a big jump in production should put an end to most coin hoarding in a few months.

Wallace, who supervises the U.S. Mint, is to testify Tuesday before the Senate Finance Committee on the Treasury's proposal to continue the 1964 date on coins for an indefinite period. The thought is that producing a tremendous number of coins with the 1964 date, would tend to discourage hoarding by speculators and collectors.

He said the recent increase in the production schedule from 5 billion coins a year to 8 billion compares to a production of only 1.5 billion pieces five years ago.

Satellite Stock Dividends Won't Come Until '69

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A top official of the Communications Satellite Corp. said today the corporation probably would "get into the black" about 1968 but will not start paying dividends before 1969.

Leo D. Welch, chairman of the board of COMSAT, made the statement during a television program with Sen. Kenneth B. Keating of New York.

Welch said the corporation had at least 80,000 shareholders with holdings averaging between 15 and 25 shares.

However, he said, the number was expected to reach somewhere around 150,000 after the stock is distributed by the underwriting group.

Welch said most of those who bought the stock were believed to have bought it to hold over the long-term because of their belief that the satellite system will have "tremendous magnitude and coverage and therefore be capable of great development.

California Bank To Open In Libya

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Bank of America International said today it is establishing a new bank in oil-rich Libya.

The Sahara Bank will operate in Tripoli, engaging in both international and regular Libyan commercial banking.

WALL STREET

Firm Sees A Higher Market

NEW YORK (UPI) — Reynolds and Co. says "we are impressed with the way that the market has accepted the significant events which occurred at the Republican Convention."

"This suggests," Reynolds writes, "that investors are more concerned with the favorable business climate now prevailing than with outside influences . . ." The brokerage house expects the market to "work higher as the year progresses."

PERFORMS WELL

Bache and Co. notes "with market leadership of the highest caliber and strong fundamentals in evidence, the market continues to perform well." Bache looks for "the present upward trend to be extended in the months ahead."

BULL MARKET

Van Alstyne, Noel and Co. comments: "Certainly, at this point, there is no indication that the bull market is losing its impact. Rather it appears to be gaining strength as it moves along."

GREATER CARE

Hayden, Stone, Inc., says, "Although greater care and selectivity are almost mandatory in making new purchases at this point and a minor corrective setback should be expected at any time, there is no foundation for any general bearishness."

Citizens Federal Headquarters Refurbished

SAN FRANCISCO — Citizens Federal Savings and Loan Assn. will open formally its refurbished home office on Aug. 3, it was announced by F. Marion Donahoe, president.

The new 3 million dollar home office complex including the new tower erected at Market and Geary streets will offer guided tours and open house hospitality Aug. 3 to 10 during office hours to show the changes wrought in the historic building built in 1902.

A special exhibition by the Society of Western Artists will honor the occasion.

The California Historical Society will mark the old building with an appropriate plaque to be dedicated today.

In addition to five offices in San Francisco, Citizens has branches in San Jose, Santa Clara, Saratoga, Mountain View, Stanford, Oakland, Hayward, Pleasant Hill and San Rafael.

Department Stores Vote For Merger

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Merger of Los Angeles-based Bullock's Inc. with Federated Department Stores Inc., of Cincinnati, has been approved by Bullock's shareholders.

Walter W. Candy Jr., Bullock's president, said in making the announcement that the vote was 1,766,438 to 633,767 in favor of the move.

The vote represented 70 per cent of the 2,520,472 shares outstanding.

Federated, a nationwide chain has 50 stores and last Feb. 1 reported a net income for the previous year of 43.7 million dollars on net sales of 928.8 million dollars.

CALIFORNIAN UPSETS CHAMP

HE HAS WITNESSES TO PROVE IT

Nichols Does The Impossible In PGA

By JIM BECKER

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — If Bobby Nichols had fallen off a cliff he'd have won the high-diving championship on the way down.

This was the week when he could have gotten down in two strokes from the deck of a sinking ship.

There apparently is no oil in the area of the Columbus Country Club, or Nichols would have struck it with a seven-iron.

Life was like that for Nichols, the 28-year-old Louisville boy who won the PGA Golf Tournament yesterday by three strokes with a record total of 271, nine under par. About 71 of his shots were downright impossible.

"I couldn't believe them myself—but I have witnesses," Nichols said.

The baby-faced youngster, 6-foot-2 and 200 pounds, finished with an astounding 67 that held off an incredible 64 by defending champion Jack Nicklaus, who was playing before the home folks.

Nicklaus made up five strokes on Arnold Palmer in the final round, playing head-to-head with Palmer before an enormous gallery that trooped through the broiling Ohio sunshine.

They tied fro second, at 274, three strokes back.

That was the best finish yet for Palmer in the PGA, the only major title he has never won—but still no cigar for the general of Arnie's Army.

It made three runner-up finishes this year for Nicklaus in major championships, the Masters, the British Open, and the PGA, and meant that big Jack will not be around for the ultra-rich television world series which he won the last two years.

"It was probably the finest round of golf I ever played," Nicklaus said. "It just wasn't good enough."

So torrid was the pace that Mason Rudolph, the Tennessean who wears thick eye glasses, shot a 69—with nine threes on the card—and faded to fourth a 276, five strokes behind Nichols.

U.S. Open champion Ken Venturi, a tough man when it gets hot enough to poach eggs on the fairways, finished with 33 on the back nine for 69 and 279. He tied Tom Nieporte, a club pro from Locust Valley, N.Y., who went to Ohio State and won the NCAA Championship in Columbus back in 1951.

While Nicklaus was charging and Palmer was putting together a 69 in front of him, Nichols strode along behind, refusing to fold.

Lady Luck Finally Smiles On Giants

Independent-Journal Sports

Talent Also Helps In 4-2, 1-0 Sweep

National League pennants are won, it has often been said, by a combination of talent and luck.

The San Francisco Giants, who appeared short of either ingredient while suffering a five-game losing streak, enjoyed amand therefore find themselves ple amounts of both yesterday just four percentage points out of the league lead.

Hoping to improve their position further, the Giants today sent Bob Bolin, 3-4, against the Chicago Cubs and Ernie Broglio, 4-9, in the opener of a four-game series at Candlestick Park.

Lady Luck smiled on the Giants in the person of opposing catcher Johnny Bateman in the first game of yesterday's double header with the Houston Colts.

The break came with two out in the bottom half of the eighth inning and the score tied 2-2.

Righthander Dick Farrell, who had more than held his own against Giants' ace Juan Marichal, fired a swinging third strike past San Francisco's Orlando Cepeda.

The inning should have ended there, but to the Giants glee—and Bateman's discomfort — it didn't.

Jimmy Ray Hart took immediate advantage of the turn in fortune by slamming a Farrell pitch 450 feet for the homer that gave San Francisco a 4-2 victory.

The talent showed itself in the nightcap as pitchers Bob Hendley, Bob Shaw and Billy Pierce joined forces to out-hurl Houston's Hal (Skinny) Brown in a 1-0 cliff-hanger.

San Francisco scored the only run of the game in the first frame. Slump-ridden slugger Willie McCovey surprised the Colts by laying down a bunt for a single. Third-baseman Bob Aspromonte's hurried throw went astray for an error and McCovey ended up at second base.

Willie Mays, who had slugged his 29th homer in the opener, singled McCovey home.

Hendley and Brown dueled brilliantly thereafter until the Colts ninth, when a walk to Nellie Fox and a single by Carroll Hardy with none out chased Hendley.

Bond also went down swinging.

Dark named Gaylord Perry, Ron Herbel and Billy O'Dell as the starting pitchers to follow Bolin in the Cub series.

After playing Chicago, the Giants will embark on an 18-game road trip during which they'll face Los Angeles, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, New York, Cincinnati and St. Louis.

FOOTBALL SKILL—Carol Hardy (20), a former football players for the San Francisco 49ers but now an outfielder for the Houston Colts, shows his football talent with a hard slide into second base to take out Giant shortstop Jose Pagan in the ninth inning of the second game in yesterday's doubleheader at Candlestick Park. Hardy was out, but there wasn't a doubleplay. The umpire is Jocko Conlan. (AP Wirephoto)

CONNOLLY

After a soul-searching review, we discover the S.F. Giants (before today's game) have won more games (54) than any other club in the National League; have committed too many errors; are second from the top in runs scored; are eighth in team batting (.244), and are the most "punchy" ball players in captivity.

With a few more cauliflower ears spread around they could pass for an Olympic Games rasslin' aggregation—young, numb, dumb.

IN SPITE of these uncomplimentary attributes, the Giants today were only four percentage points out of first place after twice beating Houston yesterday.

Houston, a ninth place club, humbles our gang two in a row and YET, if you compare player for player on both clubs, there isn't a player on the Giants' roster you'd consider trading EVEN UP for any player with the Colts.

Five youngsters, potentially great, are regulars with the Giants—Jim Hart, Jesus Alou, Hal Lanier Gaylord Perry and Ron Herbel. They are so far ahead of the talent with the Colts it is ridiculous to compare them. The best players with the Colts are fighting extinction—just hanging onto the life raft of baseball to stay in big league ranks. They have what the Giant youngsters lack — KNOW-HOW. And the Giants show it by stumbling in the clutches, running wild in the clinches and thinking backwards under pressure.

WITHOUT any thought of deserting the Giant cause, one has to grudgingly admit they are a frustrating outfit. When hitting they look tremendous; when not hitting they look, act, think and disport themselves generally like wooden soldiers. But the "slumber bums" have color—they oversell themselves at times, and greatly under-sell themselves at other times. It's a queer set-up but a lovely one for amusement, entertainment and debate.

Let's summarize the reason for the upside-down playing of the Giants. It's hazardous but it has to be undertaken. I'd have to say my old pal Willie McCovey is to blame.

McCOVEY presents a serious problem, first for the Giants' success and next for his own future. Willie is so off-stride at the moment that he is "taking" perfect strikes and swinging wildly at "waste" balls. Always a dreamer, "Lovey Dovey" is commencing to talk in his sleep and he's been so busy talking he forgets how many outs there are or where he should throw the ball when it comes in his direction.

But McCovey is not alone to blame. Tom Haller, young and promising catcher, is also out of kilter both behind, and at, the plate.

Jose Pagan is an "if and but" performer. If his fielding is good, he's great. But if he isn't fielding he isn't hitting, he isn't thinking, and he's worse than any old off-track nag so many of us have bet on.

HAL LANIER, the baby in Giant swaddling clothes, has tightened up the inner defense by his spectacular fielding. If he can hit a dime's worth he might be worth his weight in diamonds.

Orlando Cepeda, great in streaks, sulks a lot and projects anything but a cheerful arrangement between himself and manager Al Dark. But it should blow over and quickly.

Jesus Alou is a sensational hitter for a guy who thrives on wild pitch hitting. If he could just cease crinking his neck and stop hitting at wild pitches, he'd be phenomenal. All he needs is something to slow down his nerves. Wonder if he'd mind trying a pill—any kind?

JIM HART (if Richie Allen of the Phils wasn't around, and glittering like the tower of jewels), mgiht be considered for the rookie of the year award. But Jim is hiding in the shadows of Allen's greatness and not too far back. In fact he might catch up with Allen before this season is over.

DEL CRANDALL, huffing and puffing along, still is the best receiver even if he isn't considered as good a hitter as Haller. He should be alternated, not sidelined, if the Giants are to realize the value of his presence.

But no one can tell Al Dark. He doesn't like to hear. And lately he listens like a guy hard of hearing.

EX-MARINITES IN PRO GRID CAMPS

The San Francisco 49ers, with former Tamalpais High star Matt Hazeltine, and the Oakland Raiders, with ex-Drake High standout Reg Carolan, are now in practice drills in preparation for the '64 season.

Hazeltine was among four 49er veterans who brought to 60 the number of players at the St. Mary's College site. There are five players missing from camp, two in the Army and three at the College All-Stars training camp.

The other three 49er vets to report were kicker Tommy Davis, reserve quarterback Lamar McHan and offensive end Monty Stickles. Hazeltine, the team captain, will be back at his familiar linebacker spodt this year for the National Football League team.

The 49ers were to start formal, two-a-day workouts today in preparation for the first scrimmage next Saturday. It was the first time in five years that all players invited to the San Francisco camp passed their physical examinations.

Carolan, a 6-6, 230-pound end, highlighted the opening of the Raider camp Saturday with his fine maneuverability and pass catching. It will be his first playing season with the Raiders. He was obtained from the San Diego Chargers last season but spent his time on the Raiders' taxi squad.

Thirty-four Raider first-year men and newly acquired veterans went through their second day of training yesterday. The same group will work out twice today and then be joined by 22 returning veterans tomorrow at the Santa Rosa training site.

Coach Al Davis will take his AFL squad into the classroom for two days of learning and reviewing plays. Outdoor workouts will resume Thursday.

Irish Golf Title Won By O'Connor

WOODBROOK, Ireland (AP) —Christy O'Connor of Ireland defeated Roberto De Vicenzo of Argentina with a birdie on the second extra hole yesterday and won the Irish golf tournament in a sudden-death playoff.

They had tied at 268 for the regulation 72 holes after O'Connor shot 66-71 and De Vicenzo 72-69 for the last 36 holes over the 6,092-yard Woodbrook course.

NATIONAL LEAGUE RACE

Streaking Braves Climb

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

John Bateman and Johnny Callison played give-and-take with the National League lead but the Milwaukee Braves made their mark playing leap-frog.

Houston catcher Bateman flubbed a two-out third strike in the first game of yesterday's doubleheader against San Francisco and two pitches later Jim Ray Hart homered for a 4-2 Giants victory.

The Giants also won the nightcap 1-0 and had the league lead in their grasp until Philadelphia's Callison took it away from them.

The Phils had dropped their doubleheader opener to Cincinnati 7-4 and were trailing 2-1 in the second game when the Giants-Colts final was posted on the scoreboard.

Then Callison duplicated his All-Star game heroics with a three-run ninth inning homer. The Phils held on for a 4-3 verdict and a first place margin of four percentage points over the Giants.

The torrid Braves trimmed Pittsburgh twice 6-2 and 5-4 and climbed from a tie for sixth place into fourth, six games off the pace.

They now have won 10 of their last 13 games and 16 of their last 22.

Elsewhere in the NL, the Chicago Cubs pounded out 27 hits for 8-2 and 9-1 decisions over the Los Angeles Dodgers while St. Louis rallied for four ninth inning runs and edged the New York Mets 7-6 in the second of a pair after the Mets won the opener 3-2.

Callison's 15th homer, off reliever Bill Henry, followed a single by Clay Dalrymple and a walk to Cookie Rojas. The Reds rallied for a run in the bottom of the ninth but Chris Short came out of the bullpen and got Vada Pinson to hit into a game-ending force play.

Pinson's second triple, a single by Deron Johnson and Don Pavletich's two-run homer overcame a 4-3 deficit in the eighth inning of the opener.

Frank Bolling drove in three Milwaukee runs with two singles in the first game and Tony Cloninger tossed a six-hitter.

Bolling doubled in two more runs in the nightcap. Hank Fischer relieved starter Denny Lemaster in the sixth inning and blanked the Pirates the rest of the way.

CUBS SWEEP

Dick Ellsworth pitched a five-hitter against the Dodgers in the opener and the Cubs collected a dozen hits, including two run homers by Ernie Banks and Billy Williams.

Lew Burdette allowed six hits in the second game and Ron Santo went 3-for-5, including his 17th homer, to lead the 15-hit attack. Burdette, making his 350th NL start, won his sixth game in eight decisions.

Dick Groat's fourth hit of the second game scored Ken Boyer with the winning run and capped the Cardinals' ninth inning explosion. Boyer had doubled home Lou Brock for a 6-6 tie.

All three Met runs in the opener were unearned. Jack Fisher scattered eight hits for the victory.

HOUSTON COLT GETS HARD BUMP ON HEAD

Angels Crash A. L. First Division

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

People can say a lot of things about Dean Chance, but one thing they have to say is he's patriotic.

The ace right-hander pitched his third straight shutout and sixth of the season yesterday as the Angels stopped Minnesota 4-0 for a sweep of their doubleheader and moved into the American League's first division for the first time since the first week of the season. The Angels won the first game 8-6.

Chance, whose nights—and early mornings—on the town with teammate Bo Belinsky threatened to become legend in their time, hasn't allowed a run in 27 innings since he started for the AL in the All-Star Game.

In a nine-day period, he blanked Chicago on four hits, Detroit on five and Minnesota on four. And while increasing his record to 8-5, he has reduced his earned run average to 1.76, best in the majors.

Only Whitey Ford, 12-3, has more shutouts this season. The Yankee veteran has seven, but he has made four more starts than Chance.

Meanwhile, Ford and his New York teammates were the victims of another shutout. Cleveland's Luis Tiant, a 23-year-old Cuban right-hander, stopped the Yankees 3-0 on four hits in his first major league game. The Yankees won the opener 6-2.

Not so fortunate as Chance and Tiant was Wes Stock, a reliever whose 12-game winning streak was halted by the Chicago White Sox 3-2 in 13 innings. Stock hadn't lost since July 12, 1962. Chicago also won the second game 4-3, moving into second place, one game behind league-leading Baltimore.

The Orioles edged Detroit 5-4 while Washington nipped Boston 5-4 in 10 innings after losing the opener 11-10 in other AL action.

Chance walked one and permitted only one runner past first base in the nightcap. His main support came from Joe Adcock, who slammed two bases-empty home runs. Lou Clinton homered following Adcock's first blast in the second inning.

Adcock drove in four runs with a double and a single in the opener as the Angels built an 8-0 lead. Helped by shortstop Jim Fregosi's two-out error, though, the Twins rallied for six unearned runs in the seventh. Rich Rollins hit his first career grand slam, and Harmon Killebrew added his 33rd homer, a two-run blast.

Tiant, brought up by the Indians only last Friday, allowed only a bunt single by Tom Tresh in the first five innings. He struck out 11 and walked four as he outpitched Ford. The Yankee southpaw exhibited unusual wildness, walking three Indians in the first inning, the last one forcing in a run.

Clete Boyer and Tresh each drove in two runs in the opener for New York while Roland Sheldon scattered seven hits. Two of the hits were homers by Tito Francona and Larry Brown in the second.

Stock, who had won four games this season, was the victim of a two-run pinch-hit homer by pitcher Gary Peters in the 13th. Peters twice fouled off pitches attempting to bunt before connecting. Athletics' starter Diego Segui gave up a bunt single in the first, then held the White Sox hitless until he left after walking the leadoff batter in the ninth.

Dave Nicholson's two-run homer and Ron Hansen's solo blast offset Rocky Colvaito's bases-empty homer and Jim Gentile's two-run homer for the A's in the second game.

Baltimore got solo homers from Boog Powell, Sam Bowens and Charley Lau in the only single game on the majors' busiest day of the year. Rookie Wally Bunker won his 10th game against two defeats although he needed relief help. Jerry Lumpe, Dick McAuliffe and Bill Freehan homered for the Tigers.

Mike Brunley's two-out single in the 10th inning gave the Senators a second-game victory. Boston scored three runs with the help of three Washington errors, two by Ed Brinkman, who homered and scored the winning run after singling.

Don Lock drove in six Washington runs in the doubleheader with two homers in the opener, two doubles and a single. His first-game hitting was overshadowed by Ed Bressoud's three-run homer, two-run homers by Tony Conigliaro and Felix Mantilla and solo blasts by Carl Yastrzemski and Dick Stuart, all for the Red Sox.

Billings-Hutchison Hikes League Lead

Tiburon Walks To 21-15 Win

The Tiburon Sox beat the Mill Valley Merchants 21-15 and didn't have to score a touchdown to do it.

Advance publicity called for a baseball game, not football, but you couldn't prove it by the final outcome. It was part of yesterday's action in the Marin County Semi-Pro Baseball League.

The loss dropped the second place merchants 2½ games behind league-leading Billings-Hutchison.

Tiburon scored its 21 runs on only 12 hits. The 22 bases on balls given up by the Mill Valley hurling staff "may" have helped, however. In all, there were a total of 53 base runners in that weird thing that lasted close to five hours on the Project 17 diamond in Mill Valley.

Four of the Tiburon runs scored on a grand slam homer by player-manager Norm Kreuter. Robin Prosch of Tiburon also smashed a home run, that one with the bases empty.

San Anselmo Baseballers Top Fairfax

Evening their record at three wins and three losses, the San Anselmo Merchants outdid DeMaestri's Fairfax Garage 7-5 yesterday in Marin County Semi-Pro Baseball League action on San Anselmo's Memorial Field.

The Merchants got off to a 7-2 lead early in the game and stayed on top. Rich Curry did his best to help the Garagemen by hitting a three-run homer in the ninth inning to narrow the gap to 7-5, but it wasn't enough for victory.

Great defensive plays were turned in by outfielder Lorry Galassi and infielder Larry Kline for the Merchants. Kline and Mike Moran each had three singles for San Anselmo. Vince Pallavicini paced the Fairfax team with a triple and double.

Winning pitcher Steve Miller struck out 11 and allowed 10 hits. In relief of Fairfax losing pitcher Laddie Richardson, Gary Johnson struck out 9 of the 11 batters he faced.

B-H Builders Nip Novak Nine, 6-5

Remaining undefeated in Marin County Semi-Pro Baseball League action, the Billings-Hutchison Builders won a squeaker from the Novak Builders of Novato yesterday 6-5 on the losers' diamond.

Things were going fine for the B-H nine for the first seven innings as it carried a fat 6-0 lead. But a four-run rally by Novak in the eighth inning and another run in the ninth frame quickly narrowed the gap.

When relief pitcher Jerry DeRosa struck out the final Novato batter, the tying run was on third base and the potential winning run was on second. Paul Chaffee got his first league victory on the mound for B-H and Novak's southpaw Art Meyer was tagged with the loss.

Ron Blum had a pair of singles and Chaffee helped his own cause with a two-run single to highlight the Billings-Hutchison attack.

DeRosa was credited with the save, taking over for Nino Geminiani who allowed all of the Novak runs in the bottom two innings.

NAT'L CLAY COURTS

Ralston Upsets His Pal Chuck McKinley

RIVER FOREST, Ill. (AP)—Chuck McKinley and Dennis Ralston again will be Uncle Sam's one-two punch—take your pick—in the Davis Cup Challenge Round in Cleveland Sept. 25-27.

After Ralston's stinging upset of top-ranked McKinley for the National Clay Courts title yesterday, it's now a toss-up which may be the biggest gun in the U.S. Davis Cup defense.

Ralston, a half-foot taller, needed only 64 minutes to polish off the 5-foot-8 McKinley in straight sets, 6-2, 6-2, 6-1 McKinley's touted service was broken seven times.

That smashed McKinley's bid to become the first three-straight national clay court champ since Bobby Riggs did it in 1937-38. It also reversed last year's final when McKinley beat Ralston 6-2, 6-2, 6-4.

But the outcome failed to ruffle the buddy act between McKinley and Ralston, who between them accounted for the 3-2 Davis Cup dethroning of Australia last year and brought the Cup to America for the first time since 1959.

"I couldn't keep the ball in the court, which I guess you have to blame on Denny's fine play," commented McKinley. The nation's No. 1 and No. 2 ranked players now have split four meetings.

In the national indoors, McKinley beat Ralston in 1962 and the two-time NCAA champion from Southern California downed Chuck in 1963.

Shortly after Ralston's precise play had McKinley mumbling such self-reprimands as "I should have stayed in bed," the two teamed to dethrone Northwestern University's Big Ten pair of Marty Riessen and Clark Graebner, 6-1, 6-4, 6-2 for the clay court doubles title.

The women's singles crown easily was recaptured by Nancy Richey, daughter of a Dallas tennis pro, whose varied game bewildered newly wed Carole Caldwell Graebner, 6-2, 6-1.

Vic Seixas, the non-playing U.S. Davis Cup team captain, said Sunday's result made small difference in looking ahead to this nation's cup defense in Cleveland.

"It's obvious Ralston and McKinley, in either order, will be the nucleus of our squad," said Seixas, seven-year Challenge Round player.

"The big thing about this River Forest tourney is that it was an excellent test of our top talent on the same type of courts we'll play on at Cleveland," he added.

Seixas said his four-member Challenge Round squad will be selected, probably, at the close of the national singles at Forest Hills, Sept. 2-13.

Marin Softball Teams Eliminated In Cal Tourney

Scores of 2-1 proved to be unlucky for the two Marin County teams in the District Finals of the California State Softball Tournament at Santa Rosa last week as the Sohner Tree Service and Fairchild teams were eliminated aby those margins.

Marin star of the tourney was Fairchild third baseman Ron McCamish who slugged 10 hits in 15 at-bats, including two doubles and a triple. He also drove across eight runs.

Fairchild won three games and lost two.

Nichols To Build A Shrine

Ben," Nichols said. "He was an inspiration to me."

Hogan—who didn't know him—wrote Nichols an inspirational letter when Nichols was recovering from an automobile accident that appeared to have ruined his athletic carrer in 1952.

Hogan had recovered from a similar accident shortly before.

"A high school teacher of mine wrote to Hogan, and Hogan wrote to me," Nichols said. "I still have the letter."

Nichols also played with Hogan when he was a college senior at Texas A&M.

EXTRA THRILL

"It was an extra thrill to play with him in the final of a major championship," Nichols said.

Nichols certainly played like a man inspired.

He knocked in putts from all over the greens. On the second hole his tee shot was headed out of bounds, crashed into a tree and wound up in the middle of the fairway. He made a birdie 3.

At the 10th hole, when he was temporarily tied with Palmer and Rudolph, Nichols went ahead for good with an eagle putt from 35 feet.

"When I made that putt, downhill, I knew I couldn't lose," Nichols said.

But there was more to come. At the 15th, Nichols drove into the rough, and produced "my best shot of the tournament"—a four iron that ran clear to the green. He promptly dropped an 18-footer for a birdie.

That was the way things had been going all week. Time and again during the tournament, Nichols made par or birdie from deep rough, sand traps or even the wrong fairway.

Once he hit the flag stick when he couldn't even see it.

With the pressure deepening, Nichols hit into a trap at 16, came out strong and made a 15-footer for a par. And on the short 17th, he knocked in a putt that he stepped off at 51 feet.

That ended it.

The victory was worth $18,000 in prize money for Nichols, plus twice that in immediate extra benefits.

Some of the money will go to a shrine to St. Jude. "I sort of promised that I would build one if I won," Nichols said.

St. Jude is the patron saint of the impossible.

Middleweight Feature In S.F. Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Middleweight Jimmy Lester of San Francisco will put his string of 11 straight victories—all but one by knockout—on the line tonight against tough Frank Niblett of Monterey at Kezar Pavilion.

Niblett has built a reputation as a spoiler with knockout triumphs over promising San Francisco prospects Hal Derouen and Bobby Pasquale over the past two years.

In a companion 10-rounder, light-heavyweight Norm Letcher, a student at San Francisco State, will battle Luther Davis of Reno, light-heavy champ of Nevada.

Three six-round matches also are on the night's card starting at 8:30 o'clock.

It seems to me . . .

by Lou Concilio

No Rest for the Swingers, Either

I've got a strong hunch I can win a few points right at the start by assuring you good people I will not mention politics, conventions, or even strife. And my gift of oratory is suspect. I would much rather talk and write about topics more familiar to me. Like selling Fords. Now, here's a topic both familiar and mysterious. Here I go straddling a fence like a politician, after I promised.

Back to the right—or is it left? Either way, this business of selling Fords at Ames Ford is fascinating. This is why the good wife is kinda jealous of the business. It gets to be pretty all-consuming. But then, how do you dismiss, even briefly, something that has been so good to you and for you? How do you turn it off at twilight, and greet it casually in the morning? In seventeen years I've never been able to find out a way. I am hooked, but good.

You see, I've got a lot of things to prove, and a lot of people to convince. Not the least of the latter is my very good friend and signal-caller, Doug Cowan. Now, his sometimes skepticism of my oft-way-out notions of merchandising is not without considerable justification. After all, he originally hired me as his business manager 'way back in '57, and he never considered at that time what a kooky and incorrigible monster would eventually emerge from the apparent harmless cocoon of a scrawny bookkeeper.

Doug could have gotten a hint of things to come from my almost arrogant letter of application at that time which stated briefly, but completely, "You don't have to look further for a business manager. I'm your man! Call me and find out." He did—and did. Find out, that is. Privately, and safely out of my range of hearing, he has been known to admit he hasn't regretted his decision. Publicly, often, and loudly enough for anyone to hear, I am darned happy he did!

Doug Cowan and I make what the pulp magazines like to call a compatible balance. He is progressive, aggressive, and a bit apprehensive. I am progressive, aggressive, and a bit recklessly optimistic. He is President of Ames Ford, a majority stockholder, and a big man. I am Vice-President, a minority stockholder, and a little runt. And so, as a matter of fact, we haven't missed, at Ames Ford. We keep selling more and more, every suceeding month, and it's hard to remember back a few years when today's performance wasn't even considered possible. Our staff of sales managers and exuberant salesmen have played no small role in this success story, by any means. Doug and I could do little without the wholehearted support and follow-through of this happy band, and we have it, in abundance.

So it is we keep setting new records, and factory and "competition" scratch their collective heads in wonder. No secret to it, really. The credo is almost too simple: Don't try to make it all in big chunks, and deliver as advertised or represented. Our "competition" who scoff, while moaning about dullsville in their showrooms and car lots are welcome to visit and see, first-hand, our droves of happy customers leading their friends into our showroom by the hand.

And with all the activity creating a rather constant turmoil at Ames Ford, we are sometimes tired—but always happy. I am particularly blessed with the opportunity to pursue consuming interests in writing and advertising and still make a very comfortable living. Doug Cowan is happy, too. He likes the way his policies are carried out. And, he loves to needle me.

Four Tiburon Peninsula Residents Become Citizens

Four Tiburon Peninsula residents have recently become citizens of the United States, including one who came just to study and "stayed on and on."

Mrs. Elizabeth Luthringer Dreyer, 705 Hilary Drive, Tiburon, arrived in this country in 1951 to study at University of Utah. She came to San Francisco a year later on a "leisurely trip trough the U.S."—but made a permanent stop when she met Charles G. Dreyer and married him two months later.

Mrs. Dreyer became a citizen on June 23, the day Tiburon was incorporated, she noted. Neighbors helped the couple to celebrate by bringing out a bottle of champagne—California champagne.

Also receiving citizenship in recent ceremonies in U.S. Federal Court in San Francisco were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bax-Stevens, apt. GF, 34 Circle Drive, on the peninsula.

Mr. and Mrs. Stevens came to the United States from the Netherlands five years ago and have resided in the Bay Area since then.

Mrs. James A. Fish, 4131 Paradise Drive, another peninsula resident, gave up citizenship in Thailand to become an American. Mrs. Yowapa (the name means, approximately, "young") Fish met her husband in Thailand and they were married there. He was working as an electrical engineer in the country when they met about seven years ago.

Something new in entertainment has been planned for Saturday when the board of directors of Sunny Hills sponsors a combination carnival, fashion show and country auction from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. on the Grape Festival grounds.

Sunny Hills community friends as well as its 40 guilds are providing workers and donating auction items.

THIS IS a fund raising event for Sunny Hills' thrift shop, the Bargain Box, whose proceeds go to the building fund. The 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. carnival is designed to give boys and girls living at Sunny Hills an opportunity to participate personally in a program for the home. Turk Murphy's Dixieland band will enliven the carnival atmosphere beginning at 11 a.m. The young people of the home will provide tumbling clowns, booths for games of skill, craft displays and music. Announcer Dave Niles will be on hand to conduct interviews.

MRS. DONALD PERRY, Mrs. Wallace Hickman and Mrs. Bullard Nugent of the board of directors will vend hotdogs and coffee. Ross-Brookwood Guild, headed by Mrs. Frank McGrane will spin cotton candy. The Ross Valley Guild will provide soft drinks under the chairmanship of Mrs. E. Cargill Hall. Mrs. C. F. Berlenbach and the Fairfax Guild will sell ice-cream "blobs." There will also be a sandwich wagon on the grounds.

Mrs. Hamilton's co-workers at the Book Booth will be Mesdames William Blair, Frank Brown, Headley Brown, John Daly, Guy Gale, Frank Gloistein George Mallory, James A. Sunny Hills recently broke ground for its new plant in the hills behind the old buildings, and this event is the first to benefit this building project.

THE SUBURBAN SCENE

Marin An Entertaining Place

SAUSALITANS Mr. and Mrs. R. Jerrold Hooper are planning a gathering of the clan—about 45 members—including their daughter, Mrs. M. E. Hauser and her children, Andrea and Eric, who arrived in Marin from Woodstock, N. Y. by plane on Saturday.

ENTERTAINING THE Minnesota delegation to the GOP Gov. Elmer L. Anderson, with his wife and daughter, on Friday night were the Kenneth Merklins of Tiburon. After a reception at the Merklin home the group went on to dinner in Sausalito. Other guests were the national committeewoman from the state Mrs. Russell T. Lund, Mr. and Mrs. George Edsel and their daughters, and Young Republicans president Leonard Nadasy and his wife.

The reception was a reunion with her friends for the Merklins, who came to Marin in December from northern Minnesota, where Mrs. Merklin was a member of the state central committee.

DR. AND MRS. Robert Scarborough will do some entertaining next month since it will be Dr. Scarborough's vacation, and they have decided to spend it at home and see more of their friends.

Sunday they will have a family dinner at their home in Sausalito for ten with Mr. and Mrs. David Merrell and their four children from St. Paul, Minn., as special guests. Mr. Merrell is a professor of biology teaching in the summer session at the University of California.

Among Marin guests who will be included in the series of August parties are Messrs. and Mesdames C. M. Kretchmer and James Madison of Belvedere, Ted Baker and Victor Hecht of Sausalito and Mrs. T. L. Wark of Greenbrae and her house guest from Southern California.

Mrs. Scarborough is also busy preparing for her one-man show of paintings at the Tiki Shop in Sausalito during the month of August.

WHILE DR. MANUEL F. Allende of Sausalito is serving a month's duty on the hospital ship HOPE at Guayaquil, Ecuador, Mrs. Allende and her children, Katie and Jeffrey, will spend part of the time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Preston Hotchkis of Pasadena. When Dr. Allende return, they will be at Sea Drift, Stinson Beach, for several weeks.

MR. AND MRS. Cruise Time Sunday For Mannequins

The Mannequin League of Marin will embark on cocktail-cruise three on Sunday, aboard Edward Veitch's "Arequipa" and Marshall Smith's "Sahiba."

The original cruise party was given in celebration of the organizing of the Mannequin League in the fall of 1959, aboard Captain Veitch's cabin cruiser. Two years later another outing on the bay was given for league members and their husbands also aboard the "Arequipa."

This year's event will have a "Nautical Notions" theme and two skippers, with a possible third (Gene Ayer has offered his "Lisa") will host the party along with league hostesses, Mrs. William Deeths and Mrs. John Minges (Rhoda Denton) founding members of the modeling group.

Mrs. Robert Bernheim is chairman of the July 26 cocktail cruise, which will get underway at 4:30 p.m., from the St. Francis Yacht Club in San Francisco. The cruisers will rendezvous at Hospital Cove, Angel Island, where anchors will be dropped and the cocktail flags hoisted. Dinner at the St. Francis Yacht Club will follow the cruise.

COAT WITH SUIT LOOK

Choosing Eye Glass Frames

Glamor and glasses go beautifully together if you choose a flattering style frame in a color that really is becoming.

What color frames are best for you? The only way to find out is to try on a variety of colors and styles. Choose the glasses that go with your complexion, your eyes, your hair. Neutral shades are nice for daily wear. The amber and tortoise frames go well with brunettes. Pastels and darker shades flatter blondes and redheads.

It's a good idea to have at least two pairs of your regular glasses plus a pair of prescription sun glasses. If your budget allows another pair, try the jewel-trimmed silvery or golden-colored frames for those very dressy occasions.

Use enough make-up . . . but use it carefully. Be sure make-up and rouge are smoothly blended. That means blending above lower rims of glasses. Choose frames that go with your eyebrow line. Double check mascara and eye shadow after you put your glasses back on. Lenses can magnify and change the look of your eye makeup.

Glasses are also an accessory, so don't overdo with fussy hair styles, fancy hats and dangling earrings. A soft, feminine hair style is the perfect setting.

LESLIE ANN NOBLE of San Rafael will be graduated from St. Luke's Hospital School of Nursing on Friday. In her senior year she was class representative on the student council.

A RECEPTION on the terrace at Maple Lawn, San Rafael was given for Mr. and Mrs. Roger E. Dell-'Era after their wedding at the First Presbyterian Church in San Rafael. The bride is the former Susan Williams, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Williams. Bonnie Hoag of San Anselmo acted as maid of honor and serving as best man was the bride's brother, George Williams of San Rafael. (Kee Coleman photo)

Statistics Can Mislead In Smoking, Says Physician

NEW YORK (UPI)—In a study of 5,381 white women members of the Kaiser Foundation Health Plan, Dr. Jacob Yerushalmy, of the University of California, found that almost twice as many smokers as non-smokers failed to carry their babies to term.

The ratio, as reported in "Medical Tribune," a publication for doctors: 6.4 per cent prematures among smokers, 3.5 among non-smokers.

However, the mortality rate for the premature infants of non-smokers was strikingly higher—232.1 per 1,000 against 137.7 per 1,000 for those of smokers.

What is the significance? Are premature babies of mothers who smoke hardier than those of abstainers?

Most unlikely, said Dr. Yerushalmy. He said he cited the figures merely to show how, in connection with smoking, statistics can mislead.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Listen To Your Uncle To Take Winning Finesse In Bridge Game

The day I graduated from grade school my favorite uncle told me how to conduct my life.

"Don't waste your time losing," he said. "Just concentrate on winning." Remember this advice when you take a finesse.

Opening lead — ♡ 7

When this hand was played, Fred Karpin reports in his fine new paperback "Winning Play in Contract Bridge," dummy's king of hearts won the first trick. Declarer then led the queen of spades from dummy for a finesse.

FAVORITE UNCLE

As you can see, this player didn't have a favorite uncle to guide him. The foolish finesse lost, and South went down. Back came a second heart, and the defenders managed to get one trick in each suit.

Karpin points out that the correct play is to win the first trick with the ace of hearts and lead a low club at once. Since West has the king of clubs, this is a finesse that wins.

TAKES KING

West must take his king of clubs at once when declarer makes the correct play.

If West returns a heart to dummy's king, declarer cashes dummy's queen of clubs and leads a spade to the ace — not wasting any time on the losing finesse.

South then cashes the ace of clubs to get rid of dummy's low heart. The rest is easy, since South does not have to lose a heart trick. He loses only one trump, one diamond, and one club.

CLUB PLAY

How does South know that the club play will work and that the spade play will lose? My uncle told me that too.

If South tries the club play and discovers that it works he no longer needs the spade finesse. If the club play loses, South will still be in position to take the spade finesse.

What if both black kings are in unfavorable position? "That's your problem," my uncle told me. "Don't expect too much from an uncle."

QUESTION

You have opened the bidding with one spade, and partner has responded 1 NT.

It is once more up to you, holding:

♠ A J 10 7 5
♡ A 6 4
◆ A 2
♣ A 8 2

Answer: Bid 2 NT.

This promises about 17 or 18 points and asks partner to go on to game if he has 9 or 10 points, or perhaps even a good-looking 8 points.

ALMANAC

Today is Monday, July 20, the 202nd day of 1964 with 164 to follow.

The moon is approaching its full phase; the morning stars are Jupiter, Saturn, Venus and Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1894, federal troops were withdrawn from Chicago as the country's most bitter labor dispute of that day—the Pullman strike was broken.

In 1917, Secretary of War Newton Baker drew the first draft number for World War I. It was 258.

In 1940, Congress approved a four-million-dollar appropriations bill making possible a two-ocean U.S. Navy.

In 1945, the U.S. flag was raised over Berlin and the first American troops prepared to participate in the occupational government.

Malaria Mutation Foils U.S. Drugs, Raises Fears

By CHARLES SCHAEFFER
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — Medical scientists are waging biological war against a new strain of malaria that has cropped up among Americans stationed in Vietnam and elsewhere in the tropical world.

Army spokesmen said the service is "very definitely concerned" but not alarmed about the appearance of the strain, which is resistant to synthetic drugs. The Army periodically has fallen back on the old standby quinine to fight cases showing no response to chloroquine, a drug very effective until the resistant parasites appeared.

Concern over the debilitating disease flared anew when a malaria drug expert said malaria control has been set back 25 years because modern drugs are no longer effective against its deadliest form. Dr. Joseph H. Burckhalter of the University of Michigan, developer of the drug amodiaquine, says resistant malaria in only three years has leapfrogged from South America to Africa and to Malaya and Vietnam.

When the mosquito-transmitted disease hit a Cambodian village last year, more than one-third of the victims did not respond to any of three modern drugs, chloroquine, amodiaquine and primaquine, he said. There have been previous reports of appearance of the drug-resistant malaria and the Army acknowledged its presence a number of months ago.

Malaria is an often acute (but sometimes chronic) disease, commonly beginning with malaise, shaking chills, fever, headache, nausea and profuse sweating. It is transmitted from human to human by the female anopheles mosquito. When the insect bites a malaria carrier, it sucks in parasite spores along with blood and later injects them into the next unsuspecting victim.

Nearly half of the world's population are malaria risks, says Dr. Lee Howard, head of malaria eradication program for the Agency of International Development (AID). The disease once afflicted southern parts of the United States, but since 1950 has been no problem. Nevertheless, he cautions, 100 cases reported recently in a Mexican province just below the border indicates the disease could be re-seeded here.

Untreated malaria victims can die — and thousands do each year. However, nine out of ten victims walk around unaware that they have had malaria. Adequate doses of modern drugs can completely cure non-resistant malaria. Yet some stubborn cases hang on for months and years.

Over a year, the U. S. Public Health Service unveiled an even newer experimental drug, CI 105, which was billed as a kind of white hope against malaria. An announcement said a "single injection" protected prisoner volunteers for a year.

Field trials of the compound in West Pakistan have been abandoned because the drug was showing no more effect against the resistant strain than chlorquine, it was learned. It works against non-resistant types.

CI 105's failure, however, did not surprise AID's Dr. Lee, Col. William D. Tiggert, director of medical research at Walter Reed here, or Dr. Robert G. Coatney of the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases (NIAID). They agree that its chemical similarity to chloriquine indicated this would happen.

Dr. Coatney observed one of the first patients stricken with resistant malaria, an oil company employee working in the Magdalena Valley of Colombia, South America. When treatment in Bogota failed, the victim was rushed to Dallas, Tex., where doctors saved his life with quinine.

Quinine, however, is no answer to the new dilemma, say Michigan's Dr. Burckhalter and Dr. Coatney. For one thing, long-term therapy causes tinnitus, or ringing in the ears, and can wither the optic nerve. It is costly, effective only 30 hours and is in short supply because many plantation owners have stopped growing the cinchona tree whose bark produces quinine. (The Army says it has quinine "in its supply system" and is giving chloriquine once a week in Vietnam as a preventive; AID's Dr. Lee believes quinine can be obtained if it is needed).

Contraceptive Pill Still Hot Issue After Decade

In a world facing a gain of 128,000 a day, 48 million a year, a population of 6½ billion by the year 2000 it is man's most ingenious means of birth control—the most effective and the most talked about.

It worries a lot of people, angers some, brings hope to others and has caused some reconsideration of social attitudes.

From the day the first woman took the oral contraceptive pill in December of 1954, it has been a subject of controversy.

Will it destroy social mores and create a promiscuous world?

Will it cause cancer in women? Is it against nature?

Despite the questions and arguments the pill has become a daily habit for six million women over the world—half of them Americans.

And in just over six years on the U. S. prescription market, it has become a major weapon in the arsenal of birth control devices. Its true usage is hard to measure.

The highest per capita use is in Australia. The Egyptian government and others pass out pills to mothers who want to limit the size of their families.

Even now, the pill and other methods of birth control are under study at the highest levels of the Vatican.

However a change in the traditional Roman Catholic view toward birth control is considered unlikely—Pope Pius XII called the use of the pill "illicit sterilization." Pope Paul VI in recent weeks indicated that was little reason to change the Catholic position.

Yet some Catholic women do take the pill—as Church leaders admit. They insist, however, that any attempt to offer statistics on the number is foolhardy.

Today, the U. S. birth rate is falling. The pill has been named as the major cause. But Dr. Gregory Pincus of the Worcester Foundation for Experimental Biology, Shrews-Mass., thinks this unlikely. He is a co-developer of the pill, which was developed at the foundation.

Population experts agree with Dr. Pincus. The cause for the falling U. S. birth rate, they say, is simply that today's women want smaller, more manageable families in keeping with their financial status. The whole list of birth control devices and methods is used.

Dr. Alan F. Guttmacher of New York's Mt. Sinai Hospital cites 1960 statistics showing that at least 80 out of every 100 American married couples practice some means of birth control —from mechanical devices to the pill, to the Catholic-approved rhythm method.

Essentially the pill mimics the state of pregnancy—where there can be no further conception. The pill prevents ovulation—the release of eggs from the ovaries. The woman takes a pill each day for 20 days.

In preganancy, the hormone progesterone—and perhaps to some extent the sex hormone estrogen—inhibit ovulation. With the pill, synthetics of the natural hormones do the same thing.

Today, a woman can receive a month's supply of pills for about $2.00, Dr. Pincus estimates. Newer pills on the market use diminishing amounts of the hormones, but get the same effects.

There was a recent report that laboratory animals which were fed a common U. S. birth control pill showed accelrated growth of existing tumors. But Dr. Pincus said that it has long been known that many animal cancers are dependent on hormones—can be slowed by hormone preparations in one strength.

Studies on volunteer groups of women show, however, that use of the pills may actually inhibit the normal rate of cancers of the female reproductive tract, Dr. Pincus said. He added that in Haiti and other test areas, doctors have found fewer signs of suspicious cells in regular medical checkups of pill users.

As more experience has been gained since the first licensed pill, in 1957, the pills have become smaller and cheaper. Manufacturers have cut the dosage at least three-fourths since that first pill.

There are 30 trade names available on the world market —representing about 10 separate drugs, Dr. Pincus says.

In the United States, the Food and Drug Administration's index lists four firms licensed to sell six kinds of pills, most of them similar.

There is a scarcity of information on the effects of oral contraceptives on social or sexual mores of those taking them. Dr. Pincus says this is one area where research is badly needed.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Legend Of Bearded Woman May Have Basis In Scientific Fact

VAN DELLEN

This is the feast day of St. Uncumber, who was able to disencumber herself of an unwanted suitor by growing a beard. Although hagiologists place no credence in the story and refuse to include her in the catalog of saints, the legend of her ability to help women rid themselves of unwanted mates has been popular in Europe for 500 years. Westminster Abbey contains a statue of St. Uncumber.

THIS SPANISH girl was born around 130 A.D. Her father, the prefect of Galicia, pledged her in marriage to the king of Sicily. The young lady prayed for deliverance from this betrothal, and the answer came in the form of a growth of whiskers on her face. The king got the message and returned home but the father was so enraged he had his daughter crucified.

Tapestries and murals of Uncumber were popular in the 15th and 16th centuries. A village in Bavaria venerates a carved wooden altarpiece, fully equipped with crown and beard. Miraculous events are said to have occurred there even though ecclesiastics pronounced the legend a worthless and impossible religious romance perpetrated by simple people of the early Christian era.

THIS IS WHERE the story stood for centuries, according to Harry S. Lipscomb and Hebbel E. Hoff, writing in the Bulletin of the History of Medicine. About five years ago, an endocrinologist published an article in a scientific journal titled "Adrenocortical Hyperfunction with Sudden Onset of Hirsutism."

In brief, this paper described the plight of a 23-year-old woman who was under great stress because of an extramarital problem. In less than a month's time she developed "a luxuriant growth of body hair." Superfluous hair in women frequently is associated with various glandular disturbances but the growth rarely appears as rapidly as in the two cases cited.

ALL THIS PROVES again that history has a way of repeating itself. Many of the events that are classified as mythology contained a shred of truth. St. Uncumber may yet make a hagiography.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

EXERCISE AND ARTHRITIS

M. P. writes: Isn't it harmful for a woman with crippling arthritis of the hands and feet to do her son's laundry every week? This includes ironing at least 10 white shirts.

REPLY

Only when the activity aggravates the condition. But many victims of arthritis are helped by work of this type because it limbers the joints and tones the muscles.

CIRRHOSIS AND ALCOHOL

R. B. writes: If an alcoholic eats nutritious meals, is he less likely to develop cirrhosis of the liver?

REPLY

This is a moot question because cirrhosis develops in alcoholics who eat well, as well as in those who subsist on booze and coffee. The current opinion is that drinkers who don't neglect their meals are less likely to develop cirrhosis.

ALLERGY MORE LIKELY

Mr. Y. writes: Would smoking and drinking aggravate eczema?

REPLY

SUPPORT UNNECESSARY

Mrs. B. writes: Will a man have to wear a support of any kind after a hernia operation?

REPLY

Not after the wound is healed.

What to do until an emergency happens

Emergencies have practically no sense of fair play. And almost always pick the worst possible time to happen.

People seem to prefer the day your insurance lapses to trip on your sidewalk, for example.

And the car usually waits until your bank account registers empty before demanding expensive repairs.

There's no fighting it. But you can be ready. By tucking away some reserve funds in Savings Bonds.

Bonds, themselves, are emergency proof. You can't lose the money you invest in them, even if fire, flood, robbers or plain carelessness causes you to lose the Bonds.

And when something expensive happens, you can just take them in to any bank and get yourself solvent again.

In the meantime, Uncle Sam uses your Bond dollars to handle other urgent matters, like taking care of your freedom.

Buy Bonds where you bank or on the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. Get yourself really prepared and you might even discourage a few emergencies from ever happening.

Quick facts about Series E Savings Bonds

- You get back $4 for every $3 at maturity (7¼ years)
- You can get your money when you need it
- Your Bonds are replaced free if lost, destroyed or stolen
- You pay no state or local tax and can defer payment of federal tax until the Bonds are cashed

Edward M. Farmer, professor of art at Stanford University, has retired to Inverness after a 41-year career on the university faculty.

Farmer, who exhibited his watercolors in New York, San Francisco, Chicago and Los Angeles, will continue his painting at Inverness.

During his teaching career, Farmer served as one of the first faculty members at Stanford's overseas study center near Stuttgart, Germany. He also served as president of the College Art Association and the College Art Administration Assn.

Novato Park Budget On List Tonight

The 1964-65 parks and recreation and swimming pool budgets will be discussed by the Novato Parks and Recreation Commission at its meeting at 8 p.m. today in the Community House.

The budget submitted by City Administrator J. Julien Baget calls for an increase from last year of $29,740 to $42,065 for the parks and recreation department, and for spending $32,630 for the swimming pool. In addition, it has a three cent per $100 assessed valuation park acquisition tax which would raise $27,000.

The commission will also discuss its role in park planning, a street tree ordinance, and the North Marin Youth Program survey.

WHOOOO, BUT WHO'S MISSING AN ELF OWL?

An elf owl, far from its natural home, was found in San Anselmo and turned in to the Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum. Mrs. Clara Evans, museum education director, is sure it must be someone's pet. Elf owls, she explained, are natives of the southwestern deserts of the United States.

The owl was spotted last Wednesday by Mr. and Mrs. Ronald P. DeMartini of 5 Brookside Avenue. It was sitting on a neighbor's roof, rarely moving, just sitting there. Later in the week, however, the DeMartinis found it in their backyard. The bird seemed to be having trouble with one wing. They captured it and brought it to the museum.

Anyone missing an elf owl should call Mrs. Evans.

Retired Colonel Gets Army Medal

Col. George E. Crane of 77 Granada Drive, Corte Madera, who recently retired, was awarded an Army Commendation Medal last week, at Fort Baker.

Colonel Crane was cited for his supervision of military justice in the seven-state command of the Sixth Region, Army Air Defense Command. He retired in May after a 27-year military career.

San Rafael To Open Bids On Site Cleanup

Bids for demolition of houses on the future San Rafael City Hall site will be opened by the city council at its meeting at 8 p.m. today.

Director Joseph D. Rodota will submit results of rebids on the restroom and storage building at Victor Jones Park, which are to be opened in advance of the meeting. The project was re-advertised after changes were made in original specifications to utilize standard — and therefore less expensive — equipment.

City Atty. David Menary Jr. will submit a proposed ordinance for licensing of community television antenna facilities.

The council may make an appointment to fill the planning commission post from which Orlando Conti resigned. The name of Daniel L. Connell of 66 Trellis Drive has been submitted for consideration, in addition to V. Judson Klein of 4 Arcangel Way and Robert F. Loberg of 392 Devon Drive, who were proposed at the July 6 council meeting. Mayor John F. McInnis has suggested naming a commissioner from "north of the hill." All three of those suggested live in that section.

Bids are to be called on four one-half ton pickup trucks, a heavy duty truck chassis and cab, and a hydraulic hoist and dump body.

In all, 21 items are on the agenda for the meeting.

Marin Leads Parishes In Pupil Gains

Marin had the highest percentage increase in parochial school enrollment of the nine Bay Area counties from 1962 to 1963, and the second highest overall increase, according to the Bay Area Council.

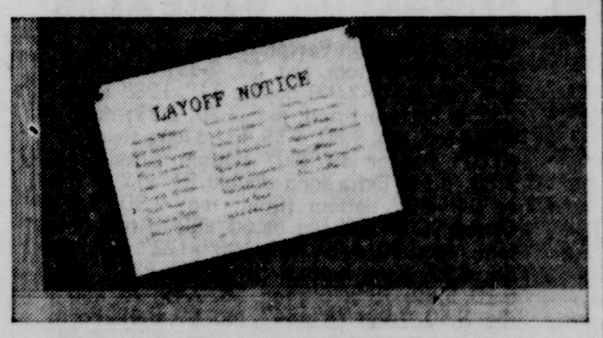
Parochial school enrollment in Marin jumped from 4,168 to 4,579, a whopping 9.9 per cent boost. Total Bay Area parochial school enrollment was up 5.6 per cent to 97,811.

Marin was third in public school increase, going from 36,883 to 39,249 for a 6.4 per cent boost. Santa Clara's 9.2 per cent public school increment enabled it to be first in overall increase with 9.4 per cent. Marin was second with an overall boost of 6.8 per cent, while Sonoma, second in public school percentage increase, was third overall with 5.2 per cent.

Stanford Alums Already Poised For Big Game

The Stanford Club of Marin has planned a club trip to the Big Game with Cal next November at Berkeley, club president Phillip E. Brown of San Rafael has announced. Chartered buses will take the members to Berkeley for the game and an informal cocktail and dinner gathering afterwards.

The club again plans to hold a reception in September for freshmen entering Stanford from Marin and their parents. Robert Setrakian of Kentfield will be in charge of the next club picnic, which is slated for next spring.



Where do you go from here?

An assembly line modernizes. A new machine replaces five or six men. New methods do away with certain jobs entirely. Something like this could happen to your job.

It's part of progress, of course. But progress has a partner—opportunity. Improved methods and techniques will, in turn, create many new jobs. However—

You won't get tomorrow's jobs with yesterday's skills

You'll have to be qualified to earn one of these newer, better-paying jobs. You'll have to re-train—acquire new skills and abilities. And if you begin now, you'll still have a head start on the future.

New Use Possible For Old County Hospital

The county schools office has agreed that the old county hospital building at Lucas Valley can be used for two classes for the severely mentally retarded this fall.

Last week the county board of supervisors turned down a request for a use permit for a school near Novato, after neighbors appeared to protest. At that time county Supervisor Peter H. Behr suggested that the county hospital at the county farm be checked.

Asst. Supt. of Schools Stanley Friese, in a letter to the board, has agreed that the old building can be safely converted for use as a school. The building behind the hospital is now used as a sheltered workshop for adults in the program of Marin Aid to Retarded Children.

The board will consider the request at its meeting tomorrow, along with a request for more funds to carry on the county's program for the mentally retarded. The meeting will start at the Civic Center at 9 a.m.

The board will consider several items held up from previous meetings, including zoning of the Bolinas area, sanitation for Waldo Point houseboats, salaries, and a proposed agreement to allow the Assn. of Bay Area Governments to regulate filling of San Francisco Bay.

County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney, in a letter to the board, has said he cannot be sure, after talking to federal officials, but it appears likely that the Marin Transit District will have to be formed before a federally aided study on transit needs of Marin can start. The Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District has been asked to contribute $30,000 for the study.

Maloney has also written a requested resolution setting a policy prohibiting discrimination in hiring by contractors on county jobs. The resolution provides for a penalty which would be based on the number of persons discriminated against.

County Administrator Alan Bruce, in a letter to the board, has suggested the county contribution to the salary of the schools office business manager should be between one-half and three-fourths of his total pay, with the rest coming from the state or from school districts. The county now pays 54.7 per cent of the $15,000 salary. County Supt. of Schools Virgil S. Hollis has asked for an increase to bring the share closer to a "traditional" 75 per cent.

Budget Tops San Anselmo Board Work

The San Anselmo School District board is scheduled to approve a publication budget of $1,177,151 at its meeting tomorrow at 8 p.m. in Isabel Cook School and set a date, probably Aug. 4, for a public hearing and final passage of the budget.

The board will hear a report on summer school by director Donald A. Wallace, principal of Sleepy Hollow and Hidden Valley schools. Six hundred students, or about one-third of the total elementary school population of the district, attended summer school this year, according to Supt. Stephen L. Parodi.

The board also will discuss a procedural guide for teacher-administration problems, and an offer by the Clearview Cable Systems firm, which plans to run a cable into the Sleepy Hollow area to provide better television reception there, to put cables into Sleepy Hollow and Hidden Valley schools. The district would have to pay for the cost of materials.

Trustees to Adopt Budget

Trustees of San Jose School District will adopt the 1964-65 budget for publication when they meet at 8 p.m. today in the administration building on Hamilton Air Force Base.

The preliminary budget submitted to the board was for $1,717,108. The board will set Aug. 3 for the public hearing on the budget.

Trustees will review plans for the multi-use room at San Jose Intermediate School, and consider a request from KQED-TV for $1 per pupil and teacher while for educational television the district has budgeted only $600 for this item, although last year's average daily attendance was 2,616.

World population grows at the rate of two persons per second, 7,000 an hour or 60 million a year.

Firemen Seeking Crackdown To Halt Set Fires

Because of the rash of deliberately set fires in Marin recently, members of the Marin County Assn. of Fire Departments, meeting in Ross Friday, agreed to sponsor a measure to make parents of children setting fires responsible for damages.

Association Secretary W. Herb Lane reported that it will require a state law to make such a demand for damages. The law has not been introduced yet, but there is considerable talk about it in the state, Lane said.

"When such a law comes up, we will back it," he said.

Members agreed to work with insurance agents throughout the county to get stickers with fire numbers to be put on homeowners' telephones. Insurance agents will bear the cost of the project.

The group learned that the Marin County Assn. of Fire Chiefs will meet at 10 a.m. Wednesday at the Alto Fire Department.

Ross Trustees Budget Vote Due

The Ross School District board will meet at 7:30 p.m. today at the school to approve a publication budget for 1964-65 and set a date for a public hearing on it.

Supt. William W. Monahan will report on building innovations and a school homework policy, and recommend the hiring of a speech teacher. The board will also elect new officers.

Rules for drug labels are established by the federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act. Some states also control labeling.

Residents Removed, Firemen Hospitalized

County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom said today an 18-inch section of the natural gas line supplying the swimming pool heater had been removed. The piece was missing, allowing gas to escape in the air.

Because of that, he said, firemen were forced to let the building burn "or we would have had a greater danger of gas escaping into the area."

USED AS WAR GAS

The heat burst the tank which holds a supply of chlorine used to chlorinate the swimming pool water. The chlorine gas—the same type that was used with deadly effect in World War I—seeped downhill, clinging to the grounds because it is heavier than air.

Firemen had entered the area wearing gas masks. But the masks proved ineffective. The explosion blew one fireman's mask off and seeped under the masks of others.

In Marin General Hospital today, all reported in good condition, were firemen Howard M. Lee, 30, and John W. Costa, 40, of Olema; Robert P. Taverna, 26, of Petaluma, and James B. Selfridge, 19, of Walnut Avenue, Ross.

SCOUTS REMOVED

Forty Boy Scouts at Camp Lilienthal, a San Francisco scout camp near the club, were evacuated from the camp to escape the gas.

Thirty-nine other persons in 15 families living in the area were routed from their homes by sheriff's officers.

Red Cross and civil defense officials set up temporary quarters for the evacuees in the Fairfax Pavilion. They remained there until about 8 a.m., when firemen declared the area safe for their return.

The blaze, reported at 1:19 a.m., did damage estimated by Bloom at $5,000 to the building containing heaters and filter

Pool Owner Rescues Drowning Skunk—It Isn't Very Grateful

Carlos E. Gonzalez of 72 Manderly Road in the Loch Lomond area of San Rafael saw what he first thought was his black cat caught in the skimmer of his swimming pool yesterday.

He hurried to the side of the pool to pull the cat out but fortunately took enough time to see the white stripe on the animal's back.

He called the Marin County Humane Society. The answering service told him to call the sheriff's office. The sheriff's office said because he lived in San Rafael, it had no jurisdiction over the case, but called the police department.

Officer Gerald R. Souza went out to the home to help Gonzalez cope with the situation.

The County Fire Department said it would pick up the animal and take it to the Humane Society only if the skunk was dead.

Gonzalez used a long pole to get the skunk out of the pool onto dry ground. In apparent gratitude, the skunk gave the rescuer the only gift he had to give, a smelly calling card.

Even after this treatment, Gonzalez was reluctant to kill the animal, but over the protest of his wife, he did the job with a .22-caliber rifle. The fire department took the animal away.

Barry Retorts To Attack By English Cleric

When informed of statements made at St. Paul's Cathedral in London by Canon John Collins, Goldwater said, "What the English do is up to them. They've tried on occasion to tell us how to run our government. We resist their interference.

"He (Canon Collins) can't vote in this country, so I think I'm safe."

Collins, a politically active Anglican canon, called on the Pope, the Archbishop of Canterbury and other church leaders to condemn Goldwater policies. He called the Arizona senator's policies "utterly repugnant to Christian consciences," and said his nomination was part of a "growing resurgence of the fascist mentality" in many parts of the world.

Goldwater was to land first at Chicago where, press aides said, a reception was planned.

The senator said he hoped to return to Arizona in August,

JURY DELIBERATING IN MURDER CASE

Judge Says Verdict Must Be Either First Degree Murder Or Innocent

The jury in the Donald G. Corbett Jr. murder trial in Marin Superior Court began deliberation at 10:30 a.m. today.

In 30 minutes of crisp final instructions Judge Joseph G. Wilson informed the jury it could return only a verdict of innocent or guilty of first degree murder for each defendant, with no second degree murder conviction to be considered.

Judge Wilson also emphasized that if the slaying occurred during commission of either felony robbery or burglary by both defendants, then they are equally guilty of murder regardless of who actually wielded the death weapon.

Jones and King are accused of the March 27 slaying of Corbett, 30-year-old dairy executive, in his Sausalito apartment. In addition, they are jointly charged with the March 25 armed robbery of Harbor Liquor Store in Alto.

Judge Wilson declared a holdup with a dangerous weapon by either or both of the defendants would constitute first degree robbery. He charged the jury that if it found that King wielded an automatic pistol, as alleged, that weapon is considered a dangerous one.

He added that defendants have a constitutional right not to testify in their own behalf, and failure to take the witness stand—as was the case of both in this trial—can lend to weight to the prosecution's case.

Too, Judge Wilson instructed the jury that the alleged flight of Jones and King from Marin County after March 27 does not necessarily imply guilt. Its significance, if any, is for the jury to determine.

In closing the instructions, the judge said testimony of an al-

Official Seeks New Clues In Body Mystery

Mystery still surrounds the death of Mrs. Barbara Finkel, whose bejeweled and expensively dressed body was found in the ocean off Point Reyes July 4, Marin County Coroner Frank J. Keaton said today.

Keaton said he and Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos would leave the case open until the woman's husband, Dr. Gerald Finkel of Los Angeles, is found "dead or alive."

The coroner said the body was unusually well preserved considering the distance it reportedly traveled in the water.

The couple were reported missing June 27 when an outboard skiff Dr. Finkel had rented at Noyo Harbor was found capsized some 400 yards offshore near there.

Mrs. Finkel's body was found a week later, some 140 miles south of where the boat was discovered. Keaton said ordinarily the current would travel five to 10 miles per day, "which means her body could have traveled at the maximum only 70 miles in seven days."

"The woman's clothes were not disarranged nor did the body show any signs of violence," said Keaton. "No sea life attacked it, this is kind of unusual."

"We don't feel there is any foul play as yet," said Keaton, "but there are too many questions left unanswered."

SAFETY FIRST — Sheriff's Deputy John K. Campion, stationed at Point Reyes Station, models protective helmets all patrolling deputies began wearing today. Deputies followed the leads of Novato, Sausalito and Corte Madera police, who also have taken to wearing the helmets as protection against vehicle accidents and recalcitrant citizens. Runaways Sail Away—Briefly

Two juvenile hall runaways were recaptured today after giving up an unloaded shotgun and a 29-foot boat they had taken from San Rafael.

They were captured on the high seas, when Coast Guardsmen towed the stranded boat they were on from a sand bar near Angel Island.

The youths, aged 15 and 16, took the boat Tom Cod II from berth 15 of the San Rafael Yacht Harbor yesterday evening, juvenile hall officers reported.

The double-ender boat belonged to James M. De Montanya, 29 Las Robles Drive, San Rafael.

San Rafael police reported the boat was locked, but that keys were hidden on it. The older youth took with him a shotgun taken from his home, juvenile authorities said. He did not have ammunition with him.

Both boys had been on the latest of a series of weekend leaves from juvenile hall, where they had been placed as chronic runaways and incorrigible. This was the fourth time the younger boy has been committed to the hall, the second time for the older boy, county authorities reported.

The boys maneuvered the boat out of the San Rafael harbor and south to the Tiburon area, where they dropped anchor for the night, they said today.

But the anchor dragged, and the boat drifted onto a sand bar. A telephone call from the Corinthian Yacht Club in Tiburon reported it to the Coast Guard at 9:23 a.m. today.

A Coast Guard boat from Sausalito towed the Tom Cod II off the stand bar and to Sausalito, where sheriff's deputies were awaiting the boys to return them again to juvenile hall.

Marin Boy, 15, Believed Drowned In Lake Tahoe

He was identified as Louey Jursch, 15. No record of a family of that name could be found in Sausalito.

The four have been missing since Saturday afternoon and are feared to have drowned in a boating accident, the Associated Press reported from Al Tahoe.

Besides the Jursch youth, they are Merle Simpson, 24; Mike Palmer, 16, and Tricky Brown, 17, all of Tahoe Valley.

Six life preservers and a gas tank were found Sunday in the vicinity of Emerald Bay. The equipment was identified as part of the accessories on Simpson's boat.

Two fishermen reported late yesterday they thought they saw a body about 10 feet beneath the water in the area of Elk Point on the east shore of the lake.

Three Coast Guard boats, various planes and 30 to 35 boats from the South Tahoe Boat Club participated in the search yesterday.

Air Base Aiding In Search For Missing Boy, 10

Hamilton Air Force Base rescue units, with bloodhounds from Roseville, were in Yosemite today in the search for a 10-year-old Los Angeles boy, missing since Saturday from Harden Lake campground.

The boy is John Ireland, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ireland of Los Angeles.

He was the second boy reported missing in Yosemite over the weekend.

On Friday night, Michael McLean and his bloodhounds from San Rafael helped in the successful search for a 3-year-old child. McLean said the tot was found fast asleep among some rocks. McLean had just returned to Marin from this search when the call came for help on the 10-year-old boy.

McLean was too tired and sleepy to go on the second search. Hamilton rescue units called on a Roseville man to provide bloodhounds for the second search.

Girl's Foot Badly Cut By Bottle In Creek

An 8-year-old Corte Madera girl was rushed to Marin General Hospital yesterday afternoon after she cut five tendons in her right foot while playing in Lagunitas Creek in the Phoenix Lake picnic area.

Denise Dami, daughter of Mr. and Mrs Julio Dami of 335 Golden Hinde Passage, was cut through her rubber thong sandal, her father said, the glass from a broken soft drink bottle coming two inches through the sandal.

Denise was returned home this morning, a cast on her foot.

"People should be fined for throwing things such as bottles or cans into creeks," Dami said today. "They are endangering all of our kids — not just mine."

Dami said he and his wife, his daughter, a son, Raymond, 3, and a nephew, Johnny Ratto, 9, also of Corte Madera, were having a picnic along the creek when the accident happened about 2 p.m.

By JACK BELL

When Wallace announced yesterday he was giving up the effort to get his name on presidential ballots in 16 or more states, he removed a serious obstacle to Goldwater's chances of carrying several Southern states in the November battle with Johnson. Wallace appeared on CBS' "Face the Nation."

The action offered the Republican presidential nominee some possible rewards in Dixie, if he maintains his conservative course, that would have to be weighed against what he might gain elsewhere if he yielded to intra-party pressure to swing toward the middle of the road.

Rep. William E. Miller of New York, the vice presidential nominee, indicated he would like to see some overtures to the party's moderates and liberals in the northern industrial states that would bring them around to active support of the national ticket.

But Miller said in response to questions on NBC's "Meet the Press" that failure to get the backing of such men as Sens. Jacob K. Javits and Kenneth B. Keating of New York, Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania and Clifford P. Case of New Jersey "won't be fatal."

Goldwater said in Phoenix, Ariz., he thinks he will do well in New York and Pennsylvania in November.

Miller said he favors a summit meeting of Republican leaders of all shades of opinion to canvass the prospects for the campaign and to give their advice on strategy.

Goldwater, who returns to Washington today after a weekend in Phoenix, said during the California primary campaign in June he intended to call such a session. He has not mentioned it since his nomination.

The Arizona senator said "conferences that I will have nothing to do with" will go on during the next two weeks to "plan the type of campaign we will conduct."

Asked who would attend, he replied: "The academic types, the engineer types and the political types."

Goldwater said that former President Dwight D. Eisenhower had promised to campaign for him and would tell him soon how many speaking appearances "he could stand." He said he hopes Eisenhower will be able to campaign with "a half dozen to a dozen speeches."

Goldwater expressed surprise at Wallace's decision to quit his independent presidential movement but did not comment further. In Austin, Tex., White House press secretary George Reedy, said: "Governor Wallace is entitled to any decision he wishes to make."

Wallace said he hadn't made up his mind whom he would support until after he sees the Democratic platform to be drafted at Atlantic City, N.J., next month.

Asked if he and Goldwater would welcome Wallace's support, the vice presidential nominee replied, "I don't think so, he's a Democrat." He said he welcomes the support of anyone who accepts the GOP platform but added he understands Wallace was dissatisfied with its civil rights plank.

He said it was difficult to assess the impact of Wallace's withdrawal, since the governor would have taken votes from Johnson in some states and from Goldwater in others.

In Augusta, Ga., Roy V. Harris, former state legislator and a campaign worker for Wallace, said he will organize a "Democrats for Goldwater" movement in the state.

The Wallace electors in Alabama are pledged not to vote for a Republican but on the other hand are not pledged to vote for a Democrat.

Miller was asked to explain what Goldwater meant when he said in his acceptance address that extremism in defense of liberty is no vice and that moderation in pursuit of justice is no virtue.

The vice presidential nominee replied that Goldwater was talking about "wholehearted devotion to the cause of freedom." The presidential nominee, Miller said, meant that he was opposed to "half-hearted" support of justice.

Miller said that was his understanding of the explanation Goldwater gave to Eisenhower in a conference here before both departed.

In an ABC program taped Friday before this conference, Eisenhower said Goldwater's statement "would seem to say that the end always justifies the means." He added that "the whole American system refutes that idea and that concept."

Miller indicated he thought Eisenhower regarded Goldwater's subsequent explanation as satisfactory.

Goldwater was asked to clarify the acceptance address statement that "history demonstrates that nothing prepares the way for tyranny more than the failure of public officials to keep the streets safe from bullies or marauders."

"I intend," he replied, "to set an example at the federal level. The president has no responsibility at the local level but he can set an example. We can see that the federal judges are of the highest quality. If they don't follow the law, there is always removal for cause."

Storms In France

PARIS (UPI)—A series of violent electrical storms caused heavy damage over the weekend in northern France. Trees were uprooted and houses unroofed in both Amiens and Lille. Both cities were without electricity for brief periods.

Election Thunder Sounding

The chief executive never mentioned his Republican opponent, Sen. Barry Goldwater, by name, but he left no doubt to whom he referred, taking broad swipes at the Arizonan's positions on a number of issues.

The chief executive challenged Goldwater's GOP convention statement approving extremism in the defense of liberty and opposing moderation in the pursuit of justice.

"I am not one who believes the end justifies the means," Johnson said.

He promised federal help to local authorities unable to maintain order, and he showed concern over what he seemed to feel was organized violence by small groups working undercover such as the Ku Klux Klan. He also cautioned civil rights militants against stepping outside the law.

Johnson opened an eloquent plea for human rights by saying he wanted to discuss "the entire subject of effective political action to secure human rights."

He said the Constitution provided such seekers with "a hallowed and effective path. That is the path of peaceful petition and legal recourse, of free speech and free elections." The president said that if this tradition were destroyed "then the liberties of all of us are in danger."

Police Still Patrol Harlem Riot Streets

NEW YORK (AP)—Missiles rained from roofs, crowds knocked down barricades, fists and knives flashed in the steady heat, and police guns barked. Harlem was rioting.

While temperatures soared Saturday and last night in the packed Negro ghetto, police and Negroes locked in surging fights in which one Negro was shot to death. More than 100 persons were injured, including two dozen patrolmen.

Plate glass windows fell in slithers and more than a score of stores were looted. One supermarket lost $2,000 in cash, 200 cartons of cigarettes and 50 cases of beer. Every rifle in one pawnshop disappeared and police took rifles from others.

Included in the loot were cameras, clothing, jewelry and watches.

There were more than 100 arrests.

Tensions had lessened a great deal by today, police said, but they continued their patrol, still wearing steel helmets.

Meanwhile, in the Brownsville slum area of Brooklyn, six persons were shot and a youth was hit by acid as long-standing enmity between Negroes and Puerto Ricans in the area boiled over Saturday night.

Last night in Harlem five civilians were treated at hospitals for gunshot wounds. Twelve patrolmen were injured by flying objects.

Also injured were a white television cameraman and several other newsmen.

A score of persons were arrested.

The new flareup followed funeral services last night for 15-year-old James Powell, slain last Thursday by police Lt. Thomas Gilligan, who said he fired when the boy came at him with a knife.

Israel Denies Losses

CAIRO (UPI)—The United Arab Republic said last night that its jet fighters shot down one and possibly two Israeli jets. Neighboring Syria said its troops killed or wounded six Israelis in a border clash. Israel denied both reports.

New Summertime Interviews Set

This week, Chuck Pendleton and Hugh Turner of KTIM start "dating the ladies" at the Wednesday Northgate luncheons in the Marin Art and Garden Center—with interviews during dessert and just before the style show. These happy summertime events have been going on for years—and finally someone asked: Why not broadcast them? Chuck and Hugh will tape interviews for later release at 6 o'clock Wednesday evenings (Chuck's turn this week). All six luncheons will be sponsored by Ross Valley Savings and Loan Assn....

OUR LEADER (Hugh) is away on vacation this week. He and Nita and daughter Irene are at Buck's Lake in Plumas County where they have a summer cabin. Hugh's an avid fisherman—Irene, too. Nita rests and dreams up program titles. (I understand they can't hear KTIM up there, but who can be sure?)... Speaking of Buck's Lake, half of the Novato Volunteer Fire Department is there at Lake Shore Resort. I don't know if there's a connection or not..:

BILL THOMPSON'S on vacation next week—and who do you think is going to work during his two weeks absence? He wears a beard—he is a Shakespearian actor—he lives on a houseboat at McCarthy's Harbor... You're right—it is KARL BARRON! When Karl retired from KTIM two months ago, no one thought he would ever come back. Just goes to show—you may take a broadcaster out of radio—but don't expect him to stand PAT away from a MIKE!

Serious Crime Up, In U.S., FBI Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than 2.5 million serious crimes —four a minute—were reported in 1963 as the national crime rate continued a relentless climb, the Federal Bureau of Investigation reported today.

The 10 per cent increase and a high percentage of criminal repeaters prompted Director J. Edgar Hoover to renew his call against what he called excessive leniency which tends to "ignore the victim and obscure the right of a free society to equal protection under the law."

Crime has increased five times faster than the national population since 1958, the FBI said in its annual report. Hoover said the cost of crime now is conservatively estimated at 27 billion dollars annually.

In 1963, there was a murder every hour, a forcable rape every 32 minutes and an assault every four minutes.

Crimes against property were primarily responsible for the crime rate increase, jumping by 11 per cent.

Murders and rapes mounted by 1 per cent, assaults 6, larceny 13, auto theft 11, burglary 9 and robbery 5.

The FBI statistics showed that:

The crimes increase was sharpest in the Northeastern states—13 per cent—and lowest in the North-Central states at 6 per cent.

The value of stolen property in 1963 exceeded 785 million dollars. Police recoveries cut the property loss to 46 cents per dollar.

The year brought 8,500 murders, 91 per cent solved by arrests.

Playing On Tractor Results In Boy's Death

Forty per cent of the nation's population will be under 20 years of age next year.

Captain Says U.S. Grain For Russ Going To Cuba

PORT SAID, U.A.R. (AP) — The captain of a U.S. freighter which took American grain to the Soviet Union says armed Soviet sailors commandeered his ship in international waters and held it for five hours.

"I was ordered off my own bridge at gunpoint," Capt. Arthur H. Fertig said yesterday.

He said the Russians fired warning cannon volleys over his ship, boarded it, confined the crew to quarters and conducted a search.

The incident occurred last Wednesday outside the Black Sea port of Novorossisk after Fertig refused to pay what he considered an excessive charge for unloading the cargo.

His ship, the tanker Sister Katingo, had unloaded 32,000 tons of American grain. Fertig said the payment procedure had been guaranteed by a U. S.-Soviet agreement.

The seizure followed 20 tense days which came to a head when Fertig chose to pay stevedores $3 an hour per man for unloading the cargo. The Russians demanded 50 cent a ton.

Ferttig, 44, of Wading River, N. Y., said his ship was halted by Soviet patrol boats outside the harbor and ordered to return to port, but he refused.

The Russians searched the ship thoroughly, then let her leave after Fertig signed a longhand statement in Russian which was not translated to him.

Fertig, 44, of Wading River, iel Jamieson both said they saw the American wheat they delivered being loaded on a Soviet ship for transport to Cuba.

"We learned from Soviet sailors that the grain was going to Cuba," Jamieson said.

In Washington, the United States announced Friday night it had made an oral protest to the Soviet Union for what it called excessive behavior.

But U. S. authorities conceded that "under international law Soviet authorities may hav been within strictly legal rights in the particular circumstances."

Japan Camp Guard's Bullet Kills Woman

TOKYO (AP) — American and Japanese officials are investigating a shooting which the Americans hope won't mushroom into another Girard case.

The U.S. Marines said Pfc. Manuel A. Covarrubias of Wapato, Wash., killed a 45-year-old Japanese woman, Yuki Katsumata, with a shotgun blast at Camp Fuji north of Tokyo yesterday. The Marine was on sentry duty.

The Marine press office said Covarrubias saw the woman coming out of a tent before dawn in the middle of the camp. It said he challenged her three times in English and again in Japanese, then fired when she did not halt.

Accounts in the Japanese press questioned whether it had been necessary to shoot the woman. American Minister John K. Emmerson called on Vice Foreign Minister Takio Oda to express regret.

The incident recalled the 1957 case of U.S. Army Specialist William F. Girard which set off a furor in Japan and in Congress. A group of Japanese scrap collectors had trespassed onto a U.S. firing range. Girard inserted an empty cartridge backwards in the muzzle of his rifle, pulled the trigger and killed a Japanese woman.

Neighbors Protest, But Lot Splits Get Approval

Three parcel splits creating undersized lots were approved by the Marin County Planning Commission today on the ground they would not increase population density.

The overall parcels met requirements, but they were divided unevenly, making one lot in each case undersized

The Bret Harte Heights Assn. said in a letter it was concerned about allowing one of the lots to be 16,080 square feet instead of the required 20,000 square feet, and about the sewage problem involved.

Commissioners approved the undersized lot on the condition that the sewage system meets approval.

The commission approved division of a parcel at Melrose Avenue and La Verne Avenue, Homestead Valley, over objections of the Homestead Valley Improvement Club.

Donald Harris, representing the club, said the division would create a 5,500 square foot lot, as compared to the required minimum of 7,500 square feet.

Another parcel split at 803 Spring Drive, Tamalpais Valley, also was approved by the commissioners. It will allow Juan Jordan to split 12,102 square feet into two lots one of them below the minimum required 6,000 square feet.

Pay TV Debut Audience Is Rather Light

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Subscription Television, Inc., says about one-third of an estimated 2,500 homes connected to its pay-TV system watched the California debut.

Of those, about 61 per cent dialed the Los Angeles baseball game between the Dodgers and the Chicago Cubs. Fee: $1.50, the same as a bleacher seat at Dodger Stadium.

Twenty-three per cent chose a filmed, three-act play, "Sponomo" (1.50). Sixteen per cent watched a 90-minute color film on surfing ($1).

Was it a success? Opinions of viewers varied. At any rate, pay television is forging on:

Yesterday evening's attractions ranged from one featuring the Dodger shortstop—"Gospel Jazz with Maury Wills and the Los Angeles Community

And tonight there was more culture on the cable: the Concertgebouw Orchestra of Amsterdam, 112 symphony musicians on film, "signed to an exclusive contract by Supscription Television," the company announced.

The company says about 2,000 additional subscribers in an initial, four-square-mile area are waiting for the telephone company to hook up their houses to Subscription co-axial cable.

Meanwhile, Goldwater, counting on an active campaign boost from former President Eisenhower, is setting his political counselors to work on battle plans for the race against President Johnson.

Youngsters Riot In Grocery Store

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A band of 20 youths rampaged through a Hunters Point grocery store late yesterday, knocking over shelves and injuring three clerks.

They punched the clerk, Everett Louie, 47, in the nose and also assailed Kim Wong, 63, and Jenny Limm, 56, co-owners of the store.

The teen-agers overturned scales and shouted foul language as they raced through the store, Mrs. Lilliam Wong, 53, reported.

Outside, the youths raced to a hillside across the street and began tossing rocks that smashed a glass door and dented cars in front of the grocery.

tanks for the swimming pool, and $12,000 to the equipment.

Three women among the evacuees were taken to Marin General Hospital for examination in fear they may have been injured by the chlorine gas, but were found unharmed.

Two Fairfax restaurants opened their doors to provide coffee and early breakfasts for the evacuees. Two Marin County Humane Society trucks picked up family pets abandoned by the evacuees as they were rushed from their homes.

Chief Bloom said the missing section of natural gas line included the cutoff valve. It had been removed from the line about six inches from the pool heater, he said. There was no rust, indicating the removal was recent.

The manager of the Meadow Club could give no explanation of why the piece was missing, the fire chief said.

Lack of wind played a dual role at the fire. Because there was no wind, the blaze was held to about a quarter acre of grass surrounding the swimming pool. Had there been a wind, said Bloom, it might have spread to redwood, oak and bay trees and started a major blaze. But because there was no wind, the chlorine gas stayed close to the ground, moved slowly, and constituted a major hazard. "It poured downhill like water," the firechief said.

Chief Bloom commented that swimming pool owners should not be "penny wise and pound foolish" in stocking large amounts of chlorine for future use in purifying water.

"There is enough danger created by fire without compounding the problem with the heat exploding containers of deadly gas," he warned.

Publisher Revives Plan For Marin

Sheldon F. Sackett, newspaper publisher and radio station owner, today announced he has revived his plan for "World Newspapers of Marin," to augment the weekly papers he now owns in the county.

Sackett said he plans to invest a half million dollars in land, building and equipment to launch the venture. His company now owns the Ross Valley Times, Larkspur-Corte Madera Times, and Tiburon Peninsula Pelican. He said plans call for two more papers on weekly or semi-weekly basis, plus a central publication, "The World of Marin County."

The Coos Bay, Ore., publisher and financier made the announcement in San Francisco coincidentally with his announcement of purchase of Idaho Microwave Inc. and Cable Vision Inc., broadcasting properties in southern Idaho, United Press International reported.

Hackett announced somewhat similar plans when he purchased the weeklies in Marin several years ago, and for a time had an option on a building in San Anselmo which he planned as publishing plant. He allowed the option to lapse.

Evangelist Says America Stands At Crossroads

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI) — Billy Graham's 10-day central Ohio crusade ended last night after he preached to a crowd estimated at 38,000, pushing the 11-meeting turnout to 316,500.

The evangelist took as the topic of his sermon the 24th chapter of Joshua, which includes the general's farewell address to his troops. He referred specifically to the 15th verse and the phrase: "Choose you this day whom we will serve."

"Israel had won a war but had found the problems of peace greater than those of war," said Graham. "Today America stands at the crossroads. Are we going to keep on serving money, pleasure, success that will ultimately destroy the nation or are we going to return to serving the God of our fathers?"

Graham said every one must choose their destination—"heaven or hell"—and hell "must be pretty terrible if the gentle, kind, loving Jesus would talk about it so much."

POLE SUPPOSES NAZIS KILLED BARRY'S KIN

KONIN, Poland (AP) — The mayor of this river town in central Poland said today U.S. Presidential Nominee Barry Goldwater's Polish kin probably were killed by the Nazis.

The Arizona senator's grandfather, a Jewish peddler named Michael Goldwasser, emigrated from Konin in 1848 when the town was under Russian rule, according to U. S. biographical information made available in Poland.

Mayor Zdzislaw Szklarkowski said the Goldwassers who remained behind probably were among millions of central Europeans Jews liquidated by Hitler.

"If any of the 3,000 Jews in Konin before the war were Goldwassers, they are dead now," Mayor Szklarkowski said.

Homeowners Group To Add Pool Building

Volunteer members of the Sleepy Hollow Homes Assn. will soon start construction of a storeroom adjacent to the dressing rooms at its clubhouse, it was decided at the association's quarterly meeting Thursday night.

Director Herbert A. Brauner will be in charge of building the structure, which will contain such things as scouting equipment, nursery school supplies and chairs. It will measure about 44 by 18 feet.

Much of the activity at the meeting centered around the swimming pool. It was decided that 10 minutes of every hour would be reserved for adult use of the pool. Sale of swim tags was reported to have reached 705. Albert Giusto, a new member, offered to supply the pool area with ash trays, and this proposal was enthusiastically accepted.

Recording secretary Mrs. Terry Hauge said 50 new members had joined since April, bringing the total membership to 299.

The group also discussed the drag-racing of autos and motorcycles on Butterfield Road, but no course of action was determined.

Marinite's Music Pieces Performed

Two musical works by a Marin County mathematics teacher were performed Saturday at a music seminar in Pasadena.

Yates, who teaches math at Marin Country Day School, plans to incorporate the choral piece into a Requiem Mass.

Here Is The Status Of Major Legislation

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Status of major legislation:

WELFARE

Health Care—House Ways and Means Committee, after months of deliberation, shelved the administration's proposal to provide hospital care for the aged through the Social Security system. Nothing scheduled in the Senate.

Social Security—While setting aside the medicare issue, House Ways and Means Committee approved a billion dollar, 5 per cent increase in social security benefits. It would be financed by a hike in the payroll tax, paid by employee and employer, from the current 3.625 per cent each to 3.8 per cent. Nothing scheduled in the Senate.

JOBS, LABOR AND POVERTY

Depressed Areas—Senate has approved a 455-million-dollar additional authorization for federal redevelopment aid for areas of chronically high unemployment. After this was turned down by the House, the House Banking Committee approved a "second try" 355-million-dollar version which is pending before the rules committee.

Accelerated Public Works — Senate Public Works Committee has approved a 2.4-billion-dollar extension of the expiring accelerated public works program, which depressed communities get matching grants to speed work on sewers, water works, roads and other such public projects. The House Public Works Committee approved a 900-million-dollar version of this last year but no move has been made to get it to the house floor.

Anti-Poverty "Package"—Senate and House committees have approved President Lyndon B. Johnson's proposed 962-million-dollar omnibus bill that would set up a "job corps" to give young men 16-22 schooling, new skills and work experience in camps and training centers; establish work-training programs for boys and girls in the same age brackets in their home towns; set up a work-study plan for needy college students; finance locally-planned and operated anti-poverty education, welfare, health and other projects" established a new "volunteers for America" corps to help operate the various programs; provide grants and loans to small business and farm owners in poverty areas to create new jobs and help families stay on the farm. House bill now before its rules committee. Senate expected to consider bill soon after it returns from recess on July 20.

Appalachia — President has proposed a 228-million-dollar program to revitalize the economically depressed Appalachian region. Legislation would concentrate on the development of roads, agriculture, timber, public facilities and industrial financing. House and Senate public works subcommittee have completed hearings.

Food Stamps — Senate and House have approved a modified version of the nationwide food stamp program proposed by Johnson as a supplement to his "poverty package." Unemployed and needy persons would buy stamps at discount and spend them at grocery stores. Differences between senate and house bills must still be reconciled.

FOREIGN AID

Johnson asked Congress for 3.5-billion-dollars to finance the program this year. The house voted to authorize the full amount and approved 3.3-billion-dollars in actual appropriations. The senate foreign relations committee has approved a 3.4-billion-dollar authorization that the senate is expected to consider soon after July 20. Senate hearings underway on appropriation.

PRAYER

House Judiciary Committee has been considering 147 proposed constitutional amendments to overturn recent supreme court decisions forbidding organized prayer and Bible reading as a regular part of public school programs. Committee has completed public hearings but has no plans to act.

PRICE-CUTTING

House Commerce Committee has approved bill backed by druggists and some other retail groups to stop retail price cutting of brand-name merchandise. The bill is pending before rules committee.

FALLOUT SHELTERS

House approved a one-year, 190-million-dollar trial run on administration plan to make federal contributions toward construction of civil defense fallout shelters in schools, hospitals and other non-profit institutions. But a senate armed services subcommittee has shelved it.

PAY RAISE

A 533-million-dollar pay raise for government workers, including $7,500-a-year increases for members of Congress, has been passed by the House and Senate. A conference committee will seek to work out differences in two bills. Meantime, the senate armed services committee has approved a 2.5 per cent military pay raise.

Youth Jailed For Drawing Six-Shooter

A 21-year-old San Rafael man was booked for assault with a deadly weapon yesterday after he allegedly pulled a .22-caliber "six-shooter" on two San Rafael policemen and a Marin County sheriff's deputy in a hotel room.

Robert Allen Massey, 21, of the Marin Hotel, 1111 Fourth Street, was booked at 1:10 a.m., after being given first aid at San Rafael General Hospital for a head cut which police said resulted from a brief scuffle during the arrest.

Deputy Sheriff Weldon C. Travis said he first saw Massey as the latter was getting out of a car, driven by an unidentified woman, on Fourth Street. He said Massey called to him, then yelled and swore at him as Travis walked over to see what he wanted.

Travis called two San Rafael officers, and the three followed Massey into the hotel. They said he told them to enter his room when they knocked, but refused to come out.

In the room officer Robert Larrison said he saw the butt of Massey's "western six-shooter model" pistol in his pocket seconds before he made a move as if to pull it out.

Larrison grabbed the gun with both hands and jerked it away. In the ensuing fight, Massey was cut on the head, but police said he refused to have stitches taken at the hospital.

Massey denied having intended to pull the gun on the officers, they said and insisted "I wanted to show it to you."

Bail was set at $5,500.

Two Concerts Show Less Familiar Talents

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Less familiar facets of the musical talents of well known Marin musicians were revealed yesterday afternoon and evening in two concerts, together with evidence of a rising star in American composition.

In the afternoon at Canoles Hall of the First Presbyterian Church of San Rafael, Hugo Rinaldi, seen hitherto usually as a conductor, played the violin and Byron Jones, heard most frequently as a baritone soloist, stepped briefly into the role of composer.

In the evening at Angelico Hall, pianist Sister Mary Dominic, O.P. of Dominican College, who has given Marin music lovers memorable Beethoven and Mozart, played more of this music and showed that she is also a superlative interpreter of Debussy.

An interesting point is that all of these Marin musicians are educators. Busy as they are with teaching, it is remarkable that they are able to keep up their performing skills.

Though his voice was somewhat too powerful for the hall, Byron Jones sang with splendid control, vibrant and vital tone, and dramatic expressiveness works by Scarlatti, Durante, Mozart, Ravel and Donato, as well as his own setting of the poem, "Mood San Marcos," by San Rafael poet Margaret Albanese. His music enhanced the words of the poem and captured its mood very effectively.

Judging from the aria from "Le Nozze Di Figaro," we should expect Jones to do well in the role of that musical rascal.

Assisted by Cumming at the piano, Rinaldi played Handel's Sonata No. 2 in G Minor and Grieg's Sonata No. 1 with glowing tone, strong rhythmic bite and something of the style characteristic of his conducting.

Though there was no flaw in Sister Mary Dominic's performance of Mozart's Sonata in B Flat Major and Beethoven's Sonata in E Major, Op. 109, we enjoyed most the crystalline clarity of her Bach - Busoni "Chromatic Fantasy and Fugue" and the quicksilver fluidity of her Debussy group composed of "Voiles," "Reflets Dans L'Eau," "Les Connines D'Anacapri" and "Poissons D'or."

Warren Probers Study Ruby Test

DALLAS (UPI) — Warren commission investigators today began analyzing a lengthy lie detector test given Jack Ruby, who is facing the electric chair for the murder of presumed presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald.

The 10-hour lie dectector session was held in Ruby's jail cell Saturday night, at his request. He had asked for a lie detector test many times, saying he wanted to prove to the American public he did not know Oswald, and was not connected with the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

A Warren commission spokesman said results of the lie detector test would not be revealed immediately.

Third Try For School Bonds In Hub City

San Anselmo School District residents will vote again tomorrow to decide the fate of a $700,000 bond issue and a $500,000 loan.

They refused to approve either in elections last October and April, but with the lack of funds necessitating double sessions at Brookside School and transporting of students from Lansdale to Sleepy Hollow, the school board and Supt. Stephen L. Parodi decided to ask again for the bond and loan authorization.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. at all schools except Hidden Valley and also the Redwood Moving and Storage Co. at 230 Greenfield Avenue.

The issues need two-thirds approval for passage. The bond issue just missed in April with 65.4 per cent.

'Taming Of The Shrew' Still Provides Plenty Of Comedy

By GWEN STONE

It is the year 1597, or thereabouts. The theater is called the Swan, situated at the eastern end of a naughty neighborhood in London. The new play performed by the Chamberlain's men is called "The Taming of the Shrew."

The critic of the days says: "It is 2 o'clock in the afternoon and the actors, some dressed in men's clothes and three in women's, gave wonderful performance, very well acted." The critic continues: "All manner of vagrant and lewd persons, under colour of resorting to the plays, came hither to work all manner of mischief. The determination to open permanent indoor theatres is commendable for the presentation of fine plays but may prove a great annoyance not only to all the noblemen and gentlemen hereabouts inhabiting but also a general inconvenience to all the inhabitants of the same precinct." However, actors are never fated to be undone and foreigners as well as playgoers of London flocked to see the Bard's plays wherever they were performed.

Saturday night, 365 or so years later, playgoers flocked to the amphitheater of the Marin Shakespeare Festival in Ross, to see the opening night's performance of "The Taming of the Shrew." The audience was not beset with thieves as in the Elizabethan days, but beset with bewitching imps of laughter.

To see "Shrew" is to laugh. It abounds in energy and broad wit. Shakespeare did not waste words of character-building with Katherine, beautifully portrayed by Paula White, and Petruchio, played by Will Marchetti, who turned in the most engaging performance of this woman-tamer we have ever seen. Here are two characters firmly and finely drawn. In the talent of Miss White and Marchetti, the playgoer not only has a treat for the ear but a feast for the eye.

Complementing Katherine and her tamer is a superb cast of players who fill the amphitheater with their infectious mirth. Robert Richards, as Lucentio, suitor to Bianca, has a well-defined character going here. Hortensio (Abe Kalish), also a suitor to Bianca, is excellent as the petulant dilettante, but need not strive so hard for projection, for his voice carries well at a lower pitch.

As Gremio, the old miserly suitor to Bianca, Karl Barron bites into the role and hangs on hard like the old Italian fox he is in the play. Baptista, father to Kate and Bianca, is admirably characterized by Russell Ernst. Tranio is Bob White, who uses his body well on stage. Bianca, played by Andrea Fulton, seems to have just the right flavor of flirtatiousness and acts perfectly the spoiled young daughter of a rich old man.

Petruchio's servant, Grumio, is a delightful caricature. Derek Beard, a pure comic, excells in the part with words, gestures and moues. We are looking forward to seeing what he does with the role of Puck in "A Midsummer Night's Dream," opening Wednesday night. Scott Malpass, as Biondello, does a clever bit. David McCauley, a young actor with many hats, turns in three notable performances, as Vincentio, the old father to Lucentio, as the tailor and as a servant in Petruchio's house. David Dukes does double service as a servant of Petruchio's and as the very funny Pedant. Dale Altvater triples with ease as Curtis, the haberdasher, and a servant.

The last festive scene of the play brings the cast together, including the widow played by Marjorie Washburn. We liked the last scene, we liked the spirit, gaiety it contained, but wondered at a certain ad lib heard loudly and clearly at the scene's opening. It was "bring on the booze." I'm sure Will would have enjoyed it.

Dion Chesse directed this year's "Shrew" as well as last year's. And I think this one is the better of the two. With a new cast, it moves faster, and it is funnier. Cutting out the induction scene adds to the pace. Chesse's able direction is reflected in every role of the play.

After "Dream" opens Wednesday evening, the three plays, including "The Merry Wives of Windsor," and "Shrew" will be played in repertory, Wednesday through Saturday nights until Sept. 5 at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross.

Religious Leader Decries War Risk

LONG BEACH (UPI) — A Religious leader who claimed there have been only 268 years of world peace since Moses received the commandment against murder 3,426 years ago, called yesterday for more detailed study of the Bible as the way to peace.

"Prayers for peace continue to be offered in the churches of Christendom," Floyd F. Garrett told 21,000 delegates to a Jehovah's Wittnesses district convention. "Yet there is good reason to fear a third global war."

Garrett was chairman of the four-day convention for Southern California and Western Nevada, which ended yesterday.

Nearly everything has gone up in price these days—except your PG&E rates. They have gone down lately. As a matter of fact, the typical PG&E household customer pays less today than 30 years ago for the same amount of gas and electricity. But count the things around your home that gas and electricity are doing for you and your family today. You are using 3 times as much as families did 30 years ago. So naturally, though the unit price is lower, your bill is bigger. Even so, you live better for less because PG&E service is a bigger bargain than ever.

THIS MOM IS WORKING OVERTIME

Mill Valley May Drop Ambulance

Service should be discontinued if two men are to be required to man the Mill Valley city ambulance, City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer and Fire Chief Leslie Armager have recommended to the city council.

The ambulance is now sent out followed by a second car, carrying the resuscitator. If the individual has to be taken to the hospital, the ambulance proceeds with only the driver, leaving the patient unattended. This policy of driver only has been questioned, said Balmer.

We are one man short in our fire crew when the ambulance is out of the city and the chief and I agree we cannot afford to be two men short, Balmer related.

The ambulance has been in service since 1937 when the first vehicle was purchased by the American Legion, Post 284 of Mill Valley. A newer vehicle was purchased with money from public subscription in 1956.

Sausalito broached the same problem about a year ago. It was decided to put the ambulance out of service for a short time until it could provide two men. It now uses two, one as driver, one as attendant.

Two letters have been received by Balmer from doctors on the subject. Dr. Albert E. White, city councilman, recommends two persons to man the ambulance, certain specified supplies and equipment, with an added recommendation that it may be desirable to reevaluate the policy, possibly limiting service to use of a resuscitator and necessary first aid.

Dr. Elmer A. Weden Jr. of San Rafael suggests the city consider a policy of "declining emergency calls unless two attendants are available. Although in some cases this might cause a slight delay before the other ambulance came, it would only be significant with the very critical patient. But a patient this critically injured would absolutely need two attendants anyway," he said.

The subject will be discussed by the city council at 8 p.m. today.

Also on the agenda will be business dealing with Sycamore Avenue extension and a request for the city to share in paving Helen's Lane. Use of the municipal clubhouse will also be taken up since the present caterer and custodian have informed Balmer they are quiting due to insufficient income.

Soprano Wins Award, Role

Word of new honors in the career of 22-year-old soprano Jane Marsh has been received by her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Earle Marsh of Mill Valley.

She has been given a $3,000 award by the Martha Baird Rockefeller Foundation, and Friday will make her first public appearance in a full length operatic role at the Chautauqua Festival in New York. She will sing Pamina in Mozart's "The Magic Flute."

Miss Marsh was soloist last year with the Marin Symphony as winner of its Corona Anderson Memorial Scholarship. She started her vocal studies under Mme. Bella Resek of Mill Valley, and is a graduate of Oberlin College.

Oldest Postman Fetes A Century

The former postman, born here July 18, 1864, received congratulations from President Lyndon B. Johnson and U.S. Postmaster General John Gronouski.

He said the only time he failed to deliver the mail was in 1906 when the earthquake and fire "burned up my route."

Horse And Buggy Law Won't Do For Marin

Marin County Supervisors will be asked tomorrow to repeal about 50 outdated ordinances dating back to 1883, including the licensing of stallions used for propagation.

County Council Douglas J. Maloney will submit a list of ordinances for repeal and codification to eliminate unnecessary ordinances and clarify existing county laws.

Slated for repeal are ordinances that:

Establishes the Marin County Hospital and Farm which has been abandoned.

Divides the county into townships for an election of justices of the peace and constables.

All the obsolete ordinances are scheduled to be repealed by a single ordinance.

Maloney aslo has submitted two other ordinances to cover repeal of traffic ordinances applying to areas incorporated by the City of Tiburon or annexed to the city of Novato.

The meeting begins at 9 a.m. in the Civic Center.

Donations to the fund may be sent to Gottheimer, 75 Corte Comoda, and made payable to the Greenbrae Property Owners Assn., Robert G. Miller Fund.

The boy, who was struck by a car driven by John P. Lee of 501 Oak Avenue, San Anselmo, remained unconscious in Marin General Hospital today. He has not regained consciousness since the accident.

Lee has been charged with felony drunken driving and failure to stop after being involved in an injury accident.

Sunday Gate Shrinks At New York's Fair

NEW YORK (UPI)—The New York World's Fair attracted only 171,769 visitors yesterday in spite of sunny but hot weather and the presence of an estimated 250,000 tourists and conventioneers in the city.

Juveniles Blamed In Rash Of Cash Thefts

Money was taken from three Corte Madera homes over the weekend in the latest of a rash of burglaries which Corte Madera police believe to have been committed by juveniles.

Loot in the three burglaries totaled about $420. The homes were entered through open windows and rear sliding doors.

Other valuables were passed up for money located in bedrooms.

Police said three burglaries last week fit into a similar pattern.

In the biggest haul over the weekend, about $300 was missing from the home of Jean Scarrone at 34 Ash Avenue. Two $100 bills and smaller bills totaling $100 were taken from a bookcase headboard in a bedroom.

Entry was made sometime between 5 p.m. Thursday and late Friday night through an open window, police said.

Leo Jarvis of 26 El Camino Drive returned to his home after being away on vacation Saturday night to find $20 missing from a dresser drawer. Entry was either through an open window or a sliding glass door, said police.

About $100 in small bills was taken from a box in a dresser drawer in the home of Anthony Thomas Fadale at 29 Spindrift Passage between 4 p.m. and 9:20 p.m. yesterday.

School Board Delays Bid On E Street

The San Rafael Board of Education met Friday with the intention of awarding a contract for demolition and reconstruction at E Street School to Ira W. Coburn Co. of San Rafael, but decided it needed further information before it could act.

The problem centers around the absence in Coburn's bid of any subcontractors. The law stipulates that the general contractor must do all work that is not specifically listed as subcontractual. The board wants to know if Coburn's renting of operating equipment comprises a subcontract.

Asst. Superintendent Mitchell L. Voydat was instructed to ask County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney for an opinion about this matter, and the board will meet sometime next week to award the contract.

Visitor Will Speak

Yasujo Yamaguchi, an exchange student from Osaka, Japan, staying at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John H. McDermott of Corte Madera, will speak to the Mill Valley Lions Club meeting at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Stinson Beach Drought Ends, Park Reports

Water was plentiful over the weekend at Stinson Beach even though, according to Robert G. Carlson, supervisor at Stinson Beach State Park, there were about the same number of park visitors as a week ago when the park had to be closed because of water shortage. Carlson said about 1,350 cars were present Saturday and yesterday.

Since the shortage, a temporary hook-up was installed to pump water from a well at Stinson Ranch, Gail Bennett, Stinson Beach Water Co. superintendent, said today.

A tank has been installed at Steep Ravine Creek on Panoramic Highway and, with a large pump, water is expected to be provided from that tank sometime this week. Bennett said this supply should be more than adequate for both village and park.

Rabies Test Due On Bold Raccoon

The animal was reported to Belvedere police as "just sitting" on the roof of the Herbert G. Drake home at 213 Golden Gate Avenue. It appeared unafraid of people and remained on the roof when a Belvedere police officer approached and shot it.

The body of the animal was to be taken tot he Marin County Health Department for tests to find out if it was rabid, Police Chief William Woodington reported.

Cadillac

YOU MAY BE LOSING MONEY BY PAYING LESS

There are many cars that cost almost as much as a Cadillac. But it is a matter of fact that the decision to buy one of them could be a false economy.

Consider the major items included in the basic price of a Cadillac that are usually extra on other cars: automatic transmission, high-performance engine, power steering, power brakes, automatic cornering lights, and power windows on most models.

Then think of what a new Cadillac can save you on operation and maintenance. Cadillac is actually the rival of much smaller, lighter cars in gasoline efficiency—and it is so soundly built that it has reduced upkeep expense to the practical minimum.

You're ahead again—every mile you drive.

Finally, reflect on Cadillac's historically high trade-in value. No car at or near its price preserves so much of its owner's original investment through the years.

So add it all up. You'll see what most owners mean when they say you don't spend more for a Cadillac. You just invest a little more—and get a lot more back.

If a Cadillac has long been in your plans, visit your dealer and get all the dollars-and-cents facts.

Travelling Artist's Fate Left To Jury By Sausalito Police

A visiting artist who got a rather warmer reception than he expected in Sausalito is scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow on charges of displaying obscene paintings and peddling without a license.

Neil Franklin Stauffer, 32, of Mountain View said he "really didn't expect to sell anything" when he parked a camper load of his art on Bridgeway about 4:15 p.m. Saturday and started to unload it for display. "I thought I might attract some attention," he said.

He attracted the attention of Police Officer Ernest Brown, who cast an inquiring eye over some of the paintings and called in a fellow critic, Officer John Higgins.

Brown and Higgins were particularly interested in a four-by-six foot painting of a nude figure of a man and three smaller nudes (one a Crucifixion scene). They confiscated the four pictures, arrested Stauffer and booked him into county jail on the two charges.

The artist's wife, Phoebe, and 2-year-old daughter Sherri found themselves stranded on the sidewalk. Mrs. Stauffer couldn't drive the truck away because she has no driver's license.

Things stood like that for several hours. Judge Leonard A. Thomas of Marin Municipal Court was called to set bail. He set it at $56 on the peddling charge and declined to set any bail on the obscenity count. The artist could be released on his own recognizance on that, said the judge.

The Stauffers had only $6 and some small change. Stauffer, who came to California six weeks ago, has not yet found a job. The art sale was to be his means of raising some money for living expenses.

Stauffer spent five hours in the county jail before his wife was able to raise bail for him. He then drove the camper back to Mountain View. Sausalito police kept custody of the four confiscated paintings.

Stauffer is a graduate of Minneapolis School of Art. He said he recently sold a painting —a nude—to the Ford Foundation.

"I'll just take all my paintings into court and let the judge decide," he said.

"The idea of police censorship of art can't be tolerated here," declared Ray Schwartz of 172 Spencer Avenue. "I intend to let the city council know, and the city manager."

Sausalito Police Chief Kenneth H. Huck said simply, "It will be up to a judge or jury to determine whether he is guilty or not guilty."

Novato Teen Club Cash Box Tapped

Approximately $20 in cash was taken from the cash box of the Teen Club at Novato High School cafeteria between 3:30 and 5:45 p.m. Friday, Charlene Marie Wolfe, teen club director, reported Friday to Novato police.

She said either she or her assistant was near the cash box at all times and she did not know how the money was stolen, according to police.

New Discovery Now Makes It Possible To Shrink And Heal Hemorrhoids Without Surgery

Stops Itch — Relieves Pain In Minutes

New York, N. Y. (Special): A world-famous institute has discovered a new substance which has the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids without surgery. The sufferer first notices almost unbelievable relief in minutes from itching, burning and pain. Then this substance speeds up healing of the injured tissues all while it quickly reduces painful swelling.

Tests conducted under a doctor's observations proved this so — even in cases of 10 to 20 years' standing. The secret is the new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — now offered in both ointment or suppository form called Preparation H®.

In addition to actually shrinking piles—Preparation H lubricates and makes bowel movements less painful. It helps to prevent infection (a principal cause of hemorrhoids).

Only Preparation H contains this magic new substance which quickly helps heal injured cells back to normal and stimulates regrowth of healthy tissue again. Just ask for Preparation H Ointment or Preparation H Suppositories (easier to use away from home). Available at all drug counters.

County Plan Board Grants School Permit

The Marin County Planning Commission today granted a use permit for a nursery school at 138 North San Pedro Road, Santa Venetia, despite a staff recommendation for denial.

The staff reported that the proposed school, adjacent to Blessed Sacrament School, would create an additional traffic hazard along North San Pedro Road.

Commissioners granted the permit after the applicant, Robert Forbush of Corte Madera, said bus service would be provided for the 24 nursery school children and that a parking area would be available.

The school will be in a split-level home on a 50-by-200 foot lot, a block west of the Civic Center.

Commissioners voted 5-0 to grant the permit. Commissioner William F. Upton abstained and Commissioner Felix M. Warburg was absent.

Weavers' Outing Is Dual-Purpose

Some 35 members of the Tamalpais Weavers Guild held their monthly meeting there so they could dye samples of yarn with the pure water from the park's Crystal Spring.

They explained that the dyes used would not work if mixed with chlorinated city water. It also gave them an excuse to have a picnic, the ladies confessed to park supervisor Neil Power.

SUPER SUPERVISOR — M/Sgt. Clifford B. Kull of Hamilton Air Force Base has been named outstanding supply supervisor at Western Communications Region Headquarters. Kull, credited with saving $271,649 in his work, has been assigned to Misawa Air Base in Japan, where his wife, the former Tomiko Morita, was born.

Women Drivers Collide, One Cited

Two women were injured when their cars collided in the eastbound lane of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, 30 feet east of Eliseo Drive, at 11:25 p.m. yesterday.

Mrs. Helen B. Dailey, 54, of San Francisco was in good condition today at Marin General Hospital, where she was being held for observation. Venella Williams, 49, of Vallejo was treated for chin cuts.

Mrs. Williams was cited by the California Highway Patrol for speeding. Her car struck the rear of that driven by Mrs. Dailey.

Search Fails To Locate Surf Riding Victim

Extensive search of area surrounding Bolinas Bay Saturday failed to locate a surfer reportedly swept to sea by tide Friday evening.

Coast Guard spokesmen said a patrol boat and a helicopter searched an area up to two miles off the beach for five hours Saturday.

Choir" — to Chekhov's "Uncle received numerous calls from persons saying a man dressed in a skin diving suit was washed out to sea from Bolinas Beach on a white surfboard.

The search was abandoned at 8 p.m. Saturday. It will not be resumed unless further evidence of the missing swimmer materializes, said Coast Guard spokesmen.

Office Broken Into, No Loot Is Obtained

Someone broke into the Dickson Simpson Co. office at 40 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael, at 1 a.m. Saturday, but must have been scared away too quickly to take anything.

Police found a door open, then discovered the frame and latch had been forced. An open rear window apparently had been the burglar's exit route. Nothing was reported missing.

Committee Studies Mergers Of Fire, Sanitary Districts

The Marin County Local Government Coordinating Committee today decided to request the Pacific Fire Rating Bureau to study of advantages and problems in consolidation of all or some of the 21 fire departments in Marin.

County Administrator Alan Bruce will ask fire district commissions and city councils for support in petitioning the underwriting bureau to make the study.

The committee acted after hearing a presentation of the need for consolidation by Carl Modell, secretary of the Tamalpais Fire Protection District board.

Warren Jacobs, president of the Homestead Valley Sanitary District board, urged the advantages of a Southern Marin sanitary district which would embrace most or all of the numerous districts now serving the area.

The committee agreed to meet again within 30 days and to invite the governing boards of Mill Valley, Homestead Valley, Alto and Tamalpais Valley to take part in a discussion of financial problems of the proposed sanitary district consolidation. County Auditor-Controller Michael L. Mitchell will be asked to sit in on the meeting.

The financial problems include the need for more treatment plants in the area. District dump treated sewage into the bay, and must provide both primary and secondary treatment for it. Jacobs said that deep ocean dumping would be better, but would demand new trunk lines and new treatment plants.

Modell cited the marger of the Homestead and Tamalpais Valley fire protection districts as an example of consolidation affording better protection.

Firemen Ready Annual Doings For Belvedere

The "bust" is a prelude to the annual firemen's ball, scheduled for Aug. 21 at the San Francisco Yacht Club.

When you're a doctor or a nurse, you learn about the economics of health — you learn why people turn to Blue Cross for protection. As a result, doctors and nurses have Blue Cross protection, too. Here are some of the reasons why people prefer it:

- Choice of Doctor You may select any licensed physician and surgeon and still receive Blue Cross benefits.
- No red tape The subscriber presents his Blue Cross card at the hospital. The hospital bills Blue Cross directly for the benefits his contract provides.
- Confidential Information about your illness is confidential and is handled directly between the hospital and Blue Cross.
- Universal acceptance When you travel outside of California, Blue Cross benefits are available anywhere in the world.
- A non-profit organization Blue Cross returns more of the subscriber's dollar in benefits than any other health plan. This is because of the low operating expense made possible by efficient administration. Blue Cross is a non-profit organization; all income except that used for operating expense is available for present or future benefits.
- California's largest There are now more than 2,300,000 Californians enrolled in Blue Cross (over 1,000,000 in Northern California alone), making this the state's largest voluntary health plan.
- Wide in scope Blue Cross provides both hospital and doctor care benefits, on a group or individual basis.

Now Voters May Speak Up In S.F. Freeway Battle

San Francisco voters may have a voice in settling one segment of the hassle between that city and the State Highway Commission about freeway locations; a battle that has been constant for 10 years, which has delayed some vital freeway plans. While this is strictly a San Francisco dispute, it has interest in Marin, because some of the projects at issue affect our thousands of commuters.

At issue is the plan for a freeway tunneling under the Golden Gate Park Panhandle, and use of a corner of the park itself as a route between the Golden Gate Bridge and the San Francisco Civic Center. It has been argued at many emotion-packed hearings in the area.

Recently, San Francisco's Recreation-Park Commission unanimously voted to approve this key project. Last week, that city's Planning Commission approved use of such a route. It now goes to the city's board of supervisors —who in May rejected the Highway Commission's plan.

Meantime, a supervisor favoring a Pacific Heights tunnel route has introduced a city charter amendment to let the voters decide the sticky question in November. This too, is under some committee study before going to the board.

The amendment would prohibit such a thoroughfare over, under or even contiguous to Golden Gate Park. Should the charter amendment proposal go on the ballot, it would be the first time, hereabouts at least, that votes, not vocalizing, would be a deciding factor, so far as the city is concerned.

Whether Marin commuters should organize sit-in, drive-in or plain electioneering activities in another city and county can be decided after the San Francisco supervisors act on the proposed anti-park amendment and the pro-park use recommended by two important commissions. But the 128 million dollar freeway concerns thousands of drivers. Let us hope that some action is taken before Thursday's meeting of the Highway Commission to resolve the dispute.

IT WENT THATA-WAY!

Racist Issue Can Distort Whole Campaign Into Bitter Nightmare

SAN FRANCISCO—And now the campaign. Is it going to be the dullest or the dirtiest?

What an ironic turn of events that Sen. Barry Goldwater, chosen by the Republican conservatives to prove that Goldwater conservatism is the wave of the future, may have his best chance of winning on the wave of the past — the white backlash against the civil rights law overwhelmingly approved by both parties.

NOTHING COULD be more unnatural and more unwelcome to Goldwater than to see his long-dreamed presidential campaign turn into a racial miasma from which the whole nation would lose and no candidate would have proved anything.

Goldwater has already shown anxiety lest the campaign be made the instrument for inflaming race relations beyond anything we have yet seen.

He can do much to prevent it—if he so chooses. It would seem to me that he would wish to do so or he will be throwing away his whole opportunity to put his conservative philosophy of government and his conservative policies to the test of the ballot box.

The country would be voting neither for an "alternative" nor for an "echo" if the Goldwater campaign is conducted in a manner which seeks to exploit racial tensions rather than calm them.

NEITHER GOLDWATER nor President Lyndon B. Johnson can by themselves keep racial tensions from mounting or keep the civil rights issue from boiling over in the campaign. But the responsible leaders of the Negro organizations and the responsible leaders of the civil rights pressure groups—which have done such brave and valuable work in galvanizing public suport for passing the law—can make an incalculable contribution to their own cause.

Now that the strongest and most wide-ranging statute to turn equal rights into equal reality is the law of the land, what is most needed in the nation?

The need is for a period of calm, constructive and faithful compliance with and enforcement of the law.

The need is not for a tumultuous clamor for some more laws, but for positive and patient testing of the present law.

The need is for a nationwide moratorium on every form of violent protest and civil disobedience which can have no other effect than to hurt the cause of civil rights and make a tense presidential election disruptive and divisive.

IT WOULD BE out of character for Senator Goldwater to conduct such a campaign. But the most ardent civil rights pressure groups will thrust such a campaign into his hands if they proceed—as they have begun—to harass, to picket, to sit-in, to lie-in, and to denounce the Republican nominee as a "bigot" and a "white supremacist."

Such tactics will not only stir and stimulate the very type of miasmic politics which will play into the hands of the real racists but risk creating a Goldwater-sympathy vote—which is hardly what the civil rights advocates have in mind.

THE REPUBLICAN conservatives and the Republican moderates, Senator Goldwater and President Johnson and most Democrats have a common interest in keeping racial tensions from engulfing this campaign. This is not to say there is no choice to be made between the two candidates on civil rights. There is a choice, but it is a choice which can be made in the voting booth, not on the picket lines which will only make the choice more difficult to see.

Richard Nixon made one of the wisest observations in San Francisco when he said that he hoped Gov. George Wallace stays in the campaign, because "that's where the racist vote belongs." He's right.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

CITY BENEFITS BY A LITTLE DIGGING

It was a lucky day for Kendallville, Ind., when workmen digging in the street unexpectedly found manholes 16 inches below the surface.

Further investigation revealed the presence of a long-forgotten sewer, which had probably been built 50 or 60 years ago.

The discovery proved to be a budget boon, since the city stood to save the $15,000 allocated for a new sewer.

Such a windfall is of rare occurrence. However, it points up the importance of "digging," not perhaps under the ground, but for information, for answers and for the hidden powers God has given us. We may never know they are there unless we search for them.

You can uncover your own enormous potential only by stretching your ability to think, see and do.

By directing your efforts to perform a Christ-like service for others, you will become especially appreciative of the hidden reserves within you.

"For there is nothing concealed that will not be disclosed." (Matthew 10-26)

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Editor, Independent Journal:

We all owe thanks to Assessor Bert Broemmel for the forthcoming tax rate reductions in Bolinas, Sausalito and throughout the county. His realistic revaluations of land provide a broader tax base which enables county, city and school budgets to be met by lower tax rates. Even in Sausalito, the burden of city and school taxes, which far exceed the county tax, will bear more lightly on homeowners now that the holders of vacant lots and acreage pay more of their fair share. Continuing revaluation of land helps to keep property taxes more fairly apportioned so that homeowners do not pick up so much of the tab for absentee speculators.

Higher land taxes also help to hold down land prices, thus reducing the cost of homes, school sites and open spaces the county may wish to purchase.

Homeowners who have been drawn into the attack on the assessor's revaluation program should reconsider their complaints in the light of the lower tax rates which result from it. Many do not realize how they have been misled by strident, slanted propaganda into fronting for a few land speculators who hope to go on paying less than their fair share—at the homeowner's expense.

Richardson Bay Urban Renewal?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

With reference to Robert M. Coppock's July 10 columnar suggestion that the Richardson Bay pot-boil might be solved via urban redevelopment, I strongly urge that the Pandora Box of redevelopment be kept tightly buttoned in Marin City.

Mr. Coppock's concern for solution of the current hassle over shoreline alignment, Behr bond issues and real estate sales taxes, and ad extremum, is well founded.

However, solving these problems with the redevelopment process would be like throwing out the baby with the bath water.

The urban renewal expert of redevelopment, unattached and unaffected by the local planners, might come up with the sensible but locally unmentionable solution of filling this unsightly swamp, and thereafter re-sell the land back into the tax roll as commercial and industrial sites. Sounds good, you say?

Redevelopment was originally conceived by the congress as a self liquidating process; a run-down neighborhood or district could be brought up in its entirety at its fair market value, usually slightly above land only value, swept clean of existing improvements, carefully replanned with modern streets and public amenities, and then sold back, by bid process at greatly enhanced value, into private ownership.

Uncle Sam's role . . . is mainly to advance the money . . . However, Uncle stands in the stage wing to oversee recovery as much as possible of the money advanced.

I . . . do not feel there is sufficient space in the wing for Uncle Sam, the County Supervisors, the Mill Valley City Council and the host of professional and amateur bellyachers . . .

The tender, innocent, politically naive electorate of Marin County should understand that Uncle Sam's redevelopment officials play for keeps.

The official referred to by Mr. Coppoch's column as, I quote, "a man generally considered one of the nation's top experts on redevelopment was contacted while this column was b e i n g prepared," was probably Justin Herman, San Francisco's very able redevelopment director. If so, Mr. Coppock's description of his source is letter perfect in all detail. If Mr. Herman is not the candidate, I reserve comment.

However, the time entailed in preparing a newspaper column does not give . . . any expert much time to study such a controversial matter . . .

Mr. Coppock and our citizenry should be reminded that at least 75 per cent of the building structures and 85 per cent of the street and road layout in Marin County are long past the age . . . of obsolescence where redevelopment groups stop drooling and start acting.

I would probably be classed as one of the nation's "bottom" experts . . . compared to Mr. Coppock's man, but in the course of personally entering nearly 1500 land parcels in the Western Addition Project . . . I did manage to stick fingers in a few holes in the dike.

I also formed the opinion that redevelopment is at times virtually necessary but as a final resort!

Marin City has for several years been in the throes of federal redevelopment and it still has all the eye appeal of an old time coast artillery garrison.

With the advent of such projects as Northgate, Ross Valley Savings Building, Corte Madera Shopping Center, the . . . proposed Larkspur Retirement Center, and the many handsome apartment projects, it appears that local boards, commissions and councils have gotten themselves a haircut, and are at last emerging from the bedroom of this "b e d r o o m county" and entering the kitchen to prepare supper.

Let's try it this way a bit longer.

MARIN POLITICAL VIEWS

By WAT TAKESHITA

TAKESHITA

PEOPLE TELL YOU it's so, but you don't believe it until you actually see for yourself—That you can watch TV and get a better overall picture of what's going on at a convention than if you sat in the middle of the convention floor.

It's a case of not being able to see the forest because of the trees.

A spectator at the Cow Palace has an assigned seat, say to the left of the speaker's platform. You can hear all the speeches, but you sit there all session and get the left profile of each speaker. The rest of the convention is just a blur of humanity and waving placards.

YOU CAN SEE just a portion of the state standards over the heads of the delegates.

When there is a standing vote, as there was on the proposed amendments for the party platform, you can tip toe on your chair and still can't see which delegates are standing up and which are remaining seated.

IT WAS AMUSING to see many people inside the Cow Palace standing around TV sets to watch the proceedings and some carrying transistor radios to hear about the goings on.

On the night the fire broke out outside the Cow Palace, a rumor flew about a fire, but you didn't know what had happened until you read about it in the papers the next morning.

Pickets could have started a free-for-all at the front entrance, and you would have been completely unaware.

But the hundreds from Marin who were able to wangle seats inside the Cow Palace got the satisfaction of having been there when history was being made.

The day after Goldwater's nomination, Democratic headquarters in San Rafael reported a flood of phone calls from voters eager to start work for President Johnson's campaign.

"Within a two-hour period, we must have gotten 15 phone calls," said one Democrat. "And five of them were from Republicans, who said they wanted to work for Johnson!"

In the middle of the act, however, a large dog ran out of the wings, grabbed the performing pup by the scruff of his neck, and marched him into the wings.

"It's my mother," the talking dog yelled despairingly just before he disappeared. "She wants me to be a doctor!"

A HIBERIAN laborer, warned not to smoke near explosives, lit his pipe, nevertheless, one day on the job and promptly was blown sky-high.

THE ALLEN-SCOTT REPORT

Demos May Battle On Dixie Delegates

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

Two key features of this backstage scheme are: A turbulent and widely televised battle on the convention floor to oust the Alabama, Louisiana and Mississippi delegations and seat instead integrated groups from those states; simultaneous mass demonstrations both inside and outside the convention hall supporting this plan.

Walter Reuther, head of the United Auto Workers, and leaders of CORE are in the forefront in organizing and financing this explosive undertaking. They are working closely with Rustin.

STEPS ARE UNDER WAY to line up the support of at least 10 per cent of the 108-member credentials committee to present a minority report demanding that the Mississippi delegation be rejected.

The ouster leaders know they have no chance of getting anywhere with their scheme in the credentials committee itself. Their only hope is getting a 10 per cent-backed minority report on the ground that the regular Mississippi Democratic organization "systematically" excludes Negroes and in 1960 repudiated both the party's platform and presidential slate.

IF SUCH A minority report can be maneuvered, the undercover plan then calls for eight Northern state delegations to formally request a roll call on ousting Mississippi.

Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy and California Gov. Edmund G. Brown are being counted on to exert decisive influence at every stage in ouster strategy.

While all this goes on in the convention, Rustin will be massing "huge" demonstrations inside and outside the immense Atlantic City hall.

It is his aim to bring more than 100,000 Negro and white demonstrators to the resort city.

FOR INSIDE demonstrations that would be certain of far-flung television coverage, he is seeking several thousand passes. It is hinted that if the Democratic National Committee balks, "Other measures may be resorted to." What they might be is shrugged off.

Reuther and A. Phillip Randolph, head of the Sleeping Car Porters and of the March on Washington, are seeking the backing of the AFL-CIO Executive Council.

Rustin, an admitted one-time organizer for the Young Communist League, served 28 months in federal prison for draft evasion in World War II. He was also convicted on a morals charge.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Marin's potential ability to handle an air attack was criticized for understaffed civil defense units by the Marin Federtion of Improvement Clubs.

Novato residents were bracing themselves for another appearance of "The Novato Truth," a political sheet which had appeared prior to election three times in two years.

Bread almost disappeared from Marin grocers' shelves when a strike of the American Federation of Labor bakery unions against wholesale baking firms went into the third day.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Southern Marin Went On Living Even During Cow Palace Epoch

THE OTHER DAY when everyone was talking Grand Old Party, Goldwater and "Go, Go, Go," we went into the quiet of Lytton Square where we bumped into Tonina Letson. "How is your dog?" we asked.

"Sadie-April is not too well," said Tonina. "She seems to be having the after effects of too many fermented plums." It seems that Sadie-April goes out every year about this time and eats volumes of cherry plums which have become ripe and fallen from the trees.

"Last night she had muddy whiskers and that's a bad sign," said Tonina.

We find that, as one goes down life's highway, more and more things are unseasonal. A friend of ours said this is the mating season for raccoons and the only time of year they, being nocturnal, come out in the day.

The other morning our friend's daughter went to the door, screamed, "Eek," and ran back in. "What's wrong?" asked the mother. It seems there was a raccoon all alone in the plum tree picking plums.

BERT BALMER said he was standing in the lobby of the St. Francis Hotel the day before the convention opened when he noticed a young couple come to the desk and ask for a place to stay. There was quite some conversation, he said, and finally the desk clerk said, "But you won't be able to find a place in town. This is the Republican convention." In a very straight-faced manner, the young man replied, "But we're not Republicans."

It's very noisy and everyone was very busy, she said. There were 19 teletypes, 30 typewriters, 60 telephones and three television sets and the only way to close out some of the clatter was behind her head set. Funniest visitor, she reported, was a guy dressed as Santa Claus, who gave out pennies and said he was running for president. "I forgot his name," said Midge. "It began with an 'S'." She said the strangest call she got was from some woman who asked, "Why didn't Mary sing the Star-Spangled Banner?"

THE NIGHT of the nominations for president Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jones had finished eating their dinner and decided to go into the living room to watch the convention on the electric box.

"There was Snoopy, our big cat sitting in my chair," said Mrs. Jones.

"Let her stay," said Mr. Jones to Mrs. Jones. "She's probably watching the convention and she's probably a Republican."

"With that, Snoopy," said Mrs. Jones, "jumped out of the chair and went and hid behind the sofa. We call her our Democratic cat."

Due to dropouts in the "West Side Story," the all-high school musical now playing at Tamalpais High, three men are taking parts which normally would be played by the students. Doc is Peter Klain; Schrank, Lew Levinson, and Officer Krupke, Mike Davlin. "We ran out of boys," said director Robert Greenwood.

MRS. ROSE DE MARTINI calls the long houses on 25-foot frontage lots in Almonte "not houses, but long hot dogs."

Mrs. T. R. Geddes says she has a boxer dog named Babe who is eight years old and so intelligent that when someone in the family mentions "walk," they have to spell it out. Otherwise Babe get overly excited.

But now they can no longer use "walk" because Babe knows what it means and so they are spelling out the word, "t-r-i-p." What word they will use next, Mrs. Geddes does not know. Babe also plays ball, tennis to volley. "When she wants to play ball, she stands on her head and wags her tail. We nod all right and she goes to the basement and returns with a ball. Sometimes it's tennis, sometimes volley. Then we play."

The California Toyon is in bloom. This is important.

ART BUCHWALD

It Was A Bad Day For The Press —Even Ike Turned On Scribes

SAN FRANCISCO—The biggest ovation former President Dwight D. Eisenhower received during his speech at the Republican convention was when he attacked "sensation-seeking columnists and commentators."

When the general came to the part in his speech where he said, "So let us particularly scorn the divisive efforts of those outside our family, including sensation-seeking columnists and commentators, who couldn't care less about the good of our party," he received a standing ovation the likes of which has never been seen at the Cow Palace.

THE WORST PART of it is that we were absolutely sure President Eisenhower looked at us when he said it.

The idea that the former Republican President of the United States could get a bigger hand attacking the press than he could attacking the Democrats gives us sensation-seeking columnists goose pimples.

Probably the thing that hurts the most is that President Eisenhower is a television commentator himself, and it's hard to believe he would attack one of his own, particularly if he is going to continue his very successful career.

As soon as the president uttered his words, we knew we were in trouble. An angry group of California delegates started towards us. We tried to run the other way, but we were blocked by the delegates from Illinois. We went up to Martin Agronsky, the CBS newscaster, and cried, "Help me!"

WE FOUGHT our way through to the New York delegation and tried to hide behind Gov. Nelson Rockefeller. "I can't do much for you," he told us. "They don't listen to me anymore."

When they couldn't find us, we heard a Mississippi delegate scream, "Somebody get the dogs!"

IT WAS TIME to move on. We crawled to New Hampshire, then to Vermont, and then made it to Maine as the angry pack kept at our heels. Finally we made it back to the press box where Joe Alsop, Roscoe Drummond, Marquis Childs and James Reston had built a barricade of typewriters and Western Union machines.

Alsop said, "We only have enough paper and carbon to last another two hours."

Reston said, "Don't waste copy paper, and don't write until you see the whites of their eyes."

Just when it looked as if all was lost, William S. White got through to President Johnson and told him the sensation-seeking columnists and commentators were under attack. The President immediately called J. Edgar Hoover and in three hours the Cow Palace was filled with agents of the FBI.

A new type of business proposed by Richard C. Kibler and Charles P. Hickey of Santa Venetia is called Marin Home Beer Delivery—which just about explains itself.

Kibler and Hickey, who are brothers-in-law, propose to set up an establishment at 501 B Street, San Rafael, from which point they will deliver case beer on a weekly or bi-weekly arrangement, picking up the empty bottles next time around.

Kibler is from Wisconsin, Hickey is from Pennsylvania. They say it is quite a business back there.

TEN PILOT HOMES (there and four bedrooms) are being constructed at the mouth of Tennessee Valley by Goheen Construction Co. of Mill Valley. They will be used as prototypes of other homes to be built later on adjoining lands.

Market Falls Away From Historic High

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed lower today, falling from the historic high set Friday.

Volume for the day was estimated at 4.5 million shares compared with 4.67 million Friday.

After a mixed opening, prices shaded lower and then held steady. The market had closed at a historic peak Friday on the strength of a six-week advance.

Despite the slightly lower tone, most Wall Street analysts still believed the upswing would continue. No one could cite any major stumbling blocks in the path of a further rise.

Steels and motors lagged. Oils, rails and building materials inched upward while chemicals, utilities, aircrafts and airlines were irregular.

U. S. Steel was off more than ½ and Bethlehem was about unchanged.

Among the motors, GM, Ford and Chrysler were all off fractions. American Motors was unchanged and Studebaker was up a little.

Universal Oil Products gained nearly 1½.

Pennsylvania Railroad was up a major fraction. Bell and Howell was off a small fraction after it was disclosed the company will make cameras for Polaroid. Polaroid also was down a bit.

IBM gave up more than 3 and Eastman Kodak was off nearly 3.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange were mixed in moderate trading.

Bond prices were steady.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Transamerica Corp. has reported 1964 first half earnings of $19,454,000, amounting to $1.12 a share. Earnings in the same period last year were $15,428,000 or 95 cents a share.

U.S. Soon To End Shortage Of Coinage

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's coin shortage probably will end early next year, a Treasury official said today.

Robert A. Wallace, assistant secretary of the treasury, said in an interview published by U.S. News and World Report that a big jump in production should put an end to most coin hoarding in a few months.

Wallace, who supervises the U.S. Mint, is to testify Tuesday before the Senate Finance Committee on the Treasury's proposal to continue the 1964 date on coins for an indefinite period. The thought is that producing a tremendous number of coins with the 1964 date, would tend to discourage hoarding by speculators and collectors.

He said the recent increase in the production schedule from 5 billion coins a year to 8 billion compares to a production of only 1.5 billion pieces five years ago.

Satellite Stock Dividends Won't Come Until '69

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A top official of the Communications Satellite Corp. said today the corporation probably would "get into the black" about 1968 but will not start paying dividends before 1969.

Welch said the corporation had at least 80,000 shareholders with holdings averaging between 15 and 25 shares.

However, he said, the number was expected to reach somewhere around 150,000 after the stock is distributed by the underwriting group.

Welch said most of those who bought the stock were believed to have bought it to hold over the long-term because of their belief that the satellite system will have "tremendous magnitude and coverage and therefore be capable of great development.

California Bank To Open In Libya

WALL STREET

Firm Sees A Higher Market

NEW YORK (UPI) — Reynolds and Co. says "we are impressed with the way that the market has accepted the significant events which occurred at the Republican Convention."

"This suggests," Reynolds writes, "that investors are more concerned with the favorable business climate now prevailing than with outside influences . . ." The brokerage house expects the market to "work higher as the year progresses."

PERFORMS WELL

Bache and Co. notes "with market leadership of the highest caliber and strong fundamentals in evidence, the market continues to perform well." Bache looks for "the present upward trend to be extended in the months ahead."

BULL MARKET

Van Alstyne, Noel and Co. comments: "Certainly, at this point, there is no indication that the bull market is losing its impact. Rather it appears to be gaining strength as it moves along."

GREATER CARE

Hayden, Stone, Inc., says, "Although greater care and selectivity are almost mandatory in making new purchases at this point and a minor corrective setback should be expected at any time, there is no foundation for any general bearishness."

Citizens Federal Headquarters Refurbished

SAN FRANCISCO — Citizens Federal Savings and Loan Assn. will open formally its refurbished home office on Aug. 3, it was announced by F. Marion Donahoe, president.

The new 3 million dollar home office complex including the new tower erected at Market and Geary streets will offer guided tours and open house hospitality Aug. 3 to 10 during office hours to show the changes wrought in the historic building built in 1902.

A special exhibition by the Society of Western Artists will honor the occasion.

The California Historical Society will mark the old building with an appropriate plaque to be dedicated today.

In addition to five offices in San Francisco, Citizens has branches in San Jose, Santa Clara, Saratoga, Mountain View, Stanford, Oakland, Hayward, Pleasant Hill and San Rafael.

CALIFORNIAN UPSETS CHAMP

HE HAS WITNESSES TO PROVE IT

Nichols Does The Impossible In PGA

By JIM BECKER

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — If Bobby Nichols had fallen off a cliff he'd have won the high-diving championship on the way down.

This was the week when he could have gotten down in two strokes from the deck of a sinking ship.

There apparently is no oil in the area of the Columbus Country Club, or Nichols would have struck it with a seven-iron.

Life was like that for Nichols, the 28-year-old Louisville boy who won the PGA Golf Tournament yesterday by three strokes with a record total of 271, nine under par. About 71 of his shots were downright impossible.

"I couldn't believe them myself—but I have witnesses," Nichols said.

The baby-faced youngster, 6-foot-2 and 200 pounds, finished with an astounding 67 that held off an incredible 64 by defending champion Jack Nicklaus, who was playing before the home folks.

Nicklaus made up five strokes on Arnold Palmer in the final round, playing head-to-head with Palmer before an enormous gallery that trooped through the broiling Ohio sunshine.

That was the best finish yet for Palmer in the PGA, the only major title he has never won—but still no cigar for the general of Arnie's Army.

It made three runner-up finishes this year for Nicklaus in major championships, the Masters, the British Open, and the PGA, and meant that big Jack will not be around for the ultra-rich television world series which he won the last two years.

"It was probably the finest round of golf I ever played," Nicklaus said. "It just wasn't good enough."

So torrid was the pace that Mason Rudolph, the Tennessean who wears thick eye glasses, shot a 69—with nine threes on the card—and faded to fourth a 276, five strokes behind Nichols.

U.S. Open champion Ken Venturi, a tough man when it gets hot enough to poach eggs on the fairways, finished with 33 on the back nine for 69 and 279. He tied Tom Nieporte, a club pro from Locust Valley, N.Y., who went to Ohio State and won the NCAA Championship in Columbus back in 1951.

While Nicklaus was charging and Palmer was putting together a 69 in front of him, Nichols strode along behind, refusing to fold.

Lady Luck Finally Smiles On Giants

Independent-Journal Sports

Talent Also Helps In 4-2, 1-0 Sweep

National League pennants are won, it has often been said, by a combination of talent and luck.

The San Francisco Giants, who appeared short of either ingredient while suffering a five-game losing streak, enjoyed amand therefore find themselves ple amounts of both yesterday just four percentage points out of the league lead.

Hoping to improve their position further, the Giants today sent Bob Bolin, 3-4, against the Chicago Cubs and Ernie Broglio, 4-9, in the opener of a four-game series at Candlestick Park.

Lady Luck smiled on the Giants in the person of opposing catcher Johnny Bateman in the first game of yesterday's double header with the Houston Colts.

The break came with two out in the bottom half of the eighth inning and the score tied 2-2.

Righthander Dick Farrell, who had more than held his own against Giants' ace Juan Marichal, fired a swinging third strike past San Francisco's Orlando Cepeda.

The inning should have ended there, but to the Giants glee—and Bateman's discomfort — it didn't.

Jimmy Ray Hart took immediate advantage of the turn in fortune by slamming a Farrell pitch 450 feet for the homer that gave San Francisco a 4-2 victory.

The talent showed itself in the nightcap as pitchers Bob Hendley, Bob Shaw and Billy Pierce joined forces to out-hurl Houston's Hal (Skinny) Brown in a 1-0 cliff-hanger.

San Francisco scored the only run of the game in the first frame. Slump-ridden slugger Willie McCovey surprised the Colts by laying down a bunt for a single. Third-baseman Bob Aspromonte's hurried throw went astray for an error and McCovey ended up at second base.

Hendley and Brown dueled brilliantly thereafter until the Colts ninth, when a walk to Nellie Fox and a single by Carroll Hardy with none out chased Hendley.

Bond also went down swinging.

FOOTBALL SKILL—Carol Hardy (20), a former football players for the San Francisco 49ers but now an outfielder for the Houston Colts, shows his football talent with a hard slide into second base to take out Giant shortstop Jose Pagan in the ninth inning of the second game in yesterday's doubleheader at Candlestick Park. Hardy was out, but there wasn't a doubleplay. The umpire is Jocko Conlan. (AP Wirephoto)

CONNOLLY

After a soul-searching review, we discover the S.F. Giants (before today's game) have won more games (54) than any other club in the National League; have committed too many errors; are second from the top in runs scored; are eighth in team batting (.244), and are the most "punchy" ball players in captivity.

With a few more cauliflower ears spread around they could pass for an Olympic Games rasslin' aggregation—young, numb, dumb.

IN SPITE of these uncomplimentary attributes, the Giants today were only four percentage points out of first place after twice beating Houston yesterday.

Houston, a ninth place club, humbles our gang two in a row and YET, if you compare player for player on both clubs, there isn't a player on the Giants' roster you'd consider trading EVEN UP for any player with the Colts.

Five youngsters, potentially great, are regulars with the Giants—Jim Hart, Jesus Alou, Hal Lanier Gaylord Perry and Ron Herbel. They are so far ahead of the talent with the Colts it is ridiculous to compare them. The best players with the Colts are fighting extinction—just hanging onto the life raft of baseball to stay in big league ranks. They have what the Giant youngsters lack — KNOW-HOW. And the Giants show it by stumbling in the clutches, running wild in the clinches and thinking backwards under pressure.

WITHOUT any thought of deserting the Giant cause, one has to grudgingly admit they are a frustrating outfit. When hitting they look tremendous; when not hitting they look, act, think and disport themselves generally like wooden soldiers. But the "slumber bums" have color—they oversell themselves at times, and greatly under-sell themselves at other times. It's a queer set-up but a lovely one for amusement, entertainment and debate.

Let's summarize the reason for the upside-down playing of the Giants. It's hazardous but it has to be undertaken. I'd have to say my old pal Willie McCovey is to blame.

McCOVEY presents a serious problem, first for the Giants' success and next for his own future. Willie is so off-stride at the moment that he is "taking" perfect strikes and swinging wildly at "waste" balls. Always a dreamer, "Lovey Dovey" is commencing to talk in his sleep and he's been so busy talking he forgets how many outs there are or where he should throw the ball when it comes in his direction.

But McCovey is not alone to blame. Tom Haller, young and promising catcher, is also out of kilter both behind, and at, the plate.

Jose Pagan is an "if and but" performer. If his fielding is good, he's great. But if he isn't fielding he isn't hitting, he isn't thinking, and he's worse than any old off-track nag so many of us have bet on.

HAL LANIER, the baby in Giant swaddling clothes, has tightened up the inner defense by his spectacular fielding. If he can hit a dime's worth he might be worth his weight in diamonds.

Orlando Cepeda, great in streaks, sulks a lot and projects anything but a cheerful arrangement between himself and manager Al Dark. But it should blow over and quickly.

Jesus Alou is a sensational hitter for a guy who thrives on wild pitch hitting. If he could just cease crinking his neck and stop hitting at wild pitches, he'd be phenomenal. All he needs is something to slow down his nerves. Wonder if he'd mind trying a pill—any kind?

JIM HART (if Richie Allen of the Phils wasn't around, and glittering like the tower of jewels), mgiht be considered for the rookie of the year award. But Jim is hiding in the shadows of Allen's greatness and not too far back. In fact he might catch up with Allen before this season is over.

DEL CRANDALL, huffing and puffing along, still is the best receiver even if he isn't considered as good a hitter as Haller. He should be alternated, not sidelined, if the Giants are to realize the value of his presence.

EX-MARINITES IN PRO GRID CAMPS

The San Francisco 49ers, with former Tamalpais High star Matt Hazeltine, and the Oakland Raiders, with ex-Drake High standout Reg Carolan, are now in practice drills in preparation for the '64 season.

Hazeltine was among four 49er veterans who brought to 60 the number of players at the St. Mary's College site. There are five players missing from camp, two in the Army and three at the College All-Stars training camp.

The other three 49er vets to report were kicker Tommy Davis, reserve quarterback Lamar McHan and offensive end Monty Stickles. Hazeltine, the team captain, will be back at his familiar linebacker spodt this year for the National Football League team.

The 49ers were to start formal, two-a-day workouts today in preparation for the first scrimmage next Saturday. It was the first time in five years that all players invited to the San Francisco camp passed their physical examinations.

Carolan, a 6-6, 230-pound end, highlighted the opening of the Raider camp Saturday with his fine maneuverability and pass catching. It will be his first playing season with the Raiders. He was obtained from the San Diego Chargers last season but spent his time on the Raiders' taxi squad.

Thirty-four Raider first-year men and newly acquired veterans went through their second day of training yesterday. The same group will work out twice today and then be joined by 22 returning veterans tomorrow at the Santa Rosa training site.

Coach Al Davis will take his AFL squad into the classroom for two days of learning and reviewing plays. Outdoor workouts will resume Thursday.

The other Marin winners took third place honors. They were Linda Meagor of San Anselmo in women's slalom; Madeline Cain of San Rafael in senior women's jumping; Mike Suyderhould of San Anselmo in boys slalom and Jean Denny of Novato in girls slalom.

Irish Golf Title Won By O'Connor

WOODBROOK, Ireland (AP) —Christy O'Connor of Ireland defeated Roberto De Vicenzo of Argentina with a birdie on the second extra hole yesterday and won the Irish golf tournament in a sudden-death playoff.

They had tied at 268 for the regulation 72 holes after O'Connor shot 66-71 and De Vicenzo 72-69 for the last 36 holes over the 6,092-yard Woodbrook course.

NATIONAL LEAGUE RACE

Streaking Braves Climb

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

John Bateman and Johnny Callison played give-and-take with the National League lead but the Milwaukee Braves made their mark playing leap-frog.

Houston catcher Bateman flubbed a two-out third strike in the first game of yesterday's doubleheader against San Francisco and two pitches later Jim Ray Hart homered for a 4-2 Giants victory.

The Giants also won the nightcap 1-0 and had the league lead in their grasp until Philadelphia's Callison took it away from them.

The Phils had dropped their doubleheader opener to Cincinnati 7-4 and were trailing 2-1 in the second game when the Giants-Colts final was posted on the scoreboard.

Then Callison duplicated his All-Star game heroics with a three-run ninth inning homer. The Phils held on for a 4-3 verdict and a first place margin of four percentage points over the Giants.

The torrid Braves trimmed Pittsburgh twice 6-2 and 5-4 and climbed from a tie for sixth place into fourth, six games off the pace.

They now have won 10 of their last 13 games and 16 of their last 22.

Elsewhere in the NL, the Chicago Cubs pounded out 27 hits for 8-2 and 9-1 decisions over the Los Angeles Dodgers while St. Louis rallied for four ninth inning runs and edged the New York Mets 7-6 in the second of a pair after the Mets won the opener 3-2.

Callison's 15th homer, off reliever Bill Henry, followed a single by Clay Dalrymple and a walk to Cookie Rojas. The Reds rallied for a run in the bottom of the ninth but Chris Short came out of the bullpen and got Vada Pinson to hit into a game-ending force play.

Pinson's second triple, a single by Deron Johnson and Don Pavletich's two-run homer overcame a 4-3 deficit in the eighth inning of the opener.

Frank Bolling drove in three Milwaukee runs with two singles in the first game and Tony Cloninger tossed a six-hitter.

Bolling doubled in two more runs in the nightcap. Hank Fischer relieved starter Denny Lemaster in the sixth inning and blanked the Pirates the rest of the way.

CUBS SWEEP

Dick Ellsworth pitched a five-hitter against the Dodgers in the opener and the Cubs collected a dozen hits, including two run homers by Ernie Banks and Billy Williams.

Lew Burdette allowed six hits in the second game and Ron Santo went 3-for-5, including his 17th homer, to lead the 15-hit attack. Burdette, making his 350th NL start, won his sixth game in eight decisions.

Dick Groat's fourth hit of the second game scored Ken Boyer with the winning run and capped the Cardinals' ninth inning explosion. Boyer had doubled home Lou Brock for a 6-6 tie.

All three Met runs in the opener were unearned. Jack Fisher scattered eight hits for the victory.

HOUSTON COLT GETS HARD BUMP ON HEAD

Angels Crash A. L. First Division

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

People can say a lot of things about Dean Chance, but one thing they have to say is he's patriotic.

The ace right-hander pitched his third straight shutout and sixth of the season yesterday as the Angels stopped Minnesota 4-0 for a sweep of their doubleheader and moved into the American League's first division for the first time since the first week of the season. The Angels won the first game 8-6.

Chance, whose nights—and early mornings—on the town with teammate Bo Belinsky threatened to become legend in their time, hasn't allowed a run in 27 innings since he started for the AL in the All-Star Game.

In a nine-day period, he blanked Chicago on four hits, Detroit on five and Minnesota on four. And while increasing his record to 8-5, he has reduced his earned run average to 1.76, best in the majors.

Only Whitey Ford, 12-3, has more shutouts this season. The Yankee veteran has seven, but he has made four more starts than Chance.

Meanwhile, Ford and his New York teammates were the victims of another shutout. Cleveland's Luis Tiant, a 23-year-old Cuban right-hander, stopped the Yankees 3-0 on four hits in his first major league game. The Yankees won the opener 6-2.

Not so fortunate as Chance and Tiant was Wes Stock, a reliever whose 12-game winning streak was halted by the Chicago White Sox 3-2 in 13 innings. Stock hadn't lost since July 12, 1962. Chicago also won the second game 4-3, moving into second place, one game behind league-leading Baltimore.

The Orioles edged Detroit 5-4 while Washington nipped Boston 5-4 in 10 innings after losing the opener 11-10 in other AL action.

Chance walked one and permitted only one runner past first base in the nightcap. His main support came from Joe Adcock, who slammed two bases-empty home runs. Lou Clinton homered following Adcock's first blast in the second inning.

Adcock drove in four runs with a double and a single in the opener as the Angels built an 8-0 lead. Helped by shortstop Jim Fregosi's two-out error, though, the Twins rallied for six unearned runs in the seventh. Rich Rollins hit his first career grand slam, and Harmon Killebrew added his 33rd homer, a two-run blast.

Tiant, brought up by the Indians only last Friday, allowed only a bunt single by Tom Tresh in the first five innings. He struck out 11 and walked four as he outpitched Ford. The Yankee southpaw exhibited unusual wildness, walking three Indians in the first inning, the last one forcing in a run.

Clete Boyer and Tresh each drove in two runs in the opener for New York while Roland Sheldon scattered seven hits. Two of the hits were homers by Tito Francona and Larry Brown in the second.

Stock, who had won four games this season, was the victim of a two-run pinch-hit homer by pitcher Gary Peters in the 13th. Peters twice fouled off pitches attempting to bunt before connecting. Athletics' starter Diego Segui gave up a bunt single in the first, then held the White Sox hitless until he left after walking the leadoff batter in the ninth.

Dave Nicholson's two-run homer and Ron Hansen's solo blast offset Rocky Colvaito's bases-empty homer and Jim Gentile's two-run homer for the A's in the second game.

Baltimore got solo homers from Boog Powell, Sam Bowens and Charley Lau in the only single game on the majors' busiest day of the year. Rookie Wally Bunker won his 10th game against two defeats although he needed relief help. Jerry Lumpe, Dick McAuliffe and Bill Freehan homered for the Tigers.

Mike Brunley's two-out single in the 10th inning gave the Senators a second-game victory. Boston scored three runs with the help of three Washington errors, two by Ed Brinkman, who homered and scored the winning run after singling.

Don Lock drove in six Washington runs in the doubleheader with two homers in the opener, two doubles and a single. His first-game hitting was overshadowed by Ed Bressoud's three-run homer, two-run homers by Tony Conigliaro and Felix Mantilla and solo blasts by Carl Yastrzemski and Dick Stuart, all for the Red Sox.

Billings-Hutchison Hikes League Lead

Tiburon Walks To 21-15 Win

The Tiburon Sox beat the Mill Valley Merchants 21-15 and didn't have to score a touchdown to do it.

Advance publicity called for a baseball game, not football, but you couldn't prove it by the final outcome. It was part of yesterday's action in the Marin County Semi-Pro Baseball League.

The loss dropped the second place merchants 2½ games behind league-leading Billings-Hutchison.

Tiburon scored its 21 runs on only 12 hits. The 22 bases on balls given up by the Mill Valley hurling staff "may" have helped, however. In all, there were a total of 53 base runners in that weird thing that lasted close to five hours on the Project 17 diamond in Mill Valley.

Four of the Tiburon runs scored on a grand slam homer by player-manager Norm Kreuter. Robin Prosch of Tiburon also smashed a home run, that one with the bases empty.

San Anselmo Baseballers Top Fairfax

Evening their record at three wins and three losses, the San Anselmo Merchants outdid DeMaestri's Fairfax Garage 7-5 yesterday in Marin County Semi-Pro Baseball League action on San Anselmo's Memorial Field.

The Merchants got off to a 7-2 lead early in the game and stayed on top. Rich Curry did his best to help the Garagemen by hitting a three-run homer in the ninth inning to narrow the gap to 7-5, but it wasn't enough for victory.

Great defensive plays were turned in by outfielder Lorry Galassi and infielder Larry Kline for the Merchants. Kline and Mike Moran each had three singles for San Anselmo. Vince Pallavicini paced the Fairfax team with a triple and double.

Winning pitcher Steve Miller struck out 11 and allowed 10 hits. In relief of Fairfax losing pitcher Laddie Richardson, Gary Johnson struck out 9 of the 11 batters he faced.

B-H Builders Nip Novak Nine, 6-5

Remaining undefeated in Marin County Semi-Pro Baseball League action, the Billings-Hutchison Builders won a squeaker from the Novak Builders of Novato yesterday 6-5 on the losers' diamond.

Things were going fine for the B-H nine for the first seven innings as it carried a fat 6-0 lead. But a four-run rally by Novak in the eighth inning and another run in the ninth frame quickly narrowed the gap.

When relief pitcher Jerry DeRosa struck out the final Novato batter, the tying run was on third base and the potential winning run was on second. Paul Chaffee got his first league victory on the mound for B-H and Novak's southpaw Art Meyer was tagged with the loss.

Ron Blum had a pair of singles and Chaffee helped his own cause with a two-run single to highlight the Billings-Hutchison attack.

DeRosa was credited with the save, taking over for Nino Geminiani who allowed all of the Novak runs in the bottom two innings.

NAT'L CLAY COURTS

Ralston Upsets His Pal Chuck McKinley

RIVER FOREST, Ill. (AP)—Chuck McKinley and Dennis Ralston again will be Uncle Sam's one-two punch—take your pick—in the Davis Cup Challenge Round in Cleveland Sept. 25-27.

After Ralston's stinging upset of top-ranked McKinley for the National Clay Courts title yesterday, it's now a toss-up which may be the biggest gun in the U.S. Davis Cup defense.

Ralston, a half-foot taller, needed only 64 minutes to polish off the 5-foot-8 McKinley in straight sets, 6-2, 6-2, 6-1. McKinley's touted service was broken seven times.

That smashed McKinley's bid to become the first three-straight national clay court champ since Bobby Riggs did it in 1937-38. It also reversed last year's final when McKinley beat Ralston 6-2, 6-2, 6-4.

But the outcome failed to ruffle the buddy act between McKinley and Ralston, who between them accounted for the 3-2 Davis Cup dethroning of Australia last year and brought the Cup to America for the first time since 1959.

"I couldn't keep the ball in the court, which I guess you have to blame on Denny's fine play," commented McKinley. The nation's No. 1 and No. 2 ranked players now have split four meetings.

In the national indoors, McKinley beat Ralston in 1962 and the two-time NCAA champion from Southern California downed Chuck in 1963.

Shortly after Ralston's precise play had McKinley mumbling such self-reprimands as "I should have stayed in bed," the two teamed to dethrone Northwestern University's Big Ten pair of Marty Riessen and Clark Graebner, 6-1, 6-4, 6-2 for the clay court doubles title.

The women's singles crown easily was recaptured by Nancy Richey, daughter of a Dallas tennis pro, whose varied game bewildered newly wed Carole Caldwell Graebner, 6-2, 6-1.

Vic Seixas, the non-playing U.S. Davis Cup team captain, said Sunday's result made small difference in looking ahead to this nation's cup defense in Cleveland.

"It's obvious Ralston and McKinley, in either order, will be the nucleus of our squad," said Seixas, seven-year Challenge Round player.

"The big thing about this River Forest tourney is that it was an excellent test of our top talent on the same type of courts we'll play on at Cleveland," he added.

Seixas said his four-member Challenge Round squad will be selected, probably, at the close of the national singles at Forest Hills, Sept. 2-13.

Marin Softball Teams Eliminated In Cal Tourney

Scores of 2-1 proved to be unlucky for the two Marin County teams in the District Finals of the California State Softball Tournament at Santa Rosa last week as the Sohner Tree Service and Fairchild teams were eliminated aby those margins.

Marin star of the tourney was Fairchild third baseman Ron McCamish who slugged 10 hits in 15 at-bats, including two doubles and a triple. He also drove across eight runs.

Fairchild won three games and lost two.

Nichols To Build A Shrine

Ben," Nichols said. "He was an inspiration to me."

Hogan—who didn't know him—wrote Nichols an inspirational letter when Nichols was recovering from an automobile accident that appeared to have ruined his athletic carrer in 1952.

Hogan had recovered from a similar accident shortly before.

"A high school teacher of mine wrote to Hogan, and Hogan wrote to me," Nichols said. "I still have the letter."

Nichols also played with Hogan when he was a college senior at Texas A&M.

EXTRA THRILL

"It was an extra thrill to play with him in the final of a major championship," Nichols said.

Nichols certainly played like a man inspired.

He knocked in putts from all over the greens. On the second hole his tee shot was headed out of bounds, crashed into a tree and wound up in the middle of the fairway. He made a birdie 3.

At the 10th hole, when he was temporarily tied with Palmer and Rudolph, Nichols went ahead for good with an eagle putt from 35 feet.

"When I made that putt, downhill, I knew I couldn't lose," Nichols said.

But there was more to come. At the 15th, Nichols drove into the rough, and produced "my best shot of the tournament"—a four iron that ran clear to the green. He promptly dropped an 18-footer for a birdie.

That was the way things had been going all week. Time and again during the tournament, Nichols made par or birdie from deep rough, sand traps or even the wrong fairway.

Once he hit the flag stick when he couldn't even see it.

With the pressure deepening, Nichols hit into a trap at 16, came out strong and made a 15-footer for a par. And on the short 17th, he knocked in a putt that he stepped off at 51 feet.

That ended it.

The victory was worth $18,000 in prize money for Nichols, plus twice that in immediate extra benefits.

Some of the money will go to a shrine to St. Jude. "I sort of promised that I would build one if I won," Nichols said.

Middleweight Feature In S.F. Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Middleweight Jimmy Lester of San Francisco will put his string of 11 straight victories—all but one by knockout—on the line tonight against tough Frank Niblett of Monterey at Kezar Pavilion.

Niblett has built a reputation as a spoiler with knockout triumphs over promising San Francisco prospects Hal Derouen and Bobby Pasquale over the past two years.

In a companion 10-rounder, light-heavyweight Norm Letcher, a student at San Francisco State, will battle Luther Davis of Reno, light-heavy champ of Nevada.

Three six-round matches also are on the night's card starting at 8:30 o'clock.

It seems to me . . .

by Lou Concillo

No Rest for the Swingers, Either

I've got a strong hunch I can win a few points right at the start by assuring you good people I will not mention politics, conventions, or even strife. And my gift of oratory is suspect. I would much rather talk and write about topics more familiar to me. Like selling Fords. Now, here's a topic both familiar and mysterious. Here I go straddling a fence like a politician, after I promised.

Back to the right—or is it left? Either way, this business of selling Fords at Ames Ford is fascinating. This is why the good wife is kinda jealous of the business. It gets to be pretty all-consuming. But then, how do you dismiss, even briefly, something that has been so good to you and for you? How do you turn it off at twilight, and greet it casually in the morning? In seventeen years I've never been able to find out a way. I am hooked, but good.

You see, I've got a lot of things to prove, and a lot of people to convince. Not the least of the latter is my very good friend and signal-caller, Doug Cowan. Now, his sometimes skepticism of my oft-way-out notions of merchandising is not without considerable justification. After all, he originally hired me as his business manager 'way back in '57, and he never considered at that time what a kooky and incorrigible monster would eventually emerge from the apparent harmless cocoon of a scrawny bookkeeper.

Doug could have gotten a hint of things to come from my almost arrogant letter of application at that time which stated briefly, but completely, "You don't have to look further for a business manager. I'm your man! Call me and find out." He did—and did. Find out, that is. Privately, and safely out of my range of hearing, he has been known to admit he hasn't regretted his decision. Publicly, often, and loudly enough for anyone to hear, I am darned happy he did!

Doug Cowan and I make what the pulp magazines like to call a compatible balance. He is progressive, aggressive, and a bit apprehensive. I am progressive, aggressive, and a bit recklessly optimistic. He is President of Ames Ford, a majority stockholder, and a big man. I am Vice-President, a minority stockholder, and a little runt. And so, as a matter of fact, we haven't missed, at Ames Ford. We keep selling more and more, every suceeding month, and it's hard to remember back a few years when today's performance wasn't even considered possible. Our staff of sales managers and exuberant salesmen have played no small role in this success story, by any means. Doug and I could do little without the wholehearted support and follow-through of this happy band, and we have it, in abundance.

So it is we keep setting new records, and factory and "competition" scratch their collective heads in wonder. No secret to it, really. The credo is almost too simple: Don't try to make it all in big chunks, and deliver as advertised or represented. Our "competition" who scoff, while moaning about dullsville in their showrooms and car lots are welcome to visit and see, first-hand, our droves of happy customers leading their friends into our showroom by the hand.

And with all the activity creating a rather constant turmoil at Ames Ford, we are sometimes tired—but always happy. I am particularly blessed with the opportunity to pursue consuming interests in writing and advertising and still make a very comfortable living. Doug Cowan is happy, too. He likes the way his policies are carried out. And, he loves to needle me.

Four Tiburon Peninsula Residents Become Citizens

Four Tiburon Peninsula residents have recently become citizens of the United States, including one who came just to study and "stayed on and on."

Mrs. Elizabeth Luthringer Dreyer, 705 Hilary Drive, Tiburon, arrived in this country in 1951 to study at University of Utah. She came to San Francisco a year later on a "leisurely trip trough the U.S."—but made a permanent stop when she met Charles G. Dreyer and married him two months later.

Mrs. Dreyer became a citizen on June 23, the day Tiburon was incorporated, she noted. Neighbors helped the couple to celebrate by bringing out a bottle of champagne—California champagne.

Also receiving citizenship in recent ceremonies in U.S. Federal Court in San Francisco were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bax-Stevens, apt. GF, 34 Circle Drive, on the peninsula.

Mr. and Mrs. Stevens came to the United States from the Netherlands five years ago and have resided in the Bay Area since then.

Mrs. James A. Fish, 4131 Paradise Drive, another peninsula resident, gave up citizenship in Thailand to become an American. Mrs. Yowapa (the name means, approximately, "young") Fish met her husband in Thailand and they were married there. He was working as an electrical engineer in the country when they met about seven years ago.

A Country Auction Planned

Something new in entertainment has been planned for Saturday when the board of directors of Sunny Hills sponsors a combination carnival, fashion show and country auction from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. on the Grape Festival grounds.

Sunny Hills community friends as well as its 40 guilds are providing workers and donating auction items.

THIS IS a fund raising event for Sunny Hills' thrift shop, the Bargain Box, whose proceeds go to the building fund. The 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. carnival is designed to give boys and girls living at Sunny Hills an opportunity to participate personally in a program for the home. Turk Murphy's Dixieland band will enliven the carnival atmosphere beginning at 11 a.m. The young people of the home will provide tumbling clowns, booths for games of skill, craft displays and music. Announcer Dave Niles will be on hand to conduct interviews.

MRS. DONALD PERRY, Mrs. Wallace Hickman and Mrs. Bullard Nugent of the board of directors will vend hotdogs and coffee. Ross-Brookwood Guild, headed by Mrs. Frank McGrane will spin cotton candy. The Ross Valley Guild will provide soft drinks under the chairmanship of Mrs. E. Cargill Hall. Mrs. C. F. Berlenbach and the Fairfax Guild will sell ice-cream "blobs." There will also be a sandwich wagon on the grounds.

Delta Zeta sorority under Mrs. Charles E. Hamilton, will sell books. Mrs. Hamilton's co-workers at the Book Booth will be Mesdames William Blair, Frank Brown, Headley Brown, John Daly, Guy Gale, Frank Gloistein George Mallory, James A. Smith, John Sproul and Norman Spangenberg. They will be assisted by members of Hilldale Guild.

AUCTION ARTICLES will be on display in the morning. Mrs. Goero, with the cooperation of Mrs. Walter Zweig, Grape Festival chairman, and Mesdames Stuart Duncan, Richard Korb, Arthur Sears and Richard Pancost have charge of the grounds, with Mrs. Albert Borchert and Mrs. Clinton Duffy decorations chairmen.

AUCTION ITEMS will be catalogued and priced by Mesdames Raymond Hasenauer, R. P. Forster and Wallace Scott.

Sunny Hills recently broke ground for its new plant in the hills behind the old buildings, and this event is the first to benefit this building project.

Marin An Entertaining Place

SAUSALITANS Mr. and Mrs. R. Jerrold Hooper are planning a gathering of the clan—about 45 members—including their daughter, Mrs. M. E. Hauser and her children, Andrea and Eric, who arrived in Marin from Woodstock, N. Y. by plane on Saturday.

ENTERTAINING THE Minnesota delegation to the GOP Gov. Elmer L. Anderson, with his wife and daughter, on Friday night were the Kenneth Merklins of Tiburon. After a reception at the Merklin home the group went on to dinner in Sausalito. Other guests were the national committeewoman from the state Mrs. Russell T. Lund, Mr. and Mrs. George Edsel and their daughters, and Young Republicans president Leonard Nadasy and his wife.

The reception was a reunion with her friends for the Merklins, who came to Marin in December from northern Minnesota, where Mrs. Merklin was a member of the state central committee.

DR. AND MRS. Robert Scarborough will do some entertaining next month since it will be Dr. Scarborough's vacation, and they have decided to spend it at home and see more of their friends.

Sunday they will have a family dinner at their home in Sausalito for ten with Mr. and Mrs. David Merrell and their four children from St. Paul, Minn., as special guests. Mr. Merrell is a professor of biology teaching in the summer session at the University of California.

Among Marin guests who will be included in the series of August parties are Messrs. and Mesdames C. M. Kretchmer and James Madison of Belvedere, Ted Baker and Victor Hecht of Sausalito and Mrs. T. L. Wark of Greenbrae and her house guest from Southern California.

WHILE DR. MANUEL F. Allende of Sausalito is serving a month's duty on the hospital ship HOPE at Guayaquil, Ecuador, Mrs. Allende and her children, Katie and Jeffrey, will spend part of the time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Preston Hotchkis of Pasadena. When Dr. Allende return, they will be at Sea Drift, Stinson Beach, for several weeks.

MR. AND MRS. Richard Gronberg and their three children, Carl, Paul and Linda of Novato have been "happy wanderers" returning to Novato following a three weeks trip in their camper which took them to Colorado. There they visited with the parents of Gene Williams of Novato in Rifle, and Mrs. Williams' parents in Basalt, which is close to Aspen. They returned to California via Yellowstone Park and Idaho, enjoying some fishing along the way.

Cruise Time Sunday For Mannequins

The Mannequin League of Marin will embark on cocktail-cruise three on Sunday, aboard Edward Veitch's "Arequipa" and Marshall Smith's "Sahiba."

The original cruise party was given in celebration of the organizing of the Mannequin League in the fall of 1959, aboard Captain Veitch's cabin cruiser. Two years later another outing on the bay was given for league members and their husbands also aboard the "Arequipa."

This year's event will have a "Nautical Notions" theme and two skippers, with a possible third (Gene Ayer has offered his "Lisa") will host the party along with league hostesses, Mrs. William Deeths and Mrs. John Minges (Rhoda Denton) founding members of the modeling group.

Mrs. Robert Bernheim is chairman of the July 26 cocktail cruise, which will get underway at 4:30 p.m., from the St. Francis Yacht Club in San Francisco. The cruisers will rendezvous at Hospital Cove, Angel Island, where anchors will be dropped and the cocktail flags hoisted. Dinner at the St. Francis Yacht Club will follow the cruise.

COAT WITH SUIT LOOK

Choosing Eye Glass Frames

Glamor and glasses go beautifully together if you choose a flattering style frame in a color that really is becoming.

What color frames are best for you? The only way to find out is to try on a variety of colors and styles. Choose the glasses that go with your complexion, your eyes, your hair. Neutral shades are nice for daily wear. The amber and tortoise frames go well with brunettes. Pastels and darker shades flatter blondes and redheads.

It's a good idea to have at least two pairs of your regular glasses plus a pair of prescription sun glasses. If your budget allows another pair, try the jewel-trimmed silvery or golden-colored frames for those very dressy occasions.

Use enough make-up . . . but use it carefully. Be sure make-up and rouge are smoothly blended. That means blending above lower rims of glasses. Choose frames that go with your eyebrow line. Double check mascara and eye shadow after you put your glasses back on. Lenses can magnify and change the look of your eye makeup.

Glasses are also an accessory, so don't overdo with fussy hair styles, fancy hats and dangling earrings. A soft, feminine hair style is the perfect setting.

LESLIE ANN NOBLE of San Rafael will be graduated from St. Luke's Hospital School of Nursing on Friday. In her senior year she was class representative on the student council.

A RECEPTION on the terrace at Maple Lawn, San Rafael was given for Mr. and Mrs. Roger E. Dell-'Era after their wedding at the First Presbyterian Church in San Rafael. Statistics Can Mislead In Smoking, Says Physician

NEW YORK (UPI)—In a study of 5,381 white women members of the Kaiser Foundation Health Plan, Dr. Jacob Yerushalmy, of the University of California, found that almost twice as many smokers as non-smokers failed to carry their babies to term.

The ratio, as reported in "Medical Tribune," a publication for doctors: 6.4 per cent prematures among smokers, 3.5 among non-smokers.

However, the mortality rate for the premature infants of non-smokers was strikingly higher—232.1 per 1,000 against 137.7 per 1,000 for those of smokers.

What is the significance? Are premature babies of mothers who smoke hardier than those of abstainers?

Most unlikely, said Dr. Yerushalmy. He said he cited the figures merely to show how, in connection with smoking, statistics can mislead.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Listen To Your Uncle To Take Winning Finesse In Bridge Game

The day I graduated from grade school my favorite uncle told me how to conduct my life.

"Don't waste your time losing," he said. "Just concentrate on winning." Remember this advice when you take a finesse.

Opening lead — ♡ J

When this hand was played, Fred Karpin reports in his fine new paperback "Winning Play in Contract Bridge," dummy's king of hearts won the first trick. Declarer then led the queen of spades from dummy for a finesse.

FAVORITE UNCLE

As you can see, this player didn't have a favorite uncle to guide him. The foolish finesse lost, and South went down. Back came a second heart, and the defenders managed to get one trick in each suit.

Karpin points out that the correct play is to win the first trick with the ace of hearts and lead a low club at once. Since West has the king of clubs, this is a finesse that wins.

TAKES KING

West must take his king of clubs at once when declarer makes the correct play.

If West returns a heart to dummy's king, declarer cashes dummy's queen of clubs and leads a spade to the ace — not wasting any time on the losing finesse.

South then cashes the ace of clubs to get rid of dummy's low heart. The rest is easy, since South does not have to lose a heart trick. He loses only one trump, one diamond, and one club.

CLUB PLAY

How does South know that the club play will work and that the spade play will lose? My uncle told me that too.

If South tries the club play and discovers that it works he no longer needs the spade finesse. If the club play loses, South will still be in position to take the spade finesse.

What if both black kings are in unfavorable position? "That's your problem," my uncle told me. "Don't expect too much from an uncle."

QUESTION

You have opened the bidding with one spade, and partner has responded 1 NT.

It is once more up to you, holding:

♠ A J 10 7 5
♥ A 6 4
♦ A 2
♣ A 8 2

Answer: Bid 2 NT.

This promises about 17 or 18 points and asks partner to go on to game if he has 9 or 10 points, or perhaps even a good-looking 8 points.

ALMANAC

The moon is approaching its full phase; the morning stars are Jupiter, Saturn, Venus and Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1894, federal troops were withdrawn from Chicago as the country's most bitter labor dispute of that day—the Pullman strike was broken.

In 1917, Secretary of War Newton Baker drew the first draft number for World War I. It was 258.

In 1940, Congress approved a four-million-dollar appropriations bill making possible a two-ocean U.S. Navy.

In 1945, the U.S. flag was raised over Berlin and the first American troops prepared to participate in the occupational government.

Malaria Mutation Foils U.S. Drugs, Raises Fears

By CHARLES SCHAEFFER
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — Medical scientists are waging biological war against a new strain of malaria that has cropped up among Americans stationed in Vietnam and elsewhere in the tropical world.

Army spokesmen said the service is "very definitely concerned" but not alarmed about the appearance of the strain, which is resistant to synthetic drugs. The Army periodically has fallen back on the old standby quinine to fight cases showing no response to chloroquine, a drug very effective until the resistant parasites appeared.

Concern over the debilitating disease flared anew when a malaria drug expert said malaria control has been set back 25 years because modern drugs are no longer effective against its deadliest form. Dr. Joseph H. Burckhalter of the University of Michigan, developer of the drug amodiaquine, says resistant malaria in only three years has leapfrogged from South America to Africa and to Malaya and Vietnam.

When the mosquito-transmitted disease hit a Cambodian village last year, more than one-third of the victims did not respond to any of three modern drugs, chloroquine, amodiaquine and primaquine, he said. There have been previous reports of appearance of the drug-resistant malaria and the Army acknowledged its presence a number of months ago.

Malaria is an often acute (but sometimes chronic) disease, commonly beginning with malaise, shaking chills, fever, headache, nausea and profuse sweating. It is transmitted from human to human by the female anopheles mosquito. When the insect bites a malaria carrier, it sucks in parasite spores along with blood and later injects them into the next unsuspecting victim.

Nearly half of the world's population are malaria risks, says Dr. Lee Howard, head of malaria eradication program for the Agency of International Development (AID). The disease once afflicted southern parts of the United States, but since 1950 has been no problem. Nevertheless, he cautions, 100 cases reported recently in a Mexican province just below the border indicates the disease could be re-seeded here.

Untreated malaria victims can die — and thousands do each year. However, nine out of ten victims walk around unaware that they have had malaria. Adequate doses of modern drugs can completely cure non-resistant malaria. Yet some stubborn cases hang on for months and years.

Over a year, the U. S. Public Health Service unveiled an even newer experimental drug, CI 105, which was billed as a kind of white hope against malaria. An announcement said a "single injection" protected prisoner volunteers for a year.

Field trials of the compound in West Pakistan have been abandoned because the drug was showing no more effect against the resistant strain than chlorquine, it was learned. It works against non-resistant types.

CI 105's failure, however, did not surprise AID's Dr. Lee, Col. William D. Tiggert, director of medical research at Walter Reed here, or Dr. Robert G. Coatney of the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases (NIAID). They agree that its chemical similarity to chloriquine indicated this would happen.

Dr. Coatney observed one of the first patients stricken with resistant malaria, an oil company employee working in the Magdalena Valley of Colombia, South America. When treatment in Bogota failed, the victim was rushed to Dallas, Tex., where doctors saved his life with quinine.

Quinine, however, is no answer to the new dilemma, say Michigan's Dr. Burckhalter and Dr. Coatney. For one thing, long-term therapy causes tinnitus, or ringing in the ears, and can wither the optic nerve. It is costly, effective only 30 hours and is in short supply because many plantation owners have stopped growing the cinchona tree whose bark produces quinine. (The Army says it has quinine "in its supply system" and is giving chloriquine once a week in Vietnam as a preventive; AID's Dr. Lee believes quinine can be obtained if it is needed).

Contraceptive Pill Still Hot Issue After Decade

In a world facing a gain of 128,000 a day, 48 million a year, a population of 6½ billion by the year 2000 it is man's most ingenious means of birth control—the most effective and the most talked about.

It worries a lot of people, angers some, brings hope to others and has caused some reconsideration of social attitudes.

From the day the first woman took the oral contraceptive pill in December of 1954, it has been a subject of controversy.

Will it destroy social mores and create a promiscuous world?

Will it cause cancer in women? Is it against nature?

Despite the questions and arguments the pill has become a daily habit for six million women over the world—half of them Americans.

And in just over six years on the U. S. prescription market, it has become a major weapon in the arsenal of birth control devices. Its true usage is hard to measure.

The highest per capita use is in Australia. The Egyptian government and others pass out pills to mothers who want to limit the size of their families.

Even now, the pill and other methods of birth control are under study at the highest levels of the Vatican.

However a change in the traditional Roman Catholic view toward birth control is considered unlikely—Pope Pius XII called the use of the pill "illicit sterilization." Pope Paul VI in recent weeks indicated that was little reason to change the Catholic position.

Yet some Catholic women do take the pill—as Church leaders admit. They insist, however, that any attempt to offer statistics on the number is foolhardy.

Today, the U. S. birth rate is falling. The pill has been named as the major cause. But Dr. Gregory Pincus of the Worcester Foundation for Experimental Biology, Shrews-Mass., thinks this unlikely. He is a co-developer of the pill, which was developed at the foundation.

Population experts agree with Dr. Pincus. The cause for the falling U. S. birth rate, they say, is simply that today's women want smaller, more manageable families in keeping with their financial status. The whole list of birth control devices and methods is used.

Dr. Alan F. Guttmacher of New York's Mt. Sinai Hospital cites 1960 statistics showing that at least 80 out of every 100 American married couples practice some means of birth control —from mechanical devices to the pill, to the Catholic-approved rhythm method.

Essentially the pill mimics the state of pregnancy—where there can be no further conception. The pill prevents ovulation—the release of eggs from the ovaries. The woman takes a pill each day for 20 days.

In preganancy, the hormone progesterone—and perhaps to some extent the sex hormone estrogen—inhibit ovulation. With the pill, synthetics of the natural hormones do the same thing.

Today, a woman can receive a month's supply of pills for about $2.00, Dr. Pincus estimates. Newer pills on the market use diminishing amounts of the hormones, but get the same effects.

There was a recent report that laboratory animals which were fed a common U. S. birth control pill showed accelrated growth of existing tumors. But Dr. Pincus said that it has long been known that many animal cancers are dependent on hormones—can be slowed by hormone preparations in one strength.

Studies on volunteer groups of women show, however, that use of the pills may actually inhibit the normal rate of cancers of the female reproductive tract, Dr. Pincus said. He added that in Haiti and other test areas, doctors have found fewer signs of suspicious cells in regular medical checkups of pill users.

As more experience has been gained since the first licensed pill, in 1957, the pills have become smaller and cheaper. Manufacturers have cut the dosage at least three-fourths since that first pill.

There are 30 trade names available on the world market —representing about 10 separate drugs, Dr. Pincus says.

In the United States, the Food and Drug Administration's index lists four firms licensed to sell six kinds of pills, most of them similar.

There is a scarcity of information on the effects of oral contraceptives on social or sexual mores of those taking them. Dr. Pincus says this is one area where research is badly needed.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Legend Of Bearded Woman May Have Basis In Scientific Fact

This is the feast day of St. Uncumber, who was able to disencumber herself of an unwanted suitor by growing a beard. Although hagiologists place no credence in the story and refuse to include her in the catalog of saints, the legend of her ability to help women rid themselves of unwanted mates has been popular in Europe for 500 years. Westminster Abbey contains a statue of St. Uncumber.

VAN DELLEN

THIS SPANISH girl was born around 130 A.D. Her father, the prefect of Galicia, pledged her in marriage to the king of Sicily. The young lady prayed for deliverance from this betrothal, and the answer came in the form of a growth of whiskers on her face. The king got the message and returned home but the father was so enraged he had his daughter crucified.

Tapestries and murals of Uncumber were popular in the 15th and 16th centuries. A village in Bavaria venerates a carved wooden altarpiece, fully equipped with crown and beard. Miraculous events are said to have occurred there even though ecclesiastics pronounced the legend a worthless and impossible religious romance perpetrated by simple people of the early Christian era.

THIS IS WHERE the story stood for centuries, according to Harry S. Lipscomb and Hebbel E. Hoff, writing in the Bulletin of the History of Medicine. About five years ago, an endocrinologist published an article in a scientific journal titled "Adrenocortical Hyperfunction with Sudden Onset of Hirsutism."

In brief, this paper described the plight of a 23-year-old woman who was under great stress because of an extramarital problem. In less than a month's time she developed "a luxuriant growth of body hair." Superfluous hair in women frequently is associated with various glandular disturbances but the growth rarely appears as rapidly as in the two cases cited.

ALL THIS PROVES again that history has a way of repeating itself. Many of the events that are classified as mythology contained a shred of truth. St. Uncumber may yet make a hagiography.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

EXERCISE AND ARTHRITIS

M. P. writes: Isn't it harmful for a woman with crippling arthritis of the hands and feet to do her son's laundry every week? This includes ironing at least 10 white shirts.

REPLY

Only when the activity aggravates the condition. But many victims of arthritis are helped by work of this type because it limbers the joints and tones the muscles.

CIRRHOSIS AND ALCOHOL

R. B. writes: If an alcoholic eats nutritious meals, is he less likely to develop cirrhosis of the liver?

REPLY

This is a moot question because cirrhosis develops in alcoholics who eat well, as well as in those who subsist on booze and coffee. The current opinion is that drinkers who don't neglect their meals are less likely to develop cirrhosis.

ALLERGY MORE LIKELY

Mr. Y. writes: Would smoking and drinking aggravate eczema?

REPLY

SUPPORT UNNECESSARY

Mrs. B. writes: Will a man have to wear a support of any kind after a hernia operation?

REPLY

Not after the wound is healed.

What to do until an emergency happens

Emergencies have practically no sense of fair play. And almost always pick the worst possible time to happen.

People seem to prefer the day your insurance lapses to trip on your sidewalk, for example.

And the car usually waits until your bank account registers empty before demanding expensive repairs.

There's no fighting it. But you can be ready. By tucking away some reserve funds in Savings Bonds.

Bonds, themselves, are emergency proof. You can't lose the money you invest in them, even if fire, flood, robbers or plain carelessness causes you to lose the Bonds.

And when something expensive happens, you can just take them in to any bank and get yourself solvent again.

In the meantime, Uncle Sam uses your Bond dollars to handle other urgent matters, like taking care of your freedom.

Buy Bonds where you bank or on the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. Get yourself really prepared and you might even discourage a few emergencies from ever happening.

Quick facts about Series E Savings Bonds

- You get back $4 for every $3 at maturity (7¼ years)
- You can get your money when you need it
- Your Bonds are replaced free if lost, destroyed or stolen
- You pay no state or local tax and can defer payment of federal tax until the Bonds are cashed

Novato Park Budget On List Tonight

The 1964-65 parks and recreation and swimming pool budgets will be discussed by the Novato Parks and Recreation Commission at its meeting at 8 p.m. today in the Community House.

The budget submitted by City Administrator J. Julien Baget calls for an increase from last year of $29,740 to $42,065 for the parks and recreation department, and for spending $32,630 for the swimming pool. In addition, it has a three cent per $100 assessed valuation park acquisition tax which would raise $27,000.

The commission will also discuss its role in park planning, a street tree ordinance, and the North Marin Youth Program survey.

WHOOOO, BUT WHO'S MISSING AN ELF OWL?

An elf owl, far from its natural home, was found in San Anselmo and turned in to the Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum. Mrs. Clara Evans, museum education director, is sure it must be someone's pet. Elf owls, she explained, are natives of the southwestern deserts of the United States.

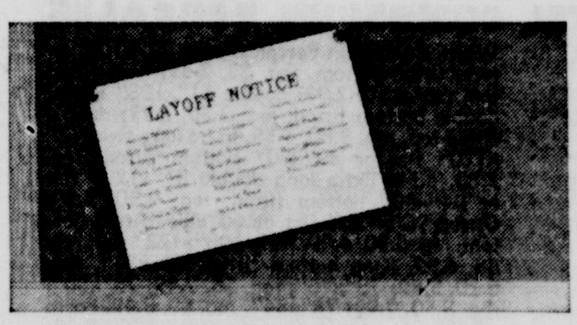
The owl was spotted last Wednesday by Mr. and Mrs. Ronald P. DeMartini of 5 Brookside Avenue. It was sitting on a neighbor's roof, rarely moving, just sitting there. Later in the week, however, the DeMartinis found it in their backyard. The bird seemed to be having trouble with one wing. They captured it and brought it to the museum.

Anyone missing an elf owl should call Mrs. Evans.

Retired Colonel Gets Army Medal

Col. George E. Crane of 77 Granada Drive, Corte Madera, who recently retired, was awarded an Army Commendation Medal last week, at Fort Baker.

Colonel Crane was cited for his supervision of military justice in the seven-state command of the Sixth Region, Army Air Defense Command. He retired in May after a 27-year military career.



Where do you go from here?

An assembly line modernizes. A new machine replaces five or six men. New methods do away with certain jobs entirely. Something like this could happen to your job.

It's part of progress, of course. But progress has a partner—opportunity. Improved methods and techniques will, in turn, create many new jobs. However—

You won't get tomorrow's jobs with yesterday's skills

You'll have to be qualified to earn one of these newer, better-paying jobs. You'll have to re-train—acquire new skills and abilities. And if you begin now, you'll still have a head start on the future.

Don't wait for your present job to be replaced. Have a better job before it happens. The local office of your state employment service will gladly talk it over with you.

Train now for tomorrow's jobs

San Rafael To Open Bids On Site Cleanup

Bids for demolition of houses on the future San Rafael City Hall site will be opened by the city council at its meeting at 8 p.m. today.

Director Joseph D. Rodota will submit results of rebids on the restroom and storage building at Victor Jones Park, which are to be opened in advance of the meeting. The project was re-advertised after changes were made in original specifications to utilize standard — and therefore less expensive — equipment.

City Atty. David Menary Jr. will submit a proposed ordinance for licensing of community television antenna facilities.

The council may make an appointment to fill the planning commission post from which Orlando Conti resigned. The name of Daniel L. Connell of 66 Trellis Drive has been submitted for consideration, in addition to V. Judson Klein of 4 Arcangel Way and Robert F. Loberg of 392 Devon Drive, who were proposed at the July 6 council meeting. Mayor John F. McInnis has suggested naming a commissioner from "north of the hill." All three of those suggested live in that section.

Bids are to be called on four one-half ton pickup trucks, a heavy duty truck chassis and cab, and a hydraulic hoist and dump body.

In all, 21 items are on the agenda for the meeting.

Marin Leads Parishes In Pupil Gains

Marin had the highest percentage increase in parochial school enrollment of the nine Bay Area counties from 1962 to 1963, and the second highest overall increase, according to the Bay Area Council.

Parochial school enrollment in Marin jumped from 4,168 to 4,579, a whopping 9.9 per cent boost. Total Bay Area parochial school enrollment was up 5.6 per cent to 97,811.

Marin was third in public school increase, going from 36,883 to 39,249 for a 6.4 per cent boost. Santa Clara's 9.2 per cent public school increment enabled it to be first in overall increase with 9.4 per cent. Marin was second with an overall boost of 6.8 per cent, while Sonoma, second in public school percentage increase, was third overall with 5.2 per cent.

Stanford Alums Already Poised For Big Game

The Stanford Club of Marin has planned a club trip to the Big Game with Cal next November at Berkeley, club president Phillip E. Brown of San Rafael has announced. Chartered buses will take the members to Berkeley for the game and an informal cocktail and dinner gathering afterwards.

The club again plans to hold a reception in September for freshmen entering Stanford from Marin and their parents. Robert Setrakian of Kentfield will be in charge of the next club picnic, which is slated for next spring.

New Use Possible For Old County Hospital

The county schools office has agreed that the old county hospital building at Lucas Valley can be used for two classes for the severely mentally retarded this fall.

Last week the county board of supervisors turned down a request for a use permit for a school near Novato, after neighbors appeared to protest. At that time county Supervisor Peter H. Behr suggested that the county hospital at the county farm be checked.

Asst. Supt. of Schools Stanley Friese, in a letter to the board, has agreed that the old building can be safely converted for use as a school. The building behind the hospital is now used as a sheltered workshop for adults in the program of Marin Aid to Retarded Children.

The board will consider the request at its meeting tomorrow, along with a request for more funds to carry on the county's program for the mentally retarded. The meeting will start at the Civic Center at 9 a.m.

The board will consider several items held up from previous meetings, including zoning of the Bolinas area, sanitation for Waldo Point houseboats, salaries, and a proposed agreement to allow the Assn. of Bay Area Governments to regulate filling of San Francisco Bay.

County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney, in a letter to the board, has said he cannot be sure, after talking to federal officials, but it appears likely that the Marin Transit District will have to be formed before a federally aided study on transit needs of Marin can start. The Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District has been asked to contribute $30,000 for the study.

Maloney has also written a requested resolution setting a policy prohibiting discrimination in hiring by contractors on county jobs. The resolution provides for a penalty which would be based on the number of persons discriminated against.

County Administrator Alan Bruce, in a letter to the board, has suggested the county contribution to the salary of the schools office business manager should be between one-half and three-fourths of his total pay, with the rest coming from the state or from school districts. The county now pays 54.7 per cent of the $15,000 salary. County Supt. of Schools Virgil S. Hollis has asked for an increase to bring the share closer to a "traditional" 75 per cent.

Budget Tops San Anselmo Board Work

The San Anselmo School District board is scheduled to approve a publication budget of $1,177,151 at its meeting tomorrow at 8 p.m. in Isabel Cook School and set a date, probably Aug. 4, for a public hearing and final passage of the budget.

The board will hear a report on summer school by director Donald A. Wallace, principal of Sleepy Hollow and Hidden Valley schools. Six hundred students, or about one-third of the total elementary school population of the district, attended summer school this year, according to Supt. Stephen L. Parodi.

The board also will discuss a procedural guide for teacher-administration problems, and an offer by the Clearview Cable Systems firm, which plans to run a cable into the Sleepy Hollow area to provide better television reception there, to put cables into Sleepy Hollow and Hidden Valley schools. The district would have to pay for the cost of materials.

Trustees to Adopt Budget

Trustees of San Jose School District will adopt the 1964-65 budget for publication when they meet at 8 p.m. today in the administration building on Hamilton Air Force Base.

The preliminary budget submitted to the board was for $1,717,108. The board will set Aug. 3 for the public hearing on the budget.

Trustees will review plans for the multi-use room at San Jose Intermediate School, and consider a request from KQED-TV for $1 per pupil and teacher while for educational television the district has budgeted only $600 for this item, although last year's average daily attendance was 2,616.

World population grows at the rate of two persons per second, 7,000 an hour or 60 million a year.

Firemen Seeking Crackdown To Halt Set Fires

Because of the rash of deliberately set fires in Marin recently, members of the Marin County Assn. of Fire Departments, meeting in Ross Friday, agreed to sponsor a measure to make parents of children setting fires responsible for damages.

Association Secretary W. Herb Lane reported that it will require a state law to make such a demand for damages. The law has not been introduced yet, but there is considerable talk about it in the state, Lane said.

"When such a law comes up, we will back it," he said.

Members agreed to work with insurance agents throughout the county to get stickers with fire numbers to be put on homeowners' telephones. Insurance agents will bear the cost of the project.

The group learned that the Marin County Assn. of Fire Chiefs will meet at 10 a.m. Wednesday at the Alto Fire Department.

Ross Trustees Budget Vote Due

The Ross School District board will meet at 7:30 p.m. today at the school to approve a publication budget for 1964-65 and set a date for a public hearing on it.

Supt. William W. Monahan will report on building innovations and a school homework policy, and recommend the hiring of a speech teacher. The board will also elect new officers.

Rules for drug labels are established by the federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act. Some states also control labeling.
